1.0 INTRODUCTION

This handbook includes college policies, administrative procedures, and other information you will need as a Northern Oklahoma College employee. It is designed to assist in understanding responsibilities and privileges as a member of the College community. This handbook does not, by itself, create a contract of employment. All Federal and State laws referenced in the handbook are subject to change without notice based on revisions, amendments, changes in the law, State Regents guidelines and/or accreditation requirements.

1.1 History of the College

The history of Northern Oklahoma College began in 1901 when the Honorable James Wilkin realized the need for a college in the Tonkawa, Oklahoma, area. Thus, the sixth Territorial Legislature passed an appropriation bill on March 1, 1901, for the establishment of the University Preparatory School at Tonkawa. The doors opened to 217 students and 7 faculty members.

During the first two decades, the school served primarily as a “feeder” institution for the University of Oklahoma and paralleled the university curriculum of music, foreign languages, business, literature, and military science. In addition, the school served as a cultural center for the performing arts, a distinction that continues today with the 2006 dedication of the Kinzer Performing Arts Center.

Of utmost importance was the school's first accreditation by the North Central Association of Colleges and Universities in 1948. Then, with the passage of the Higher Education Code in 1965, the institution received its present name, Northern Oklahoma College, and the three-person Board of Regents was expanded to five members. During the last two decades, Northern has expanded its physical plant, broadened its curriculum, increased its student enrollment, and developed locations in Enid and Stillwater.

Additionally, Northern is a leader among Oklahoma colleges in developing multiple online and interactive television courses that serve students in rural and remote areas who could not otherwise attain a college degree. The educational achievements of this school, and the opportunities it affords for the expansion of knowledge, culture, and training, are manifest in the recognition and support currently and historically given it by area residents and businesses, by state agencies, and by Oklahoma peer institutions.

Tonkawa

The Tonkawa campus, established in 1901, serves as the administrative center for Northern with additional locations in Enid, and Stillwater. All program oversight in academic, financial, student service, personnel, development, physical plant, and information technology is housed in Tonkawa. Students attend class on campus, by ITV, via online, or at technology centers. Offering over 40 degrees with an array of courses, Northern distinguishes itself as a leading community college in Oklahoma.

Enid

The Enid location was established in 1999 in conjunction with the Oklahoma State Regents for Higher Education (OSRHE) and the City of Enid. This NOC location has grown in offering multiple two-year liberal arts degree programs to students each semester. The Enid location continues to expand its faculty, curriculum, and numerous clubs and activities.

Stillwater

The Stillwater location, established in 2003, serves multiple missions to area students. Primarily a Gateway Program, serving students who would otherwise not be admitted to Oklahoma State University, NOC Stillwater also admits students seeking general education courses that transfer to other comprehensive colleges and universities.

The Oklahoma State System of Higher Education was established on March 11, 1941, when the people of the state adopted an amendment to the State Constitution, Article XIII-A, which provided that “All institutions of higher education, supported wholly or in part by direct legislative appropriations shall be integral parts of a unified system to be known as the Oklahoma State System of Higher Education.” The same amendment also created the Oklahoma State Regents for Higher Education and identified that group as the coordinating board of control for the entire system. The nine-member board is vested with the constitutional authority to “prescribe the standards of higher education applicable to each of the various institutions and determine the functions and courses of study for each one.”

The Executive Council serves as an advisory group to the President. Composed of the Vice President for Academic Affairs, Vice President for Financial Affairs, Vice President for Development and Community Relations, Vice President for Student Affairs, Vice President for NOC Enid, Vice President for NOC Stillwater, and Vice President for Enrollment Management, the Council's primary function is to provide open discussion of institutional matters on which the President seeks advice and counsel. On most matters, a consensus rather than a formal action may be sought.

2.2 Organizational Chart

The organizational chart for Northern Oklahoma College defines the chain of command for the institution. See the NOC organizational chart by clicking on the following link: <http://www.noc.edu/organizational-chart>

2.3 Institutional Standing Committees and Appeals Boards

Northern Oklahoma College has institutional standing committees in such general areas as assessment, employee policies, academic standards, curriculum, and other recognized areas of continuous institutional concern. Special committees may be appointed as the need arises.

The lines of reporting of standing and special committees will be defined by their charge and may vary somewhat as to the nature of the matter, thus involving some discretion of the chairman and the membership. If initiated internally and the matter is of a procedural nature, the recommendation may go jointly to the office which might implement the change and then to administrative officers of the institution. Other policy recommendations will ordinarily be directed to the President of the institution, who then may act on these, recommend them to the Board of Regents, or refer the matter to the Faculty Association for discussion and a vote on a recommendation.

Minutes of committee meetings are furnished to the administrative officers of the institution for information and filing. Minutes which embody a recommendation do not constitute the official conveyance of that recommendation. Where possible, student representatives will be invited to participate in institutional committees.

Significant matters of an academic nature will be routed through the entire faculty association. Routine or procedural recommendations in this same area may go directly to committee to study a certain matter; then the recommendation will be made back to that initiator. If the committee itself initiates the study, then it often tends to take the most direct route, which may mean directly to the President of the institution.

2.3.1 Assessment of Student Learning

The mission of the Assessment of Student Learning Committee is to recommend policies and procedures designed to support assessment of student learning and institutional effectiveness and to demonstrate Northern's accountability to its many internal and external constituencies. The Faculty Affairs Subcommittee serves as a recommending body for policies and procedures as they relate to faculty. The Staff Affairs Subcommittee serves as a recommending body for policies and procedures as they relate to staff and should include a representative from each staffing area. Professional Development Subcommittees for Faculty and Staff function as two Ad hoc committees; other Ad hoc committees are formed as required.

3.0 INSTITUTIONAL POLICIES AND GENERAL INFORMATION FOR ALL EMPLOYEES

3.0 Consumer Information

The Student Consumer Regulations of the U.S. Department of Education requires colleges and universities to provide their students access to certain information to which they are entitled as consumers.

The Higher Education Act of 1965 (HEA), as amended by the Higher Education Opportunity Act of 2008 (HEOA), includes many disclosures and reporting requirements. A disclosure requirement is information that an institution of higher education is required to distribute or make available to another party, such as students or employees. A reporting requirement is information submitted to the U.S. Department of Education or other governmental agencies. Disclosure and reporting requirements sometimes overlap. For certain topics, institutions are required to make information available to students or others and to submit information to the Department of Education.

Northern Oklahoma College is committed to providing access to information that will allow consumers such as students, parents, counselors, and others to make informed decisions about post-secondary education. The www.noc.edu website includes a link to the Consumer Information, which provides a single access point to all federally-mandated reports and disclosures. The Annual notice will be posted under Consumer information as well as emailed to all NOC students and employees in August of each year. www.noc.edu/consumerinformation

3.1 Equal Opportunity

Northern Oklahoma College does not discriminate on the basis of race, religion, disability, color, national origin, sex, age, sexual orientation, political affiliation, or status as a veteran in admission to its programs, services or activities, in access to them, in treatment of individuals or in any aspect of their operations. Northern Oklahoma College also does not discriminate in its hiring or employment practices.

This notice is provided as required by Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972, the Age Discrimination Act of 1975 and the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990.

Questions, complaints or requests for additional information regarding these laws may be forwarded to the designated compliance coordinator: Jason Johnson, Vice President for Student Affairs, 1220 East Grand Avenue, P.O. Box 310, Tonkawa, OK 74653-0310; telephone 580-628-6240; 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday.

3.2 Affirmative Action

The Northern Oklahoma College Affirmative Action Program reflects the commitment of the College to equal opportunity and outlines the procedures necessary to fulfill this commitment. Northern is committed by policy of its Board of Regents to promote equal opportunity in all phases of college life for all persons within its constituency. The Northern Oklahoma College Affirmative Action Program complies with the legal requirements for federal and state civil rights laws and implements directives. The principal objectives are to:

- a. Assure all persons equal opportunity for employment and advancement in employment regardless of race, religion, disability, color, national origin, sex, age, sexual orientation, political affiliation, or status as a veteran;
- b. Meet institutional responsibilities under the Civil Rights Act of 1964 and commitments as a federal contractor under Executive Order 11246 and Executive Order 11375;
- c. Take positive actions in the recruitment, placement, development, and advancement of women and racial minority members in college employment;
- d. Affirm a commitment to continue and expand positive programs which will assure the strengthening efforts with respect to the selection, placement, training, and promotion of all employees and with respect to personnel actions such as compensation, transfers, layoffs, education, tuition assistance; and other appropriate programs.

Each person having administrative or supervisory responsibilities is expected to provide leadership in applying the Affirmative Action Program.

3.3 Title IX

Northern Oklahoma College, as a public educational institution, must abide by Title IX regulations because it receives federal funding through federal financial aid programs used by students. Specifically, Title IX states: "No person in the United States shall, on the basis of sex, be excluded from participation in, be denied the benefits of, or be subjected to discrimination under any program or activity receiving Federal financial assistance."

Both Title IX and College Policy prohibit discrimination in services or benefits offered by the College based upon gender and stipulate that any person (student, faculty, staff, or guest) who believes that discriminatory practices have been engaged in based upon gender should discuss these concerns and file informal or formal complaints of possible violations of Title IX with the Title IX Coordinator.

Title VII of the Civil Rights Act prohibits employment discrimination on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, and national origin. Title IX further supports Title VII with an emphasis on preventing sexual harassment and sexual violence. Any higher education employee who works with students has a federally-mandated responsibility to report possible incidents covered by this legislation All NOC Employees have been designated as responsible employees and as a result are expected to take mandatory annual training on Title VII and Title IX.

Faculty, staff and students may report incidents to:

3.4 Emergency Telework Policy

Scope

Northern Oklahoma College may establish telework as a condition of employment based on the College's business needs. In the event of a pandemic or similar emergency, the College may institute "social distancing" telework policies. In other words, employees may be directed to stay away from their traditional on-campus workspace. Those employees should be directed to work from home when and where possible. In these emergency circumstances, teleworking may be deemed to be a condition of employment for the duration of the emergency.

Telework is not an entitlement, is not a College-wide benefit, and may be discontinued at any time at the sole discretion of the College President. As a matter of practice, telework shall be used only in circumstances that are unusual, urgent, emergency, or unique, based on the totality of the circumstances.

This policy applies to the whole College workforce with campus locations in Enid, Stillwater and Tonkawa. It applies to all full-time and part-time employees, exempt and non-exempt employees, full-time faculty, adjunct faculty, hourly employees, student employees (both federal work study and regular work), and all temporary employees.

Policy

Telework is a workstation alternative that is appropriate for some employees but not all employees and all positions. No College employee is entitled to or guaranteed the opportunity to telework. Certain categories of positions are ineligible for telework. The work conducted by employees under telework may be the same as the work otherwise conducted at the College workstation, or may fall under “other duties as assigned” and therefore may be different than the type of work assigned at the College workstation, at the discretion of each individual supervisor. An employee’s classification, compensation, and benefits will not change if the employee is assigned to telework.

In telework workstations, all College policies that would have applied at the College workstation continue to apply in full effect, including policies related to data security and information protection or privacy.

The total number of hours that fulltime telework employees are expected to work will not change, regardless of work location. The College also expects the same level of productivity from telework employees that is expected from employees at the College workplace. For example, if you normally work a 40-hour work week on campus at your workstation, you will now work a 40-hour work week by telework or a combination of telework/on campus work dependent upon the position and responsibilities. Supervisors may utilize additional templates such as the daily status update form or other comparable forms to help document telework process. Telework employees who are not exempt from the overtime requirements of the Fair Labor Standards Act will be required to record all hours worked in a manner designated by the College the same as they would otherwise. Non-exempt employees who work in excess of 40 hours are eligible for compensatory time in the way they would normally be. Any and all overtime worked must first be approved by an employee’s supervisor. When accrued personal leave is taken while conducting telework, it must also be approved by a supervisor in the same manner as if the leave was taken while working at the College workstation and must be submitted to Human Resources.

Safety and Workers’ Compensation

Workers’ compensation coverage is limited to designated work areas in employees’ homes or alternate work locations. Employees agree to practice the same safety habits and follow the same safety regulations they would use in the College and to maintain safe conditions in their alternate work locations. Employees who need disability accommodations to work in a telework environment must request such accommodations in writing and shall not assume the employer already is aware of such needs. Employees must follow normal procedures for reporting injury immediately.

Equipment and Materials

Normally, the College will provide equipment and materials needed by employees to effectively perform their duties; however, the College will not duplicate resources between the central workplace and the alternate work location. Telework employees may use specific College-owned equipment only for legitimate College purposes. Telework employees are responsible for protecting College-owned equipment from theft, damage and unauthorized use. The College will maintain, service and repair College-owned equipment used in the normal course of employment. The College will stipulate who is responsible for transporting and installing equipment, and for returning it to the central workplace for repairs or service. Telework employees may also use their own equipment, provided the use of such equipment has been approved by their supervisor. When employees are authorized to use their own equipment, the College is not responsible for the cost, repair, or service of the employee's personal equipment, unless otherwise directly related to the creation of work product for the College.

Best Practices

- Employees should expect to be contacted by their supervisor regularly for an interactive conversation (not by correspondence). Employees should be responsible for establishing effective communication among co-workers and customers and to check in with the supervisor to discuss status and open issues during the telework arrangement to be sure to address concerns quickly.
- Be Proactive. To the extent possible, attempt to foresee the needs of your campus, department, or division. Do not wait for instruction unless absolutely necessary to perform your work. When supervisors are assigning tasking lists, attempt to fill each day with meaningful work that provides value to the College. Administration has the authority to add all other duties as assigned. Because this is an unusual situation, there may be unavoidable issues that arise, and everyone must be prepared to do work that is substantially different than that for which they were originally hired, in some cases.
- If your connectivity changes, or the safety of your workstation changes, or any other matter arises that interrupts your ability to conduct telework, inform your supervisor immediately.

Modification

This policy is subject to change, especially in light of the unpredictable circumstances of the pandemic. Employees assigned to telework might be reassigned to a non-telework workstation at any time and without much notice. All telework employees are considered on-call during their normal work schedule.

3.5 Compensation Policies

3.5.1 Salary Changes

Administration reviews the salaries of all employees at the beginning of each fiscal year dependent upon available budget resources. The Office of Human Resources will issue an Annual Appointment Letter to all full-time employees. Any adjustments are based on work performance, promotion, demotion, labor market conditions, legislative actions, and budget constraints. Northern Oklahoma College is an "at will" employer. "At will" employment is for no specified term and is terminable at the will of either the employee or employer.

The institution reserves the right to make selective or general salary changes for these reasons and for budgeting or financial reasons. The right to make layoffs and to furlough without pay is also reserved by the institution. Salary increases of modest amounts may be granted at any time by the President.

3.5.2 Reduction in Force

In accordance with, and complimentary to, the official College policies dealing with budget reduction(s) or other reasons such as technological replacement and/or program discontinuance, these policies and procedures will be implemented at such time(s) it becomes necessary to have a reduction in work force, commonly referred to as "layoff."

It is the policy of the College to provide stable employment to personnel. However, there may be occasions which necessitate a reduction in the work force.

A reduction in work force resulting in employee layoff(s) shall be among the last options implemented. It may be instituted in cases of bona fide budget reduction, lack of work, lack of funds, program discontinuation, technological replacement, obsolete job qualification requirements, or any other condition of serious financial distress that may be determined or declared at any time in the future. If reduction in force for full-time faculty is necessitated, program review data may be considered (including cost of the program, credit hour production both within the program and within the general education core, graduation and transfer rates, and regional workforce needs), as well as tenure status and seniority. When such conditions exist, the President will announce or declare the implementation of this policy.

The decision as to the extent of the reduction in work force within the affected division/department shall be discussed with the appropriate division chair, director, or department head (with prior review by the College's Office of Human Resources) by the appropriate Vice President and/or President.

Employees who are scheduled for layoff do not routinely have the right to enter formal grievance charges in regard to layoff action, except for reasons of alleged violation of these policies and procedures governing such reduction of work force, or for alleged acts of illegal discrimination. This provision supersedes normal grievance procedures adopted by the College.

All employees affected by a Reduction in Force shall be notified in writing as early as possible or at least 30 days prior to the enforcement action. However, it is noted that in the case of funding by a grant or contract, shorter notice may be appropriate. The Reduction in Force notice shall be composed by the Office of Human Resources for the President's signature.

The written layoff notice shall contain the following information:

- The effective date of the layoff.

- A statement advising the employee of eligibility to apply for unemployment compensation at the Office of Oklahoma Employment Security Commission
- The College shall extend the option of continuing eligible insurance coverage to employees and/or dependents at their own cost for a specified period after their date of termination in accordance with Consolidated Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act of 1985 (COBRA). This is administered through our Third-party administrator. For additional information, contact the Office of Human Resources. The College reserves the right to conduct an audit of dependent coverage eligibility.

3.5.3 Direct Deposit/Payroll

The Office of Human Resources issues direct deposit notifications of payroll for full-time and part-time salaried employees on the last working day of the month for the pay period beginning the first day of that month. Direct deposit of a paycheck is mandatory for all employees. To directly deposit a payroll warrant in the financial institution of choice, the employee must sign an Automatic Deposit Transmittal Form in the Payroll Office. The Office of Human Resources posts employee pay information through myNOC under the Employee tab.

Hourly employees will receive payment from one mid-month to the next mid-month on the last working day of the month.

3.5.4 Payroll Changes

Any change in the amount of a payroll deduction should be submitted to the Office of Human Resources by the fifth of the month in order for it to be effective with the next paycheck.

Changes in address, banking account information, life insurance beneficiaries, and fringe benefits should be made promptly in the Office of Human Resources. Failure to report changes may result in a delay of receiving information, receiving pay, and/or benefit coverage.

Employees may elect to make contributions to annuities and the Northern Oklahoma College Foundation through payroll deduction.

3.5.5 Debt Obligation

Each employee is obligated to take care of his or her financial obligations independent of the College. The employee must pay any outstanding debts owed to the College prior to termination, resignation, or retirement.

3.5.6 Garnishments

The College must process and respond to court-ordered wage assignments, garnishments, and tax levies in the legally prescribed manner. Employees are required to acknowledge these garnishments immediately upon notification from the Office of Human Resources.

3.5.7 Compliance with Oklahoma Tax Commission

Pursuant to the requirements of Section 238.2 of Title 68 of the Oklahoma State Statutes, employees must be in compliance with the Oklahoma Tax Commission. Employees who are non-compliant will be notified in writing by the Office of Human Resources. Employees who are non-compliant for a third or greater occurrence shall be given 15 business days to become compliant as determined by the Oklahoma Tax Commission. Failure to meet this requirement will result in termination of employment with Northern Oklahoma College.

3.5.8 403B Annuity Plans

The Northern Oklahoma College Board of Regents adopted the 403B Annuity Plan for employee designated contributions. A third-party administrator serves as the administrator for the 403B plans. Plan documents should be consulted for specific information. Employees wishing to establish a 403B annuity should contact the Director of Human Resources.

3.6 Sexual Conduct and Harassment Policy

3.6.1 Statement of Policy

The Northern Oklahoma College Board of Regents affirms its commitment to ensuring an environment for all employees and students which is fair, humane, and respectful – an environment which supports and rewards employee and student performance on the basis of relevant considerations such as ability and effort. Behaviors which inappropriately assert sexuality as relevant to employee or student performance are damaging to this environment. Sexual harassment by any member of the College community, including students, faculty and staff, is a violation of both law and the Board policy and will not be tolerated. Sexual harassment is a particularly sensitive issue which may affect any member of the College community and as such will be dealt with promptly and confidentially by the College administration. The Board reserves the right to deal administratively with sexual harassment issues whenever it deems it appropriate to do so.

- c. when such conduct has the purpose or effect of unreasonably interfering with an individual's work or academic performance or creating an intimidating, hostile, or offensive working or academic environment.

3.6.4 Retaliation

Any attempt to penalize or retaliate against a person for filing a complaint or participating in the investigation of a complaint of sexual harassment will be treated as a separate and distinct violation of the Board policy.

3.6.5 Sanctions

Violations of this policy may result in disciplinary action taken by the appropriate authority. Sanctions may range from reprimands to suspension, expulsion, or termination. Sanctions shall be based upon the facts and circumstances of each case and shall be in accordance with the terms and guidelines of the NOC complaint procedure.

3.6.6 Complaint Process

This policy is in addition to the current Board and College policies concerning discrimination and applies to all students, employees, guests, or visitors. Complaints alleging a violation of the Sexual Conduct Policy will be handled in accordance with the College grievance procedures as outlined below and at the following web link: <http://www.noc.edu/title-ix-compliance>.

FACULTY-STUDENT RELATIONSHIPS Within the Instructional Context: It is considered a serious breach of professional ethics for a member of the faculty to initiate or acquiesce in a romantic or sexual relationship with a student who is enrolled in a course being taught by the faculty member or whose academic work or performance is being supervised by the faculty member. Outside the Instructional Context: Romantic or sexual relationships between faculty members and students occurring outside the instructional context may lead to difficulties. Particularly when the faculty member and student are in the same academic unit or in units that are academically allied, relationships that the parties view as consensual may appear to others to be exploitative. Further, in such situations the faculty member may face serious conflicts of interest and should be careful to distance himself/herself from any decisions that may reward or penalize the student involved. A faculty member who fails to withdraw from participation in activities or decisions that may reward or penalize a student with whom the faculty member has or has had a romantic or sexual relationship will be deemed to have violated his/her ethical obligation to the student, to other students, to colleagues and to the College.

STAFF/SUBORDINATE OR STUDENT RELATIONSHIPS Romantic or sexual relationships between staff and students or subordinates are prohibited in cases where the staff member has authority or control. A staff member who fails to withdraw from participation in activities or decisions that may reward or penalize a student or subordinate with whom the staff member has or has had a romantic or sexual relationship will be deemed to have violated his/her ethical obligation to the student, to other students, to colleagues and to the College.

PREVIOUS RELATIONSHIPS Previous relationships of a romantic or sexual nature occurring prior to and ending before the professional/collegial, student/faculty or student/staff relationship would not be subject to these guidelines.

3.7 Racial and Ethnic Harassment Policy

The Northern Oklahoma College Board of Regents is committed to a multicultural, multiethnic, and multiracial environment. Diversity is one of the hallmarks of a great college. Promoting dignity and respect among all members of the College community is a responsibility each of us must share. Acts of racial or ethnic harassment are repugnant to the Board's commitments and will not be tolerated. While the Board embraces the principles of free speech guaranteed by the First Amendment to the United States Constitution, it abhors the abuse of this freedom by those who would provoke hatred and violence based on race and ethnicity. Racial and ethnic harassment is a growing concern across American college campuses. It has taken various forms, from criminal acts (assault and battery, vandalism, destruction of property) to anonymous, malicious intimidation and is most often directed toward persons whose race or ethnicity is readily identifiable. While principles of academic freedom and freedom of speech require tolerance of ideas and opinions, racial and ethnic harassment cannot and will not be permitted on campus. The Board reserves the right to deal administratively with racial and ethnic harassment issues whenever it deems it appropriate to do so. Diversity Statement: Northern Oklahoma College is committed to developing an interconnected and globally responsive culture of diversity acceptance that includes, but is not limited to, race, ethnicity, color, socioeconomic status, gender and identity, sexual orientation, religion, disability, national origin, veteran status, genetic information, citizenship, political thought, and age. NOC invites different perspectives and encourages all individuals within the NOC community to listen respectfully, both to consider new viewpoints and broaden one's own perspectives.

3.7.1 Statement of Policy

It is the policy of the Board that racial and ethnic harassment shall be prohibited and is subject to disciplinary action as set forth in this policy: Racial and ethnic harassment is defined as:

Behavior or conduct addressed directly to individual(s) related to the victim's race, religion, ethnicity, or national origin that threatens violence, or property damage, or that incites or is likely to incite imminent lawless action.

3.7.2 Sanctions

Violations of this policy may result in disciplinary action taken by the appropriate authority. Sanctions may range from reprimands to suspension, expulsion, or termination. Sanctions shall be based upon the facts and circumstances of each case and shall be in accordance with the terms and guidelines of NOC complaint procedures.

3.7.3 Retaliation

Threats or other forms of intimidation or retaliation against complaining witnesses, other witnesses, any reviewing officer, or any review panel shall constitute a separate violation of this policy which may be subject to direct administrative action.

3.7.4 Complaint Process

This policy is in addition to current Board and College policies concerning discrimination and applies to all students, faculty, staff, and guests or visitors. Complaints alleging violation of the racial and ethnic harassment policy will be reviewed and investigated by the appropriate College office. The Vice President for Student Affairs serves as the Affirmative Action Officer (AAO). Complaints may be resolved informally or may proceed through the applicable formal complaint proceedings. Complaints may be filed in the following manner:

- a. Complaints against students or student organizations shall be filed with the Affirmative Action Officer for review and investigation. The AAO, or their designee, may assist in the informal resolution of the complaint or in processing a complaint through the applicable complaint procedures.
- b. Complaints against faculty or staff shall be filed with the Affirmative Action Office. The AAO, or their designee, may assist in the informal resolution of the complaint or in processing a formal complaint through the applicable complaint procedures for faculty and staff.
- c. Complaints against visitors or guests shall be filed with the Affirmative Action Office. The AAO, or their designee, may assist in the informal resolution of the complaint or in processing a complaint through the applicable complaint procedures.

Employees using prescribed medication that may impair ability to operate equipment and vehicles are not authorized to drive or use equipment.

Employees with drug or alcohol addiction, that have not resulted in and are not the immediate subject of disciplinary action, may request approval to take leave (paid or unpaid) to participate in a rehabilitation program.

Under the Drug-Free Workplace Act, an employee who performs work for a government contract or grant must notify Northern Oklahoma College of any criminal conviction for any drug related activity occurring in the workplace. The report must be made within five days of the conviction.

Violations of this policy may lead to disciplinary actions up to and including immediate termination of employment. Such violations may also have legal consequences.

Note: In June 2018, State Question 788 became law in Oklahoma. This state question was an initiative to legalize medical marijuana. Despite passage of State Question 788, the use, possession, sale, or distribution of marijuana (including medical marijuana, edibles, and products containing marijuana) on any college-owned or controlled property or at any college event remains illegal pursuant to the Controlled Substances Act, the Drug Free Schools and Communities Act, and the Drug Free Workplace Act, and against Northern Oklahoma College policy.

Even though medical marijuana is now legal under Oklahoma law, it remains illegal under federal law. As a recipient of federal funding, Northern Oklahoma College must abide by federal law, which prohibits the unlawful manufacture, distribution, possession, and use of illegal drugs, including medical marijuana.

Regardless of having a license for medical marijuana, its use on campus or at college events is strictly prohibited and violation of Northern Oklahoma College policy regarding controlled substances such as marijuana may result in disciplinary action.

These rights include:

1. The right to inspect and review the student's education records within 45 days after the day Northern Oklahoma College receives a request for access. A student should submit to the registrar, dean, head of the academic department, or other appropriate official, a written request that identifies the record(s) the student wishes to inspect. The school official will make arrangements for access and notify the student of the time and place where the records may be inspected. If the records are not maintained by the school official to whom the request was submitted, that official shall advise the student of the correct official to whom the request should be addressed.
2. The right to request the amendment of the student's education records that the student believes is inaccurate, misleading, or otherwise in violation of the student's privacy rights under FERPA. §99.31(a)(15))

3.11 Grievance Procedures

Grievances, as well as constructive criticism, should be discussed with the immediate supervisor. If an employee's dissatisfaction continues, the matter is to be discussed with the appropriate vice president or the Director of Human Resources. Complaints may be resolved informally or may proceed through applicable formal complaint proceedings. Employees should first utilize the organizational chain of command in resolving matters. If an employee wishes to proceed through formal complaint proceedings, the employee must complete a formal written grievance form for submission to the Director of Human Resources. The grievance form can be accessed by logging on to myNOC at www.noc.edu.

If the employee requests that a Grievance Committee make an investigation of the matter, a written request must be submitted to the Director of Human Resources. Upon receiving notification, the Director of Human Resources in conjunction with the President shall designate personnel to comprise the Grievance Committee as necessary and dependent upon the allegation. A grievance is an allegation by an employee that there has been a violation, misinterpretation, misapplication, or inequity in administering the policies, practices, procedures, or guidelines which govern the College in its relationship with the employees.

The Grievance Committee shall make a full investigation of the matter by questioning all parties involved and obtaining any documents pertinent to the problem. They shall then make a report to the President regarding all information given as well as their findings and recommendations. The President shall respond in writing to the parties involved within 30 days with a final resolution. These grievance procedures shall be utilized for all grievances including Civil Rights or external matters.

3.12 Standards of Performance and Conduct

3.12.1 General Conduct

Employee conduct off the job affects the well-being and reputation of the institution. Conduct should be not only in conformity with community morals but at a higher standard. Decorum on the job is very important. Maintenance of a proper work climate promotes efficiency and gives a good impression to others. Crudeness and vulgarity are inappropriate. Propriety in relations with students and other employees is necessary.

3.12.2 Confidentiality

Many assignments within the College involve knowledge of sensitive information, working in delicate situations, or handling sensitive problems. All employees are expected to maintain an appropriate level of confidentiality.

3.12.3 Insubordination

Insubordination or failure to cooperate with others; personality conflicts disturbing to work relationships; and failure to follow the directions of supervisors acting within their province of authority is not acceptable conduct of employees.

3.12.4 Trustworthiness

Employees are often entrusted with college funds and property. They often work in environments where the property of others is exposed. It is expected that all employees of Northern Oklahoma College uphold the highest standards concerning the property of others.

3.12.5 Initiative

Employees are expected to be aware of job-related work needs beyond those which have been specifically instructed by supervisors. When there are lax periods in tasks for the position, the employee is expected to offer assistance to others. No employee should be idle.

3.12.6 Restrained Socialization

Employees must be restrained in the time spent in social conversations with other employees and with visitors at their work stations.

3.12.7 Distracting Incidents

Personal matters of a controversial or emotional nature should be kept out of the work place. Employees are expected to make every effort, including seeking restraining orders, to keep the work place clear of volatile behavior, conversation, or incidents. Employees should keep distracting incidents with fellow employees or visitors out of the work place.

3.12.8 Legal Charges

Employees with criminal charges of felony status may be suspended without pay until cleared. If not cleared within ninety days or if information available to college administration leads to a strong indication of guilt, the employee may be terminated. Should the person be cleared within six months by a court of law, that person may request reinstatement or consideration of any new vacancy. Misdemeanor charges of such nature as to make one's employment in a position in a public instructional institution sensitive may result in similar action.

3.12.9 Safe Environment Guidelines

Northern Oklahoma College is committed to providing a safe environment for faculty, staff, and students. All employees are expected to follow the guidelines outlined in the Emergency Response Plan. Updated protocols and CDC recommendations specifically related to COVID-19 can be found on our website: <http://www.noc.edu/emergency/>. These protocols are subject to change based on current conditions and are effective until amended in writing.

When students are not following these guidelines, employees should address these concerns with students. However, if behavior continues after concerns have been addressed, then a referral should be made to Student Conduct: Dean of Students; Vice President for Student Affairs; Vice President for Enid; or Vice President for Stillwater. Student Conduct will have specialized sanctions for students found responsible for violating this policy.

When employees are not following these guidelines, supervisors should address these concerns with employees. If behavior continues after concerns have been addressed verbally, concerns should be addressed in writing and the Disciplinary Action procedures outlined in 3.13 will be followed.

3.13 Disciplinary Action

Northern Oklahoma College is an “at will” employer. The contents included in this Handbook in no way modify or amend the right of the College as an “at will” employer in originating or terminating employment of personnel. “At will” employment is for no specified term and is terminable at the will of either the employee or employer. Promises or representations made by anyone except the President of Northern Oklahoma College concerning the conditions of employment, in written notice, do not negate the right of the College to terminate employment at any time, without notice and with or without cause.

3.13.1 Verbal Warning

A verbal warning is usually the first step in discipline procedure. It involves a discussion between a supervisor and an employee about a minor work performance problem. The objective is to correct the problem by communicating how actual performance falls short of desired performance. The supervisor should record and maintain in the employee’s departmental file the date of the discussion and a brief summary of the items discussed, to record that the warning was in fact given. If the problem persists, a written warning is appropriate.

3.13.2 Written Warning

Should the verbal warning fail to effect improvement in employee performance, the supervisor should complete and ask the employee to sign a Counseling Report and then forward copies of the same to the appropriate vice president and the Director of Human Resources. If the offense is more than minor, a written warning may be an appropriate first step. The report should contain a description of the problem, an explanation of the deficiency, a solution to correct the problem, a definition of the time frame within which correction is expected, and an evaluation of the employee’s response. If the employee refuses to sign the report, this fact should be noted on the report along with the signature of a witness to attest that the employee refused to sign.

If the employee receives two written warnings within twelve months, the employee should be considered for termination.

3.13.3 Suspension

The President may recommend suspension with/without pay for serious incidents which may warrant discharge. In this case, the employee may be suspended pending investigation and the decision as to the extent of disciplinary action or termination.

3.13.4 Disciplinary Violations

Department supervisors may need to take disciplinary action, including termination, because of assault or battery of a person on College property or at a college-sponsored event, excessive written warnings, theft of College property, unexcused absence of three or more days, falsifying employment application or time or leave records, immoral conduct or indecency on college property or at a college-sponsored event, use of intoxicants during working hours or on campus at any time, insubordination, unauthorized use or duplication of a college key, reporting to work under the influence of alcohol or drugs, excessive absenteeism or tardiness, violating a safety rule or practice, inattention to duty, lack of productivity, absence without leave, violation of law or college regulations, disloyalty, lack of integrity, or other conduct inappropriate for an employee of the College.

3.13.5 Termination Procedure

When recommending discharge, a supervisor should request such action in writing, and seek formal approval by the President. Documentation should include the employee's name, date of the incident, explanation of the circumstances resulting in the recommendation for discharge, identify policy broken, and reference to any previous disciplinary steps taken with copies of counseling report forms on file.

If discharge is approved, the supervisor should follow these steps:

- a. The supervisor will immediately notify the Office of Human Resources so that a date can be established for removal of the employee from the payroll and an exit interview scheduled. The salary of an employee discharged before the last work day of the month will be pro-rated on the basis of hours worked during the month of termination. The supervisor will prepare a Checklist for Exit Interview. The official date of termination should be the last day actually worked by the exiting employee.
- b. The discharged employee will be required to return college keys and equipment, as well as clear all College debts prior to the last day of work. A completed Checklist for Exit Interview must be on file in the Office of Human Resources before the final paycheck will be issued.

3.14 Insurance

Effective January 1, 2024, the College will provide an employer defined contribution plan amount up to $800 monthly for all eligible full-time employees to be utilized for the employee's group health, dental and/or vision insurance premiums. The employee must utilize the defined contribution plan funds to obtain one of the group health insurance plans provided as part of the College's insurance consortium.

If the employee chooses a health plan that exceeds the monthly defined contribution amount, then the employee is personally responsible for the excess premium and the excess will be deducted from the employee's wages through payroll. If the employee has used the total monthly defined contribution amount on health insurance, then the employee will be responsible for any other coverage that is elected by the employee.

If the employee chooses a health plan that is less than the monthly defined contribution amount, then the employee may choose to use the remaining defined contribution amount for employee dental or vision insurance premiums or dependent coverage up to the monthly defined contribution amount. Any premium cost above the $800 defined contribution amount is the personal responsibility of the employee and will result in a deduction of the excess premium from the employee's wages through payroll.

If an employee fails to elect an option during the open enrollment period, the employee will remain in the prior year plan(s) for health, dental and/or vision with the employee responsible for premium amounts in excess of the defined contribution amount.

If an employee leaves the group plan, they may not return into the plan and the subsidy is forfeited. The employee is responsible for any remaining premiums for coverage.

This policy shall pertain to regular salaried employees working twenty hours or more a week who have assigned duties and responsibilities and who are treated by all standard conventions as an employee of the College; and who receive compensation commensurate with the responsibilities of the position. Temporary, adjunct, seasonal, supplemental, student and other employees employed on a limited or short-term basis are not regular employees and are thus ineligible unless otherwise enrolled through other employment. Years of creditable service will be calculated in accordance with the Oklahoma Teachers' Retirement System Rules and Laws.

All OTRS contributions provided by statute for eligible employees on salaries and compensation amounts will be paid by the employer as authorized by state law. The College assumes payment of seven (7%) percent of salary into the Teacher Retirement System for each employee effective immediately upon hiring. The College pays a statutory contribution fee of 9.5 percent and for members whose compensation are paid from federal funds there is an additional federal matching fee. Refer to the Oklahoma Teachers Retirement System web page (www.ok.gov/TRS). Each eligible employee is required to belong to the Teacher Retirement System. If the employee remains at Northern Oklahoma College, or any other Oklahoma school, until retirement, the Oklahoma Teachers' Retirement System will calculate the retirement pay based upon the criteria established. Employees should consult the Oklahoma Teachers' Retirement System at www.ok.gov/TRS for specific information related to their employment and creditable years of service.

3.15.2 Retirement

Employees considering retirement should contact Oklahoma Teachers' Retirement System to obtain specific information in relation to their employment and retirement options available. Employees may periodically inquire with Oklahoma Teachers' Retirement System prior to actual retirement to ensure that reported information is accurate. Employees must contact OTRS a minimum of 90 days prior to their retirement date to allow sufficient time for processing. In addition, employees must inform the Director of Human Resources of their intent to retire to ensure that all documentation is in order to coordinate a seamless transition.

Normal retirement age for employees is considered to be the end of the fiscal year during which age 65 is attained or June 30 prior to age 65 if that age is attained before the convening of regularly scheduled classes for the following fall semester.

Early retirement is considered to apply to those persons who leave the service of the institution prior to age 65 after long and creditable service and who are entitled to considerations defined elsewhere in this policy statement. Not all employees voluntarily leaving the service of the College early are considered to be retirees.

The institution reserves the right to evaluate the services of all employees, including those who have passed the ages of early and normal retirement, and to retire or otherwise separate those whose services are below acceptable performance levels.

3.15.3 Early Retirement

A full-time salaried employee may elect to retire prior to the normal retirement age of 65 through one of the following retirement options:

- a. Officially early retirement from Northern Oklahoma College must meet all of the following conditions: (1) ceasing to be a salaried employee of this or any other public college or school in the State of Oklahoma; (2) qualifying on the basis of age and/or other criteria for full retirement benefits under the then current statutes and regulations governing the Oklahoma Teacher Retirement System; (3) completion of twenty-five (25) years of service creditable at Northern Oklahoma College under definitions in this policy; and (4) active service with the College until the attainment of age 62 or the then current age for eligibility for Social Security benefits under federal law, whichever is older.

Retirees qualifying for and exercising the official early retirement option may request that their individual employee health and dental insurance premiums under the then current college plan be paid until age sixty-five by Northern Oklahoma College and that continued dependent coverage be provided at employee expense. Upon reaching age sixty-five health insurance coverage, dental insurance coverage, and group life insurance coverage ceases upon Medicare eligibility. When a retiree reaches age sixty-five and has a dependent who has not, the College will allow continuation of dependent coverage on its health plan employee/retiree expense.

- b. Personal early retirement may be elected by any full-time salaried employee provided the following conditions are met: (1) ceasing to be a salaried employee of this or any other public college or school in the State of Oklahoma; (2) qualifying for full or partial retirement benefits under the then current statutes and regulations governing the Oklahoma Teacher Retirement System; and (3) completing fifteen (15) years of actual continuous service at Northern Oklahoma College immediately prior to exercising a personal early retirement option.

Retirees who choose to exercise the personal early retirement option at age fifty-eight or older may request that health and dental insurance be continued as above with the College paying one-half the employee premiums and the retiree paying for the other half and for dependent coverage, if desired, until age sixty-five. Upon reaching age sixty-five health and dental insurance coverage ceases upon Medicare eligibility and the group life insurance will terminate. When a retiree reaches age sixty-five and has a dependent who has not, the College will allow continuation of dependent coverage on its health plan employee/retiree expense.

Employees separating or terminated from the College employment not meeting stated conditions for retirement will not receive retirement benefits. Employees may continue on the College health insurance plan for up to eighteen months at their own expense under the provisions of COBRA. Employees separating or retiring from the College prior to age sixty-five forfeit all benefits, except those specifically granted and stated under the early retirement provision. Upon review it may be determined that an institutional advantage may exist by offering incentives for early retirement to an individual or group of individuals. Such incentives shall be clearly stated in writing to the specific individuals and in no case shall be interpreted as being generally applicable or continuing unless a Board of Regents policy is adopted. The policy statement shall apply only under the conditions stated and for the time period indicated.

3.15.4 Employment of Retirees

Oklahoma Teachers' Retirement System regulations require a minimum of sixty (60) calendar days between a retiree's last day of pre-retirement public education employment and any post-retirement employment with an entity that participates in the System. Retirees may return to work after the 60-day break in service, but only within the parameters established by the Oklahoma Teachers' Retirement System and only if the College has need for the services. Copies of the regulations and further information are available in the Office of Human Resources and online at the Oklahoma Teachers Retirement website on the Retirees Information web page (<https://www.ok.gov/TRS/>).

3.16 Leave Policies

3.16.1 Medical Leave

A full-time employee is entitled to medical leave at the rate of 10 hours or 1 1/4 days per month to a total of 15 days for a complete year of service and a total of 12 days for an academic year. Unused days may be accumulated up to 45 workdays. While a physician's certificate as evidence of illness or disability is not required each time an employee does not report for duty because of illness or disability, the College reserves the right to require such certificate from the employee's physician and/or a physician of the College's choosing. Medical leave may be taken for illness or medical purposes for an employee's immediate family or other relatives when the leave is approved by an immediate supervisor. For the purpose of this policy, immediate family is defined as father, mother, sister, brother, spouse, son, daughter, grandfather, grandmother, grandson, granddaughter, or corresponding in-law relationships.

An employee who expects to be absent from work due to medical leave must notify the supervisor of the absence and an Employee Absence Report form must be completed and submitted following an absence. Incapacitated employees may have a designee contact the Office of Human Resources. Failure to contact immediately is considered immediate job abandonment.

Unused medical leave is not compensated upon termination. However, accrued medical leave may be used to the employee's advantage at retirement or in the event of a disability claim. Medical leave is non-transferable to other agencies.

Absences may be charged to medical leave entitlement for an illness or injury which incapacitates an employee and prevents him or her from performing his or her duties or exposure to a contagious disease which, in the judgment of the College, would jeopardize the health of fellow employees and students.

Medical leave may not be earned by an employee during a leave of absence with or without pay, shared leave, suspension, layoff, not under contract, or removal from the payroll for any reason. Hourly personnel do not earn medical leave.

Excessive absenteeism will be noted on the Employee Performance Evaluation Form and may lead to disciplinary action, including dismissal.

3.16.2 Bereavement Leave

Full-time employees who wish to take time off due to the death of an immediate family member should notify his or her supervisor immediately. Bereavement leave will normally be granted unless there are unusual business needs or staffing requirements.

Full-time employees are allowed up to three consecutive working days off from regular scheduled duty with pay in the event of the death of a related person in the immediate family. For the purpose of this policy, immediate family is defined as father, mother, sister, brother, spouse, son, daughter, grandfather, grandmother, grandson, granddaughter, or corresponding in-law relationships.

Full-time employees are allowed one day off from regular scheduled duty with pay in the event of the death of a related person not in the immediate family. For the purpose of this policy, related person not in the immediate family is defined as an aunt, uncle, niece, nephew, or first cousin of the employee. Such relatives are regarded as members of the immediate family only if in residence in the employee's household.

Full-time employees are allowed up to four hours of bereavement leave to attend the funeral of a fellow employee or retiree of the College, provided such an absence will not interfere with normal operations of the College. To be eligible for pay under this provision, the employee must attend the funeral of the deceased employee or retiree.

To verify the relationship of the deceased to the employee, a funeral program or obituary may be required by the Office of Human Resources.

In such cases where the three days of funeral leave are not sufficient, additional leave with pay may be authorized by the President or additional time off may be requested either as annual leave or as authorized time off without pay.

When covered funeral leave occurs while the employee is on leave without pay, paid funeral leave is not granted. When such leave occurs while the employee is on annual leave or sick leave, the bereavement leave will supersede the other type of leave.

Full-time employees must use accrued leave or personal leave to attend the funeral of persons not included in this policy unless they are attending as the representative of NOC as designated by the appropriate vice-president. The President and Vice Presidents are designated college officials to attend funeral services for community and college stakeholders, leaders, donors and alumni.

3.16.3 Leave of Absence without Pay

The Board of Regents authorizes the College to grant leaves of absence without pay. A leave of absence ensures the employee the same or a similar job upon returning to NOC. Such leave may be approved initially for up to three months. The period may be extended in three-month increments, not to exceed a total of 12 consecutive months. The employee must apply in writing to the President.

All accrued annual leave must be used before the effective date of a leave of absence. Sick leave and annual leave do not accrue during a leave of absence without pay. Insurance benefits may be continued during a leave of absence with the employee paying the entire premium.

The employee is obligated to return to duty within or at the end of the time granted. If the employee will not return to work, the supervisor should be notified immediately. At least thirty (30) days prior to the end of the leave, the employee must give written notice of intention to return to work; otherwise, the supervisor is not required to provide such reinstatement but may do so if feasible. Failure to report at the expiration of a leave without pay, unless an extension has been approved, is considered a resignation.

3.16.4 Catastrophe Leave

An employee who suffers individual, personal misfortune as a result of an event such as fire, explosion, flood, or violent weather will be granted up to three working days of paid administrative leave if the event occurs while the employee is not on leave without pay. An employee shall not accrue or receive payment for unused catastrophe leave.

3.16.5 Personal Leave

Twelve-month, full-time salaried employees shall receive 16 hours of personal leave beginning each January. New employees will receive a prorated number of hours based on their start date. A personal day may not be scheduled during professional development time, peak student enrollment times, or commencement. Employees cannot accrue personal days from year to year. Personal leave is granted upon approval by the direct supervisor and appropriate vice president. Forty-eight hours notice must be given in order to request personal leave and the Employee Absence Report form must be completed prior to leave.

3.16.6 Annual Vacation Leave

Twelve-month, full-time salaried employees shall be entitled to annual vacation leave for each month employed. Annual vacation leave is accrued on the last working day of the month as follows:

| Accumulation Rates Based on Years of Service | Accrual Rate for a Full Month of Work | Days per Year | Maximum Accumulation |
| 0-5 years (1-60 months) | 1 day (8 hours) | 12 days | 14 (112 hours) |
| 6-10 years (61-120 months) | 1.25 days (10 hours) | 15 days | 20 (160 hours) |
| 11 or more years (121-180 months) | 1.50 days (12 hours) | 18 days | 30 (240 hours) |

Annual leave may be used during the period(s) mutually agreeable to the employee and his or her supervisor, and at the convenience of the College. If an employee resigns or is discharged, full payment for unused annual leave will be made provided the employee has worked for a continuous six-month period. Annual leave will be paid out at the rate of salary at the time of separation from employment. Holidays and other non-working days falling within one's annual leave shall not be charged against one's accumulated leave. Final payment of unused annual leave will be available on the normal pay date the month following termination, contingent on successful completion of the termination procedure. Annual leave may not be used until it has been accrued.

Northern does not credit an employee for accrued annual leave earned at another state agency. Annual leave may not be earned by an employee during a leave of absence with or without pay, family medical leave, shared leave, suspension, layoff, termination of employment prior to the last working day of the month, or removal from the payroll for any reason.

Excessive absenteeism will be noted on the Employee Performance Evaluation Form and may lead to disciplinary action, including dismissal.

The President may grant exceptions to this policy.

3.16.7 Leave Sharing Program

The purpose of the Northern Oklahoma College leave sharing program is to permit Northern Oklahoma College employees to donate annual or sick leave to a fellow Northern employee who is eligible for and requires family leave, or who is suffering from or has a relative or household member suffering from an extraordinary or severe illness, injury, impairment, or physical or mental condition which has caused or is likely to cause the employee to take leave without pay or terminate employment. For questions, please contact the Director of Human Resources.

As used in this section, the following are defined as:

- a. "Relative of the employee" shall be limited to the spouse, child, stepchild, grandchild, grandparent, stepparent, or parent of the employee;
- b. "Household members" means those persons who reside in the same home, who have reciprocal duties to and do provide financial support for one another. This term shall include foster children and legal wards even if they do not live in the household. The term does not include persons sharing the same general house, when the living style is primarily that of a dormitory or commune;
- c. "Severe" or "extraordinary" means serious, extreme, or life threatening; and
- d. "Northern Oklahoma College employee" means a permanent, full-time salaried employee with over one (1) year continuous service with Northern Oklahoma College. It does not include temporary, part-time, or hourly employees or other limited term appointments.

An employee may be eligible to receive shared leave pursuant to the following conditions:

- a. The President or the Vice President for Financial Affairs determines that the employee meets the criteria described in this section; and
- b. The employee has abided by Northern Oklahoma College policies regarding the use of medical leave.

An employee may donate leave to another employee pursuant to the following conditions:

- a. The receiving employee has exhausted, or will exhaust, all annual leave and sick leave due to an illness, injury, impairment, or physical or mental condition, which is of an extraordinary or severe nature, and involves the employee, a relative of the employee or household member;
- b. The condition has caused, or is likely to cause, the employee to go on leave without pay or terminate employment, and;
- c. The President or the Vice President for Financial Affairs permits the leave to be shared with an eligible employee.
- d. The donating employee may donate any amount of annual or sick leave provided the donation does not cause the annual or sick leave balance of the employee to fall below eighty (80) hours.
- e. Employees may not donate excess leave that the donor would not be able to otherwise take.

The Vice President for Financial Affairs shall determine the amount of donated leave an employee may receive and may only authorize an employee to use up to the maximum of two hundred sixty-one days of shared leave during total Northern Oklahoma College employment.

The Vice President for Financial Affairs shall require the employee to submit, prior to approval or disapproval, a medical certificate from a licensed physician or health care practitioner verifying the severe or extraordinary nature and expected duration of the condition.

Donated leave is transferable between employees in different college entities with the agreement of both chief administrative officers of the entities.

Donated leave is transferable between employees on an hour-to-hour basis irrespective of the hourly wage of the donating or receiving employee.

Any donated leave may be used only by the recipient for the purposes specified in this section.

All forms of paid leave available for use by the recipient must be used prior to using shared leave.

Any shared leave not used by the recipient during each occurrence as determined by the Vice President of Financial Affairs shall be returned to the donor. The shared leave remaining will be divided among the donors on a prorated basis based on the original donated value and returned at its original donor value and reinstated to the annual leave balance of each donor.

All donated leave must be given voluntarily. No employee shall be coerced, threatened, intimidated, or financially induced into donating annual leave for purposes of the leave sharing program.

Employees should consider the impact that donating leave will have on accumulation of sick leave for Teacher Retirement purposes.

3.16.8 Family and Medical Leave

In compliance with the Family and Medical Leave Act (FMLA), Northern Oklahoma College provides up to a total of twelve weeks of unpaid leave in a 12-month period to eligible employees for certain family and medical reasons.

Employees are eligible if they have worked for Northern Oklahoma College for at least one year and for at least 1,250 hours over the previous twelve months.

Unpaid leave may be granted for any of the following reasons:

- a. To care for the employee's child after birth, or placement for adoption or foster care
- b. To care for the employee's spouse, son or daughter, or parent who has a serious health condition
- c. For a serious health condition that makes the employee unable to perform the employee's job.

3.16.8.1 Requirements

Taking of leave may be denied if the following requirements are not successfully met:

1. The employee must provide 30 days advance notice when the leave is "foreseeable."
2. The College will require medical certification to support a request for leave because of the serious health condition and may require second or third opinions (at the College's expense) and a fitness for duty report to return to work.

For information regarding the need for reasonable accommodation under the Americans with Disabilities Act, contact the Vice President for Student Affairs.

3.16.8.2 Benefits and Protection

For the duration of FMLA leave, the College will maintain the employee's health coverage under the group health plan as it was prior to the commencement of FMLA leave. The employee is responsible for paying by check or money order all premiums that normally would be withheld from pay.

An employee may use accrued annual vacation, personal, and/or medical leave to receive partial compensation during the 12-week period. While on FMLA leave, leave accruals will continue.

On returning from a leave, the employee must be restored to his or her position or to an equivalent position with equivalent benefits, pay, and other terms of employment. However, a salaried employee belonging to the higher-paid 10 percent of the employees within 75 miles of the facility where the employee works may be denied restoration if:

1. The denial is necessary to prevent a substantial and grievous economic injury to the employer's business;
2. The employee is notified at the time that the employer determines that such an injury would occur; and
3. In the case where a leave has started, the employee elects not to return to work after receiving the notice.

The employer can recover the premiums paid for maintaining the employee's health coverage if the employee:

1. Fails to return from the leave after it has expired; and,
2. Fails to return to work for reasons other than the continuation, recurrence, or onset of a serious health condition, or other circumstances beyond the employee's control.

Employers cannot interfere with or deny the exercise of any rights provided under the law and cannot discharge or discriminate against employees who oppose the employer's unlawful practices or who are involved in any proceedings under the law.

3.16.9 Paid Holidays

An employee must be a full-time, twelve-month salaried employee and be in paid status the day before and the day after a holiday in order to receive holiday pay. Employees, when terminating, are not eligible for any holiday pay beyond the date of termination, even though accumulated annual leave time may encompass the holiday.

If a designated holiday falls within an annual leave period for a full-time salaried employee, the holiday shall not be charged against annual leave time. If a full-time salaried employee is on paid sick leave when a college-approved holiday occurs, the employee will receive holiday pay instead of medical leave pay.

Unpublished holidays or partial days prior to a holiday will not be adjusted for employees who have previously submitted a leave request for that time period. The President may grant exceptions to this policy. A full-time, twelve-month salaried employee scheduled to work on a college-approved holiday will be granted an equal amount of time off with pay on a date mutually agreed to by the employee and department supervisor. If an employee is scheduled to work on a college-approved holiday and becomes ill, the employee should request medical leave for that day and receive his or her holiday as previously scheduled by the supervisor. Holiday hours must be used in the same fiscal year as accrued. NOC does not observe all legal holidays.

3.16.10 Military Leave

Pursuant to 72 Oklahoma Statute paragraph 48, all salaried full-time employees who are members, either officers or enlisted, of the Reserve Components to include the Army and Air National Guard and the Army, Navy, Air Force, Marine Corps, the Coast Guard Reserves, or any other component of the Armed Forces of the United States, shall, when ordered by the proper authority to active or inactive duty or service, be entitled to a leave of absence for the period of such service without loss of status or seniority. During the first thirty regularly scheduled work days of such leave during the federal fiscal year, the employee shall receive full regular pay. During the remainder of such leave in any federal fiscal year, the state may elect to pay the employee an amount equal to the difference between his or her regular pay and his or her military pay. Military leave does not affect the accumulation of any other type of leave.

Prior approval must be obtained by submitting a copy of the duty orders to the supervisor/division chair and the Office of Human Resources.

Northern Oklahoma College also abides by the provisions of the Uniformed Services Employment and Reemployment Rights Act of 1994 (USERRA) in employment issues concerning members of the armed forces.

3.16.11 Court Leave

When in obedience to a subpoena or direction by proper authority, an employee appears as a jury member for the federal government or state of Oklahoma, he or she shall be entitled to a leave of absence for such duty with full pay from the College. The employee must submit a copy of the subpoena to his or her supervisor who shall then forward it to the Office of Human Resources (for the employee's personnel file) prior to the start of the leave. If an employee is not selected for jury duty after reporting each of the required days, he or she must return to work for the remainder of the day. After completing jury duty, the employee must provide the supervisor with evidence of having served on a jury for the time claimed. Fees paid by the court in connection with the jury panel duty may be retained by the employee. The employee is responsible for reporting to the IRS monies earned by the jury duty. The employee is not entitled to receive any fee for serving as a witness pertaining to his or her NOC employment. The employee shall be entitled to receive court reimbursement for mileage.

A leave of absence with pay shall be granted when the court appearance is the result of an act by the employee as a part of his or her official duties as an employee of the College. In no case shall a leave of absence with pay be granted to any employee when the court appearance is the result of the employee being involved in a personal litigation case outside his or her scope of employment.

When jury duty occurs while the employee is on leave without pay, paid court leave is granted. When jury duty occurs while the employee is on annual leave or sick leave, the paid court leave will supersede the other type of leave.

3.16.12 Voting Leave

A reasonable amount of time off with pay will be given for the purpose of voting in national, state, and local elections, not to exceed two hours in most instances. If the employee works at such a distance from the voting place that more than two hours are required, then the employee shall be allowed a sufficient time in which to cast a ballot. The supervisor should be notified no later than the day before the election of the employee's need to have time off for voting. When necessary, the law allows supervisors to adjust employees' work schedules in order to allow sufficient time off for voting.

3.16.13 Inclement Weather Policy

At times, usually in winter, travel to and from the campus for work may be difficult due to inclement weather. Employees are encouraged to use extreme caution when commuting to work during inclement weather. The ultimate decision as to how the employee will safeguard his or her safety is at the employee's discretion. If the employee feels unsafe commuting to work the employee is encouraged to use his or her best judgment. Individual decision does not exempt the employee from proper notification of an absence to the department supervisor.

3.16.14 Inclement Weather and No College Closing

Full-time and part-time salaried employees will use annual leave, personal leave or compensatory leave to cover the absence. If annual leave, personal leave or compensatory leave is not available, the leave will be without pay. If sick leave is claimed by the employee, the department head may require satisfactory proof of illness or disabling injury. Employees should continue to maintain contact with the department supervisor regarding the need for an inclement weather absence and expected date/time of return to work. If the College, due to poor weather conditions, decides to allow employees to leave early at their own discretion to ensure their safety in returning to their homes, then the time will be charged as annual leave, personal leave or compensatory leave since it is at the employee's discretion. Employees should notify their department supervisor in advance of leaving when exercising this option.

3.16.14.1 Inclement Weather with College Closing

In certain instances, the administration of the College may make the decision to close all offices except those recognized as necessary to maintain essential services. In the event of the College closing, information will be disseminated through the NOC Alert System as well as posted on the NOC website. In addition, any decision will be communicated to College offices, local radio stations and local and state television stations. Because Northern Oklahoma College is a multi-location institution, one location may have different hours of operation than another NOC location due to inclement weather.

If the College closes, administrative leave will be recorded for full-time and part-time salaried employees who were scheduled to work during the time of closing. If an employee is scheduled in advance for annual leave, personal leave, compensatory leave or sick leave, the individual will be charged annual leave, personal leave, compensatory leave or sick leave since the inclement weather did not impact the employee's plans to work. Although not encouraged, an employee choosing to work even though a closing has been announced will be paid for working as usual, whether or not the employee was aware of the closing.

While the College is closed, a department may require certain employees to work to maintain essential services or assist in special necessary functions, such as snow removal. Employees working in response to a request by a department supervisor will receive normal pay and will not receive compensatory time for hours worked during College closing. If an employee works in excess of normal work day hours of operation, compensatory time will be allowed.

If an employee is scheduled for work, due to emergency snow removal or other essential work, and does not show up for work and fails to call the supervisor to report the absence, the employee will be subject to disciplinary action as under any other circumstances when an employee fails to report for work and fails to call.

If the College decides to close during the work day and sends employees home early, the time worked will be paid according to the number of hours worked and the remaining time will be considered administrative leave. If an employee decides to leave work because of concerns over commuting in inclement weather prior to an actual closing time, annual leave, personal leave or compensatory leave will be charged for leave prior to closing. Likewise, if an employee arrives late at work due to concerns over commuting in inclement weather after the College has resumed activity, annual leave, personal leave or compensatory leave will be charged for the time while the College is actually open. Time during the actual closing will be charged as administrative leave.

3.16.14.2 Inclement Weather Policy for Hourly Employees

Hourly employees are paid only for hours actually worked. If unable to work due to the College closing or to inclement weather, these employees may not receive anticipated compensation. The same situation may exist for employees who elect not to work during inclement weather while the College remains open and do not have or are not able to use annual leave, personal leave or compensatory leave. Departments may choose to allow these employees to work additional hours at another time to make up the shortage of pay; however, such an arrangement would require approval by the supervisor in advance of actual hours being worked.

3.17 Political Activities of Employees

Northern follows laws and guidelines established by the Oklahoma Ethics Commission in the conduct of state employees, campaigns for state office and state questions, and lobbying – see Ethics Laws and Guidelines web page at https://www.ok.gov/ethics/Ethics_Laws_Guides_&_Forms/index.html.

An employee of the College who participates in political activity must do so in a manner that complies with State law and the Oklahoma Ethics Commission guidelines. Violation of these statutes or policies may be considered cause for disciplinary action and/or dismissal.

Additionally, the Vice President for Development and Community Relations shall represent the College and serve as the legislative liaison with the Oklahoma Ethics Commission and follows lobbyist disclosure and reporting standards as required – see the Oklahoma Ethics Commission web page at <https://www.ok.gov/ethics/>.

Display of political literature, campaign placards, signs and posters on campus will be regulated and supervised by the Dean of Students in Tonkawa and Enid, and the Vice President for NOC Stillwater. Such material may not be displayed on educational buildings, trees, sidewalks, handrails or grounds but must be limited to display in the student center or student-housing complex. The Dean of Students in Tonkawa and Enid, and the Vice President for NOC Stillwater will be responsible for communicating and enforcing appropriate and reasonable regulations to control display of political material and prevent litter of the campus. The spirit of this policy is not to suppress political activity by students but to preserve the aesthetic value and appearance of the campus and prevent unnecessary public expenditures because of litter.

3.18 Change of Employee Information

The Office of Human Resources must be promptly notified of changes of address, telephone number, marital status, number of dependents, beneficiaries, marriage or graduation of insured dependents, bank account information, etc. Whenever possible, such changes should be reported before they occur to allow the Benefits Coordinator time to notify the appropriate companies and to allow time for the Payroll Officer to make necessary changes in the payroll computer system. Failure to report these changes to the Office of Human Resources may result in denial or delay of benefit coverage, non-receipt of pertinent information, and/or delay in receiving payroll deposits.

3.19 Dress Guidelines

Northern Oklahoma College Employees have constant interaction with students, persons from outside the College, and with other employees. A professional, well-groomed appearance creates a positive reflection on the employee as well as the College. Clothing and grooming should be appropriate for your particular work environment. Safety precautions should receive primary consideration. Northern Oklahoma College has identified two work environments, Office/Classroom and Trades. The following guidelines apply to both work environments. Each work environment will be more specifically discussed following the general guideline section.

3.19.1 General Dress Guidelines

An employee's supervisor may adjust the level of dress required depending on the employee's level of position or activities required for the job. Employees should consult their supervisor regarding any dress code requirements specific to their department.

Northern Oklahoma College has established the following dress guidelines. These are intended to be used as guidelines; however, your specific work environment dictates the appropriate attire.

The key to dressing successfully is the use of common sense and good judgment. If you question the appropriateness of any attire, it should not be worn to work.

Fridays during Fall and Spring semesters are designated as NOC Spirit Day. Attire on Fridays or other institutionally designated NOC Spirit Days should be:

Tonkawa and Enid:

"NOC" logo or mascot shirt in college colors or other shirt in college colors. As referenced in the NOC Graphic Standards Guide, official college colors are red and white. Other acceptable colors are black and gray. Clean jeans or casual pants in good condition are acceptable. Clothing articles that are frayed, ripped, patched, or extensively faded are not allowed.

Stillwater:

"NOC" logo or "NOC/OSU Gateway Program" logo shirt in orange or college colors or other shirt in college colors. As referenced in the NOC Graphic Standards Guide, official college colors are red and white. Other acceptable colors are black and gray if it is a Gateway logo. Clean jeans or casual pants in good condition are acceptable. Clothing articles that are frayed, ripped, patched, or extensively faded are not allowed.

The last working day of a short work week is not considered as NOC Spirit Day unless institutionally designated as such.

During unusual inclement weather, such as snow and ice, dress exceptions in footwear and attire may be appropriate.

As part of professional appearance, personal hygiene and grooming should be carefully maintained. Excessive body odors are offensive. Employees who are unable to maintain proper hygiene may be formally counseled by supervisor. Many fragrances can be harmful to some people with allergies. Employees may be required to eliminate fragrances if deemed necessary.

If an employee's attire or appearance is unsuitable, the employee may be asked to return home to change before resuming regular duties. The use of accrued annual leave is appropriate for such absences. In keeping with a professional image, reasonable accommodation will be made for employees' religious beliefs and disabilities whenever possible.

Employees are not allowed to wear halter tops, one-shoulder tops, midriff tops, beachwear, extremely low-rise pants, or extremely form fitting attire. In addition, distracting, offensive or revealing clothes are not appropriate on any day of the week. Shirts cannot display alcohol, tobacco products, offensive words, offensive pictures, or offensive logos.

Supervisors are responsible for enforcing the dress guidelines. Failure of a supervisor to enforce dress guidelines may result in the next level of supervisor to enforce policies.

All clothing must meet public decency standards. Please refer to the Dress Guidelines List at the end of this section for acceptable and unacceptable items.

3.19.2 The Office and Classroom Environment

Northern Oklahoma College supports business casual attire. Business casual is crisp and neat. It should not look like cocktail or party or picnic attire. In addition, distracting, offensive or revealing clothes are not appropriate on any day of the week.

When an employee's workday involves a lot of moving or lifting of materials, bending, filing, or working in confined spaces, a more casual appearance is appropriate. This is referred to as "Manual Work Day." The immediate supervisor must give prior approval for manual work day attire which may include jeans and athletic shoes.

3.19.3 The Trades Environment

Departments that perform a service or trade for NOC may not require the stricter guidelines that have been established for the office/classroom environment. Trades Environment may include laboratories, printing services, athletics, creative arts and physical plant. Within these departments it is acceptable and at times recommended that the employees wear jeans, t-shirts, hats, athletic attire or athletic shoes as approved by their supervisor. This is to provide ease, protection, and comfort while doing the job that is asked of the employee. Jeans that are frayed, ripped, patched, or extensively faded are not allowed. T-shirts must be "NOC" logo shirts in school colors. No clothing articles may display alcohol, tobacco products, offensive words, offensive pictures, or offensive logos. Athletic shoes must be in good condition. Hats displaying the NOC logo are preferred; however, hats must remain appropriate for the work environment and for the College.

Employees who are required to wear uniforms are expected to keep them neat and clean in appearance.

Employees are to abide by the safety policies and procedures of their department and to wear required protective clothing and safety equipment. An employee's supervisor may adjust the level of dress required depending upon the employee's level of position or activities required of the job.

3.20 Professional Development

Professional development is recognized as an important function of the College to assist in overall educational growth and development. Professional development is designed to establish programs for instructional and skills improvement and to facilitate the maintenance of a healthy institutional climate. Professional Development subcommittees for Faculty and Staff exist. Some Professional Development may be required as a condition of employment.

3.20.1 NOC Educational Opportunities

Northern Oklahoma College encourages employees to take classes to improve themselves and to increase skill level in their work. Employees should seek official approval from their immediate supervisor for an appropriate time schedule that does not conflict with regular working hours. If classes are offered at times which conflict with regular working hours, employees must submit a request for an alternative work schedule as defined in 5.4.1.A below. This plan must be approved by the supervisor and appropriate vice president, and then forwarded to the Office of Human Resources to be placed in their personnel file.

There are no restrictions for employees taking classes outside of the employee's regular working hours. However, such course work cannot interfere with the employee's duties as determined by the direct supervisor and appropriate vice president.

3.20.1.1 Employee Associate Degree Scholarship Program

The Employee Associate Degree Scholarship Program is available to full-time Northern employees for NOC courses deemed beneficial to the College and the employee professionally. This scholarship becomes available after three months of full-time employment with the College. The Employee Associate Degree Scholarship Program covers up to 100% of NOC only tuition, fees, and books towards the completion of the employee's first associate degree earned at Northern Oklahoma College.

This program allows for an employee to apply for a scholarship for a maximum of seven Northern Oklahoma College credit hours for the fall and spring semesters and nine credit hours for the summer session. All time missed from scheduled work hours must be made up or taken as annual leave. A request for rescheduled hours must be approved by the immediate supervisor with the original request placed in the employee personnel file for documentation. All class-related activities (admission, enrollment, advising, homework, discussions with classmates, etc.) must be done outside work hours. To remain eligible for the scholarship program, after the first semester, an employee must maintain a cumulative GPA of 2.0 in all course work attempted. Reinstatement in the program after the cumulative GPA falls below 2.0 is allowed only after the employee raises his or her cumulative GPA to 2.0 or greater.

Degree scholarship participants are encouraged to apply for Federal financial aid. Students who are eligible for the scholarship program may also accept other Northern scholarships, Federal Pell Grants, SEOGs, and state-supported scholarships and grants. Please note, however, that if the student chooses to accept these other grants and scholarships, the degree waiver will only be applied to increase the total amount of grants and scholarships up to the 100% benefit.

The employee must obtain approval from his or her supervisor before enrolling each semester. Employee Enrollment Request Form is available on the NOC website at <http://www.noc.edu/scholarships>. The completed online form must be approved and submitted before the last day of the drop/add period. Requests received after this date will not be considered. If employment with Northern Oklahoma College ends during a semester the employee is enrolled in course work covered under the program, the student may be required to reimburse the College for the tuition, fees, and books previously paid for by the College. Reimbursement will be at the discretion of the College after review of employment history, relevant circumstances, and length of employment.

Requests may be denied when budget limitations dictate and/or for employees with unsatisfactory job performance or disciplinary issues, or for employees who have previously withdrawn or failed courses for which assistance was provided.

Courses fill up quickly. Please enroll in a timely manner. Employees are not entitled to special treatment when enrolling.

3.20.1.2 The Employee, Spouse, and Dependent Scholarship Program

All full-time employees, their spouses and dependent children up to age of 24 based on Federal Aid Guidelines are eligible to enroll in NOC-billed courses and receive a waiver for one-half of the resident tuition charge for up to 15 credit hours in any fall, spring, or summer term, and half of NOC on-campus residence hall room charges at a double room rate. In the event of special circumstances, the dependent will need to contact the Scholarship Coordinator for possible alternative arrangements in the NOC on-campus rental housing, based upon availability. The employee or their dependent is responsible for the remaining tuition, fees, and/or book costs. Please note, if the student has accepted other Northern scholarships, state-supported scholarships or grants, the waiver will be applied after all other scholarships have been applied. In addition, the employee must still be employed full-time on the first day of the semester for which the scholarship is applied. To be considered, you must complete the online scholarship form can be found on the NOC website at <http://www.noc.edu/scholarships>.

Courses fill up quickly. Please enroll in a timely manner. Employees, their spouses and children are not entitled to special treatment when enrolling.

3.20.1.3 Educational Partnership Opportunities

Northern Oklahoma College has developed relationships with other higher education entities and those entities have extended educational incentives to encourage full-time employees to pursue degrees from those institutions. Full-time employees who are interested in educational partnership opportunities should contact the Office of Human Resources for current opportunities.

3.20.2 Professional Development Reimbursement Program

The purpose of the Professional Development initiative at Northern Oklahoma College is to provide an incentive for continuous improvement for full-time faculty and full-time salaried staff.

3.20.2.1 Rationale

Northern encourages employees to commit to professional improvement by providing reimbursement for professional development activities when funds are available. In the case of a greater number of applicants than funds, reimbursements will be made according to the following criteria: (1) value to the institution and its mission; (2) value of the experience to the individual; and (3) practicality of the activity. In order to qualify for possible reimbursement, the professional development activity must in some way improve the credentials of the employee, for example:

Coursework, within a plan of study, toward an advanced degree.

Coursework allowing the employee to strengthen a particular academic or work-related responsibility.

Special practical experience allowing the employee to strengthen a particular academic or work-related responsibility.

3.20.2.2 Process

An application for reimbursement must be submitted to the Vice President of Academic Affairs for Faculty and Staff must turn reimbursement forms into the Vice President of Financial Affairs by June 1 following the year the coursework/activity is completed. All applications must be accompanied by appropriate receipts indicating that payment has been made. Additional supporting documentation includes, but is not limited to, the following: (1) a plan of study for completing an advanced degree must be on file in the appropriate Vice President's office, no later than March 1 of the year in which reimbursement is requested; (2) official transcripts indicating completion of coursework to accompany the application; and (3) certificate of completion indicating continuing professional education credits earned to accompany the application. Applications not received, postmarked, or incomplete by June 1st will not be considered.

Reimbursement will be made only on an annual basis for coursework/activities completed during the immediate prior 12-month period, for example, an activity completed in June 2015 would be included on the application to be submitted by June 1, 2016. Reimbursements will be approved annually, and the President will make all final decisions based on available funding at the end of the fiscal year in June with reimbursements paid by the end of July. Employer-paid educational assistance may be taxable per IRS guidelines.

If the employee is reimbursed by the College for greater than fifty percent of the cost of an advanced degree, and then decides to leave the College prior to completing two years of service following the completion of the degree, he or she may be required to repay the College the amount of funds that were provided from the College through the Professional Development Reimbursement Program.

3.21 Student Affairs

3.21.1 Use of Student Labor

Departments may be allocated a budget for wages for student help dependent upon available funding. Faculty/supervisors must have student workers approved by the Dean of Students for College Work Study employment and/or the Director of Financial Aid for Federal Work Study employment. The Office of Student Affairs in Tonkawa or the administrative offices in Enid or Stillwater will notify the Office of Human Resources prior to when the student begins or ceases work. The student must complete the following documents in the Office of Student Affairs and have on file with the Office of Human Resources before they start work:

1. NOC Employee Handbook Acknowledgement, Employment Application, Loyalty oath, W-4 form, direct deposit form, drug statement, and I-9 signed by student.
2. Copy of student's Social Security card and driver's license or other photo I.D. such as a student I.D.
3. Acknowledge Employee Handbook

If a student does not have a Social Security number, he or she should apply with the nearest social security office, presenting required documents. Students should not start working until they have a Social Security number issued to them by the Social Security Administration. The faculty/supervisor for who the student works is responsible for making sure these procedures are followed. Student workers can only be included on the bi-monthly student payroll if procedures have been followed and a time sheet has been properly signed and submitted to the Office of Human Resources by the official deadline for the given work period. Students are paid by direct deposit and may request payment information from the Office of Human Resources.

3.21.2 Student Sponsors

Persons using college vehicles are required to use seat belts and to comply with all Oklahoma Department of Highway Safety regulations

3.22.12 Solicitation and Expressive Activity Policy

Commercial solicitations may not be done by an official group, organization, or person without clearance and permission from the Office of Student Affairs; however Northern Oklahoma College is committed to providing an environment where issues can be openly discussed and explored. The freedom to exchange views is essential to the mission of the College. This policy is in place to provide a community environment where open discussion can occur without disrupting the academic mission or daily functions of the College, subject to constitutional time, place, and manner limitations, and without unconstitutionally interfering with the rights of other members of the College community.

I. Disclaimers regarding Expression

A. Members of the College community enjoy significant free speech protections guaranteed by the First Amendment of the United States Constitution. This policy is primarily intended to protect members of the College community from discrimination, not to regulate protected speech. No provision of this policy shall be interpreted to prohibit conduct that is legitimately related to course content, teaching methods, scholarship, or public commentary of an individual or faculty member or the educational, political, artistic, or literary expression of students in classrooms and on campus. However, freedom of speech and academic freedom are not limitless and do not protect speech or expressive conduct that violates federal or state anti-discrimination laws.

B. The fact that certain content-based limitations on expression have been established as legally permissible does not create an obligation or responsibility on the College or any of its officials or employees to exercise any form of limitation or control of expression. Rather, because of its educational mission, it the responsibility of the College and its officials to actively encourage free and open inquiry by avoiding and resisting limitations of expression.

C. As a corollary to the College's commitment to protect and promote free expression, members of the College community must also act in conformity with the principle of free expression. Although members of the College community are free to criticize and contest the views expressed on campus, and to criticize and contest speakers who are invited to express their views on campus, they may not obstruct or otherwise interfere with the freedom of others to express views they reject or even loathe. To this end, the College has a solemn responsibility not only to promote a lively and fearless freedom of debate and deliberation, but also to protect that freedom when others attempt to restrict it.

D. Given the wide diversity of expression that occurs at higher education institutions, the use of any College-controlled facility, area, or medium for any expression shall not constitute or suggest endorsement of the content of that expression, or any proponent thereof, by the Board of Regents, the College, its administration, staff, faculty, student body, or any individual member of those constituencies.

E. Presenters of expression shall assume full responsibility for any violation of law or College policy and procedure that they commit while on College property.

II. Members of the College Community

A. All members of the Northern Oklahoma College community - which includes students, faculty, and staff of the College - are encouraged to exercise the right of assembly, free speech, and expression throughout the campus, when doing so does not disrupt the academic mission or daily functions of the College. Expressive activities shall not be limited to any specific location on campus. However, the right of assembly and expression does not include unlawful activity that endangers the safety of the campus community or that destroys College property. Expressive activities are also not to unduly disrupt traffic, either vehicular or pedestrian, or violate other time, place, and manner parameters specified in this policy. Forums, rallies, demonstrations, and other similar expressive activities are not to occur within academic, administrative or other College buildings, including residence halls.

B. Any College community individual or small group (10 or fewer) may use, without prior notification or request, on any day of the week during daylight hours, any publicly accessible outdoor area of the College's campus to collect signatures, distribute materials, and/or speak spontaneously (without amplification equipment), so long as they do not disrupt the academic mission or daily functions of the College.

C. All College community individuals and groups (more than 10) wishing to participate in forums, rallies, demonstrations and other similar expressive activities should make a request in advance to the Vice President for Student Affairs or his/her designee (580-628-6240). A request should contain the name of the requestor and how he/she can be contacted; the proposed date, time, and location for the contemplated activity; the expected size of the audience; the topic(s) or subject(s) to be addressed; and any other information which may be necessary to accommodate the needs associated with the activity. The request should be made as far in advance as possible, but in no event less than three (3) working days prior to the activity.

D. The Heilman Gazebo area in Tonkawa, located south of the Student Union, and the Clock Tower area in Enid, located north of the Administration Building, are locations conducive to expressive activity, including forums, rallies, and demonstrations. While members of the College community are not restricted to this designated public forum to engage in expressive activities, any College community individual or small group (less than 10) may use the Gazebo or Clock Tower areas without prior notification or request on a first come, first served basis. An individual or group who requests and reserves the Gazebo or Clock Tower areas, though, shall have priority over any other individual or group. Once a request is received and granted by the Vice President for Student Affairs or his/her designee, the Gazebo or Clock Tower areas may be reserved through the Administrative Assistant of the Vice President for Student Affairs (580-628-6240).

E. Should the Gazebo or Clock Tower areas be unsuitable or otherwise unavailable on the date and time requested, a limited public forum (excluding academic, administrative or other College buildings, including residence halls), as determined by the College, may be made available to College community individuals and groups for purposes of expressive activity. Once a request is received and granted by the Vice President for Student Affairs or his/her designee, a reservation may be made through the Administrative Assistant of the Vice President for Student Affairs (580-628-6240). To ensure priority use and to avoid possible conflict with scheduled College activities, reservations are highly recommended. Use of amplification equipment is not permitted, except in exceptional circumstances and with prior approval from the Vice President for Student Affairs.

F. Denial of any request made by a College community individual or group by the Vice President for Student Affairs or his/her designee shall be in writing and will be subject to final review by the President of the College in consultation with legal counsel. Final review should in most cases be completed within twenty-four (24) hours of denial of the request by the Vice President for Student Affairs or his/her designee. If more time is required based on the particular facts and circumstances, the requestor shall be so notified.

III. Non-Members of the College Community

A. All individuals, groups, and organizations who are not members of the Northern Oklahoma College community (those who are not students, faculty, or staff) shall submit a written request to the Office of the Vice President for Student Affairs (Vineyard Administration Building, 1220 E. Grand Tonkawa, OK 74653) for purposes of expressive activity on campus. Once a request is received and approved by the Vice President for Student Affairs or his/her designee, non-members of the College community will contact the Administrative Assistant of the Vice President for Student Affairs (580-628-6240) to reserve the Gazebo in Tonkawa and the Clock Tower area in Enid, or, a limited public forum as determined by the College if the non-member individual, group or organization is sponsored by a member of the College community. Requests made by individual or group members of the College community shall have priority over any requests made by non-members of the College community.

B. 3.24.8.2 Long Distance Calls

Long distance telephone calls using NOC owned telephones should only be made for official college business. Students are not authorized to make long distance calls on NOC owned telephones. Employees should limit personal cell phone calls, in frequency and duration, to the greatest extent possible. This includes incoming as well as outgoing cell phone calls. Personal calls should not interfere with an employee's duties or with the duties of others and should not impact an employee's productivity.

In addition, NOC employees that use cellular phones to conduct business should be aware of the laws and regulations that pertain to the use of cellular devices while operating a motor vehicle. The intent of the policy is to properly portray, promote and protect the institution and to assist Northern entities in creating and managing their social media accounts. The policy also provides suggestions on how to protect personal and professional reputations while using social media. The full policy is available on the NOC website at www.noc.edu/socialmedia.

Ban on Tik Tok Executive Order 2022-33

On December 8, 2022 Executive Order 2022-33 was signed banning Tik Tok at State agencies. The order says that no executive branch employee or agency of the State of Oklahoma shall download or use the TikTok application or visit the TikTok website on government networks or government-issued devices, including State-issued cellphones, computers, or any other device capable of internet connectivity, and that TikTok shall be blacklisted from State networks and State-managed devices.

To the fullest extent of the law, no person or entity who contracts with the State of Oklahoma, including but not limited to any State agency, board, commission, or authority and agents thereof, shall download or use the TikTok application or visit the TikTok website on government networks or other State-owned or State-leased equipment. 3.24.13 Emergency Alert System

To ensure the safety of all students and employees during an emergency situation (e.g., impending severe weather, intruder on campus, etc.), Northern Oklahoma

College has implemented an emergency alert system. The NOC Alert System uses text, voice and email messages to alert the NOC community in these events.

Northern employees and students are automatically signed up for the “NOC Alert.” If you need to make changes to your account, add a number or opt out, please sign in to myNOC at www.noc.edu. After logging in with your username and password, click on the tab that reads “NOC Alert,” and then click on the “Alert” icon. You will be asked to “Agree to the Terms”; then the screen following will allow you to add or change numbers and/or emails. Your NOC email will always remain the same and cannot be deleted from your account. Click the “Help” tab for information on how to opt out.

NOC conducts a test of this system the first working day of each month. If you do not receive a test text message on your cell phone, please contact the Webmaster at 580.628.6330.

3.24.14 NOC Policy on Timely Warnings and Immediate Notifications

In an effort to provide timely notification to our campus, and in the event of a crime which may pose a serious on-going threat to our community, the NOC RAVE alert will issue “timely warning” and “immediate notification” crime bulletins to notify members of the community about serious crimes against people that occur on campus. These procedures will expedite communication within the campus, from the campus to the media, and to the public in the event of an emergency or crisis.

NOC will issue a “Timely Warning” notice, without releasing confidential information about the victims, whenever a Clery crime is considered to pose a threat to students and employees. These crimes include, Criminal homicide, sex offenses, robbery, aggravated assault, burglary, motor vehicle theft, arson, Arrests and referrals for disciplinary actions including liquor law violations, drug law violations and illegal weapons possession. If any Clery crime is determined to be a hate crime, it will be counted as a hate crime as well. If it is determined that larceny-theft, simple assault, intimidation, dating violence, domestic violence, stalking or destruction/damage/vandalism of property are acts of hate crimes, such crimes will be reported as such in the annual crime statistics.

Timely warnings will also be issued when a crime poses an ongoing threat to the NOC community. The NOC President or their designee shall make the decision as to whether an incident poses an ongoing threat and if a “Timely Warning” advisory is required. NOC is NOT required to provide a timely warning with respect to crimes reported to a pastoral or professional counselor. In the event of an immediate threat to the health or safety of this campus, NOC will follow its emergency notification procedures. NOC is not required to issue a timely warning based on the same circumstances; however, NOC must provide adequate follow-up information to the community as needed.

NOC will issue an “Immediate Notification” in the event that there is a confirmed significant emergency or dangerous situation involving an immediate threat to campus community (per judgment of the NOC President or their designee), NOC will, without undue delay, and considering the safety of the community, determine the content of the notification and initiate the immediate notification system. However, if the NOC Emergency Response Team believes the notification may compromise efforts to assist victims or to contain, respond to, or otherwise mitigate the emergency, the notification may be delayed.

The NOC President or their designee shall provide the VP for Development and Community Relations with specifics of the case for the purpose of drafting the content of the immediate notification. The NOC Emergency Communication Team also maintains prescribed short messages for a variety of hazards to assist in the timely issuance of immediate notifications. In all cases, Immediate Notifications and Timely Warnings will be sent to NOC employees and students via campus e-mail.

Northern Oklahoma College also uses a mass text and email notification system, RAVE Alert System. The system is tested on a monthly basis. To sign up to receive these emergency warnings, via text or email, visit www.noc.edu and follow the links to sign up for this service.

3.24.15 Bring Your Own Device (BYOD) Usage Policy

3.24.15.1 Purpose

The purpose of this policy is to define standards, procedures, and restrictions for end users who have legitimate requirements to access college data from a mobile device connected to an unmanaged network outside of Northern Oklahoma College's direct control. This mobile device policy applies to, but is not limited to, all devices and accompanying media that fit the following device classifications:

- Laptop/notebook/tablet computers
- Mobile/cellular phones
- Home or personal computers used to access institutional resources
- Any mobile device capable of storing corporate data and connecting to an unmanaged network

The policy applies to any hardware and related software that could be used to access institutional resources, even if said equipment is not college sanctioned, owned, or supplied.

The overriding goal of this policy is to protect the integrity of the private and confidential institutional data that resides within Northern's technology infrastructure. This policy intends to prevent this data from being deliberately or inadvertently stored insecurely on a mobile device or carried over an insecure network where it can potentially be accessed by unsanctioned resources. A breach of this type could result in loss of student or employee information, damage to critical applications, and damage to the institution's public image. Therefore, all users employing a mobile device connected to an unmanaged network outside of Northern's direct control to backup, store, and otherwise access corporate data of any type must adhere to college-defined processes for doing so.

3.24.15.2 Applicability

This policy applies to all Northern Oklahoma College employees, including full and part-time staff, contractors, freelancers, and other agents who utilize either company-owned or personally-owned mobile devices to access, store, back up, relocate or access any department or student-specific data. Such access to this confidential data is a privilege, not a right, and forms the basis of the trust Northern has built with its students, employees and community. Consequently, employment at Northern does not automatically guarantee the initial and ongoing ability to use these devices to gain access to institutional networks and information.

It addresses a range of threats to or related to the use of institutional data:

- a. Loss - Devices used to transfer or transport work files could be lost or stolen.
- b. Theft - Sensitive institutional data is deliberately stolen and sold.
- c. Copyright - Software copied onto a mobile device could violate licensing.
- d. Malware - Viruses, Trojans, Worms, Spyware and other threats could be introduced via a mobile device.
- e. Compliance - Loss or theft of financial and/or personal and confidential data could expose the College to the risk of noncompliance with various identity theft and privacy laws.

Addition of new hardware, software, and/or related components to provide additional mobile device connectivity will be managed and issued at the sole discretion of the Department of Information Technology.

3.24.15.3 Affected Technology

Connectivity of all mobile devices will be centrally managed by Northern's Information Technology Department and will utilize authentication and strong encryption measures. Although Northern is not able to directly manage external and mobile devices which may require connectivity to an external network, end users are expected to adhere to the same security protocols when connected to non-institutional networks. Failure to do so will result in immediate suspension of all network access privileges so as to protect the College's infrastructure.

3.24.15.4 Policy and Appropriate Use

It is the responsibility of any employee of Northern who uses a mobile device to access institutional resources to ensure that all security protocols normally used in the management of data on conventional storage infrastructure are also applied here. It is imperative that any mobile device that is used to conduct college business be utilized appropriately, responsibly, and ethically. Failure to do so will result in immediate suspension of that user's account. Based on this, the following rules must be observed:

a. Access Control

Northern reserves the right to refuse, by physical and non-physical means, the ability to connect mobile devices to institutional and institutional-connected systems. Northern will engage in such action if it feels such equipment is being used in such a way that puts the College's systems, data, employees, and students at risk.

Prior to initial use on Northern's network or related infrastructure, all college owned mobile devices must be purchased through and registered with the Information Technology Department.

All mobile devices attempting to connect to the corporate network through an unmanaged network (i.e. the Internet) will be inspected using technology centrally managed by Northern's Information Technology (IT) Department. Devices that have not been previously approved by IT, are not in compliance with IT's security policies, or represent any threat to the College network or data will not be allowed to connect. Laptop computers or personal computers may only access the College network and data using a Secure Socket Layer (SSL) Virtual Private Network (VPN) connection. The SSL VPN portal Web address will be provided to users as required. Smart mobile devices such as smartphones, PDAs, and UMPCs will access the corporate network and data using Mobile VPN software installed on the device by IT.

b. Security

Employees using mobile devices and related software for network and data access will, without exception, use secure data management procedures. All mobile devices must be protected by a strong password (See Section 3 of IT Policy). Employees agree to never disclose their passwords to anyone, particularly to family members if institutional work is conducted from home.

All users of mobile devices must employ reasonable physical security measures. End users are expected to secure all such devices used for this activity whether or not they are actually in use and/or being carried. This includes, but is not limited to, passwords, encryption, and physical control of such devices whenever they contain college data. Any non-college computers used to synchronize with these devices will have installed up to date anti-virus and anti-malware software deemed necessary by Northern's IT Department.

Any mobile device that is being used to store Northern Oklahoma College data must adhere to the authentication requirements of Northern's IT Department.

IT will manage security policies, network, application, and data access centrally using whatever technology solutions it deems suitable. Any attempt to contravene or bypass said security implementation will be deemed an intrusion attempt and will be dealt with in accordance with Northern's Information Technology policy.

Employees, contractors, and temporary staff must erase all college related data permanently from personally owned devices once their use is no longer required. Divisions and departments must notify the IT Department when a college-owned device needs a transfer in users, be replaced or is no longer needed.

In the event of a lost or stolen mobile college device it is incumbent on the employee to report this to IT immediately. IT will attempt to remotely wipe all data and lock the device to prevent access by anyone other than IT. If the device is recovered, it can be submitted to IT for re-provisioning.

Usage of location-based services and mobile check-in services, which leverage device GPS capabilities to share real-time user location with external parties, is prohibited within the workplace. This applies to corporate-owned mobile devices being used within the College premises.

c. Help and Support

Northern's IT Department will support its sanctioned hardware and software, but is not accountable and will support such devices on a very limited basis and at the discretion of the Director of Information Technology for conflicts or problems caused by the use of unsanctioned media, hardware, or software. This applies even to devices already known to the IT Department.

Employees, contractors, and temporary staff will make no modifications of any kind to company-owned and installed hardware or software without the express approval of Northern's IT Department. This includes, but is not limited to, any reconfiguration of the mobile device.

IT reserves the right, through policy enforcement and any other means it deems necessary, to limit the ability of end users to transfer data to and from specific resources on the enterprise network.

d. Organizational Protocol

IT can and will establish audit trails and these will be accessed, published and used without notice. Such trails will be able to track the attachment of an external device to a device, and the resulting reports may be used for investigation of possible breaches and/or misuse. The end user accepts that his or her access and/or connection to Northern's networks may be monitored to record dates, times, duration of access, etc., in order to identify unusual usage patterns or other suspicious activity. This is done in order to identify accounts/devices that may have been compromised by external parties. In all cases, data protection remains Northern's highest priority.

Northern employees must immediately report to his or her manager and Northern's IT Department any incident or suspected incidents of unauthorized data access, data loss, and/or disclosure of company resources, databases, networks, etc.

Northern Oklahoma College will not reimburse employees if they choose to purchase their own mobile devices. Employees will not be allowed to expense mobile network usage costs.

3.25 Employee Service Recognition

In order to celebrate the Northern Oklahoma College employee's commitment to excellence, the administration will host an annual employee recognition ceremony in late spring. Lapel pins of appreciation will be awarded at this time to full-time employees completing one year and five-year increments. These will be engraved with NOC and the number of years of service in the following increments:

| Years of Service | Award |
|-------------------------|----------------------------|
| 5 years | Bronze Lapel Pin |
| 10 years | Silver Lapel Pin |
| 15 years | Gold Lapel Pin |
| 20 years | Bronze Lapel Pin with Ruby |
| 25 years | Silver Lapel Pin with Ruby |
| 30 years | Gold Lapel with Ruby |
| 35 years | Watch |
| 40+ years | To be determined |

3.27 Background Screening

Northern Oklahoma College conducts background checks on all final job candidates and volunteers and some students dependent upon program and responsibilities. All criminal background screens are conducted post-offer (contingency offer). However, as part of Title VII of the Civil Rights Act, this information cannot be used as a basis for denying employment, unless it is determined to be job-related. Northern Oklahoma College may also use a third-party administrator to conduct background screenings. The type of information that can be collected by this agency includes, but is not limited to, a criminal background check, social security trace, education, employment history, credit, and professional and personal references. This process is conducted to verify the accuracy of the information provided by the candidate and determine his or her suitability for employment.

The College will ensure that all background screenings are held in compliance with all applicable federal and state statutes, such as the Fair Credit Reporting Act (FCRA).

Northern Oklahoma College reserves the right to make the sole determination concerning information or any employment decision arising out of the background screening.

All offers of employment, oral and written, shall include the following statement. "This offer is contingent on the College's verification of credentials and other information required by state law and Northern Oklahoma College policies, including the completion of a criminal history check." Final candidates may not start employment until the hiring department is notified by the Human Resource Department that the background screening has been successfully completed.

3.27.2 General Guidelines

- New Hires: Background screenings are required for all new hires excluding students. The background screenings must be completed and verified before any employee begins work. At no time should an employee begin work until the Human Resource Department has verified the results of the background screening.
- Rehires: A background screening is required for all rehires that have been separated for longer than 120 days.
- Current Employees: A background screening on employees will be required when they transfer to, or are promoted to a new position or role which includes new or first-time responsibilities. Background screenings can be required for other current employees at the discretion of the President with consultation from the Vice President for Financial Affairs and the Human Resource Department. The results of the previously performed verifications and/or history check will be considered in any pending employment decision.
- Employment Contingency: Background screenings are to be processed after a contingent offer of employment has been extended to the applicant.

Note: The offer of employment is contingent upon the successful results of the background screening.

- Authorization by Applicant: The candidate must authorize the background screening. This is done by having the applicant complete the Fair Credit Reporting Act Disclosure and Candidate/Employee Authorization form. This form is available to the applicant on the Northern Oklahoma College website and can be sent via e-mail to the candidate as well. For those individuals who will occupy a position that may expose the College to significant liability, a standard background screening including a credit report will be required.

3.27.3 Verification of Background Screening

- The results of the background screening will be sent directly to the Human Resource Department.
- The Director of Human Resources will review the report. If any discrepancies or criminal history are noted, the Director will notify the hiring department and President for final determination.

- If a background screening is returned with unfavorable results, the Human Resource Department will notify the hiring department.
- The hiring department will contact the candidate to inform him or her that Northern Oklahoma College is rescinding its contingent offer of employment and that he or she will receive written notification that the Northern Oklahoma College third party administrator will send a summary of the candidate's rights under the Fair Credit Reporting Act. 3.34 Nepotism

Except as prohibited by the laws of the State of Oklahoma, relationship by consanguinity (blood) or affinity (marriage) shall not, in itself, be a bar to appointment, employment, or advancement at Northern Oklahoma College or, in the case of faculty members, to eligibility for tenure. The College recognizes, however, that there is an inherent conflict of interest when an employee makes hiring, promotion, or salary decisions about a family member, although there may be extremely rare circumstances when the potential benefit to the College of having an employee supervise a family member outweighs the potential harm.

Therefore, no two persons who are related by consanguinity or affinity within the third degree shall be given positions in which either is directly responsible for making recommendations regarding employment, promotion, salary, or tenure for the other; nor shall either of two persons so related who hold positions in the same budgetary unit be appointed to an executive or administrative position in that unit or to a position involving administrative responsibility over it, as long as the other person remains in the unit, without first receiving a waiver that has been recommended by the appropriate vice president and approved by the President.

3.34.1 Policy

The basic criteria for appointment and promotion of all College faculty, staff, and student employees will be appropriate qualifications and performance. The intent of this policy is to emphasize that selection of personnel will be based on job-related qualifications. Relationship by family, marriage, or domestic partnership will not preclude hiring or promotion/transfer, as long as the individual meets and fulfills the appropriate appointment standards.

Family members, whose qualifications rank them first for the positions under consideration may be employed, so long as neither family member is immediately responsible for or influences any employment action. In such instances, all decisions will be referred to the Human Resource Department and the appropriate vice president; this includes dual career, spouse/partner, and any other family hiring. All decisions will be sent to the President for final approval.

3.34.2 Definitions

- a. Nepotism - Favoritism applied, without regard to merit, through authority or influence by someone in a position of power, toward family members or others for whom the employee is legally responsible. Favoritism is shown by giving preferential treatment in any employment action to family members and others as defined in the policy.

3.34.3 Procedure

- a. Disclosure
 - 1. Individuals must notify their supervisor if any family member applies for a position for which they will be responsible or may influence the employment actions referred to in this policy.
 - 2. Internal and external applicants are required to self-disclose, at the time of application, if the position for which they are applying reports to or supervises a family member.
 - 3. Individuals who do not notify their supervisor are in violation of this policy and will be subject to corrective action in accordance with college policies and procedures.

- b. Waiver

In recommending the waiver, the appropriate vice president must make a written statement of the facts that have led him or her to conclude that the benefit to the College in granting the waiver outweighs the potential harm. In addition, the appropriate vice president must propose in writing a means by which a qualified, objective person, unrelated to the employee at issue, shall make performance evaluations and recommendations for compensation, promotion, and awards for that employee, and must state in writing how that means will avoid the conflict of interest. Waiver requests will be sent to the President for final approval.

c. Duty to Act

Any employee of Northern Oklahoma College who becomes aware of information regarding nepotism must notify the appropriate vice president within five work days of becoming aware of the information. The appropriate vice president will work with the Human Resource Department to determine how to eliminate the conflict. All decisions will be sent to the President for final approval.

d. Accountability

Individuals violating this policy will be held accountable through the selection and corrective action processes, with consequences ranging from non-selection to discipline up to and including termination.

This procedure will guide the President, the Northern Oklahoma College Board of Regents, and the Northern Oklahoma College Foundation in establishing consistent definitions, minimum standards and general guidelines to be used in approving naming proposals. The following guidelines will apply for naming or renaming facilities.

- d. Facilities also may be named for persons who have made a substantial gift to the College through the Northern Oklahoma College Foundation. A "substantial gift" is usually defined as at least 50 percent of the cost of a construction project, although it is appropriate to negotiate this percentage with the College through the NOC Foundation. A financial gift will not necessarily result in the naming of a building in honor of a donor.
- e. College facilities shall not be named for persons active as NOC faculty, staff or administrators, active members of the Board, or persons active in positions relating to College operations, such as legislators and members of the State Regents for Higher Education.
- f. - g. A specific proposal for naming will be developed by the Facilities and Program Naming Taskforce appointed by the President in accordance with the College's naming policy and the naming procedures described herein, as well as with the NOC Foundation's Gift Acceptance policy and procedures and the Oklahoma State Regents for Higher Education policies and procedures.

- h. To minimize exterior lettering and space required for listings in databases, directories, mailing addresses, class schedules, and so forth, the Board prefers (but does not require) that a building name assigned to honor an individual should include the person's surname only, such as "Wilkin Hall" and "Kinzer Performing Arts Center."
- i. When buildings are named to honor individuals, the designation of "Hall" also should be considered. In some instances, the "Hall" designation is not appropriate. In those cases, it may be best to include in the building name a preference to its use or function, e.g., "Gantz Student Center."
- j. Institutional buildings, or parts thereof, and streets shall not be named for persons active as faculty members or administrators, active members of the Board, or persons active in positions relating to institutional operations such as legislators and members of the State Regents for Higher Education.

- l. In the case of a proposed donation by, and/or a nominee that is a business or corporation, the proposal must include, in all cases, for both the proposed donor and prospective nominee:

6. The name of the building, space, or program to be considered for naming
7. Other information related to the nomination, as may be requested

3.36.3 Procedure

- a. Proposals for the naming or renaming of any facility, position, or program must be directed to the office of the President.
- b. The President will then submit his or her recommendation to the College's Board of Regents for its consideration. Upon approval of the naming opportunity by the Board of Regents, the President and/or the Executive Director of the Foundation may accept the proposed gift.
- c. Upon agreement, a formal contractual commitment will be executed that sets forth the gift in support of the College, as well as the named recognition.

3.36.4 Responsibility

- a. The credentials, character, and/or reputation of each individual, corporation, or group for whom or which naming is being considered, as well as the credentials, character, and/or reputation of each prospective donor, will be researched thoroughly. The College President, upon advice and consent from the College Board of Regents, may require that a background check be performed on a donor (living or deceased) or prospective nominee or honoree based upon particular facts and circumstances. If a background check is determined to be necessary, the donor (or donor's executor) or prospective nominee or honoree shall be required to sign an authorization allowing the background check.
- b. Only the College President and/or the Executive Director of the Foundation may negotiate a gift with a donor. It is the responsibility of the President and/or Executive Director of the Foundation, when leading or negotiating on behalf of the College, to advise potential benefactors that their gift may be recognized by naming, subject to approvals and decisions consistent with College and/or Northern Oklahoma College Foundation, Inc. policy and procedures.
- c. No commitment regarding naming will be made to a donor or a non-donor prior to approval of the related proposal for naming. Formal proposals, naming recommendations, and final naming agreements will be in writing and maintained as part of the permanent archives of the College. Official communication with donors or nominees during the proposal and negotiation process will originate from the President and/or Executive Director. No individual unit of the College may independently negotiate or commit to a naming opportunity. All negotiations and commitments will follow College policies and procedures. Levels of support for naming buildings, spaces, or programs will be determined by the Executive Committee of the Northern Oklahoma College Foundation, Inc.

- d. The College President, in collaboration with the Northern Oklahoma College Foundation, has the right to:
 - 1. determine the content, timing, location and frequency of any public announcements associated with the gift;
 - 2. approve the color, design, and size of any physical marker that provides information about the donor, prospective nominee or honoree and/or nature of the gift of the donor;
 - 3. determine and carry out the exact nature of any ongoing care and maintenance of any memorial or tribute gifts or their physical markers.
- e. A plan for media announcements, additional ceremonial recognitions, installation of signage in accordance to the institutional graphic standards and wayfinding signage guidelines, and other appropriate tasks will be developed by the appropriate College departments (e.g., Marketing and Public Information).
- f. Any signage or exterior memorials to recognize the names and historical significance of Malls, Plazas, and Architectural Landscapes shall be approved only after the Facilities and Program Naming Taskforce Committee has made a thorough investigation into the implications of their construction on campus character, beautification, safety, and site maintenance.
- g. Other than building name lettering affixed to the exterior of a building conforming to sections above, other external memorials to a building name's honoree in the form of free-standing statuary, kiosks, signs, pedestals, and so forth are discouraged.

3.36.5 Financial Contributions

Gifts for naming must be realized by the College before naming becomes official or any further action is taken. Legally binding pledges normally should be paid within five (5) years of naming the building, space, or program. Trusts, bequests and other assets will be considered. In general, a completed gift of cash or assets that can be readily converted to cash or its future transfer legally assured is required prior to a naming action being taken. Acceptance of gifts will be in compliance with the Northern Oklahoma College Foundation, Inc.'s gift acceptance policy and procedures.

3.36.6 Changed Circumstances and Renaming

At the request of the President and/or Executive Director, and with the approval of the Board of Regents, Northern Oklahoma College may rename a facility based on any of the following conditions and circumstances:

- a. if a donor for whom a facility is named fails to fulfill a financial commitment to the College, the Board may remove his or her name, and the facility may be renamed;
- b. if a donor's reputation changes substantially so that the continued use of the name may compromise the public trust, bring dishonor to Northern Oklahoma College, or be contrary to the best interests of the College, the Board reserves the right to revoke the name, and the facility may be renamed. Northern Oklahoma College would have no financial responsibility to the returning of any received contributions;
- c. when NOC buildings and other facilities are demolished, their names shall be retired from service for historical purposes. The College may offer the original naming donor an opportunity to retain naming rights by making a gift at the requisite level. If a facility is renamed, the College may choose to recognize the previous facility name with a plaque and/ or by naming a space in the renamed facility.

- a. Classroom doors shall remain closed when HVAC is operating. Ensure doors between conditioned space and non-conditioned space remain closed at all times, for example, between hallways and the gym or pool area.
- b. All office machines (copy machines, laminating equipment, etc.) shall be switched off each night and during unoccupied times. Fax machines should remain on.
- c. All computers should be turned off each night. This includes the monitor, local printer, and speakers. Network or sensitive equipment is excluded.
- d. All capable PC's should be programmed for the "energy saver" mode using the power management feature. If network constraints restrict this for the PC, ensure the monitor "sleeps" after 10-minutes of inactivity.
- e. Air conditioning occupied temperature settings shall NOT be set below 74°F unless that area is identified as a critical environment that requires cooling below 74°F.
- f. During unoccupied times, the air conditioning equipment shall be off.

- g. Air conditioning should not be utilized in classrooms during the summer sessions unless the classrooms are being used for instruction or extracurricular activities.
- h. Heating occupied temperature settings shall NOT be above 72°F unless it is a critically controlled environment.
- i. All unnecessary lighting in unoccupied areas will be turned off. Faculty and students should make certain that lights are turned off when leaving an empty classroom. Utilize natural lighting where appropriate. “Lights off in unoccupied areas” is the theme to spread around campus.
- j. Refrain from turning lights on unless definitely needed. Remember that lights not only consume electricity, but also give off heat that places an additional load on the air conditioning equipment and thereby increases the use of electricity necessary to cool the room.

3.38 Grants and Contracts

In order for Northern Oklahoma College to enhance the College’s ability to achieve the vision of high quality, accessible, and affordable educational opportunities and services, NOC encourages faculty, staff, and administrators to be aware of external funding opportunities supporting projects, programs, and activities that will deepen and enhance our institutional mission. NOC hopes to strengthen the College’s ability to secure a broad base of external funding to assist those in search of such funding. Grants can help you accomplish identified community needs, build strong community partnerships, establish new connections and supporters, and increase sustainability of your personal research goals. NOC also hopes to achieve financial benefits for all departments at NOC, and to enhance the student experience, especially in the areas of recruitment, retention and graduation. Even small grants can be worth the effort as they may be easier to obtain, be a better fit for your project scope and intent, lead to other grant opportunities, and may even result in increased support from community and NOC officials. The full version of the Grants and Contracts Policies and Procedures can be found at the Grant Development web page (<http://www.noc.edu/grant-development>).

4.0 FACULTY POLICIES AND GENERAL INFORMATION

4.1 Faculty Personnel Policy

Each faculty member files a form supplying personal data to be maintained as confidential information in the Office of the Vice President for Academic Affairs and the Office of Human Resources. Forms for this report are obtainable from the Executive Assistant to the President. Transcripts and personal data forms will not be returned when a faculty member leaves the institution. They are retained as part of the permanent records of the College. All original documents for full-time faculty shall be kept in the Office of Human Resources. Official transcripts for adjunct and part-time faculty are kept in the Office of Academic Affairs.

Employees in higher education institutions who are teachers will not be affected by the Final Rule of the U.S. Department of Education in accordance with the Fair Labor Standards Act. The salary level and salary basis requirements do not apply to bona fide teachers. See 29 CFR 541.303(d),.600(e). Accordingly, the increase in the standard salary level in this Final Rule will not affect the overtime exemptions of bona fide teachers.

Teachers are exempt if their primary duty is teaching, tutoring, instructing, or lecturing in the activity of imparting knowledge, and if they are employed and engaged in this activity as a teacher in an educational establishment. See 29 CFR 541.204(b),.303. Educational establishments include institutions of higher education.

Exempt teachers in higher education may include college and university professors or adjunct instructors. Faculty members who are engaged as teachers but also spend a considerable amount of their time in extracurricular activities are still engaged in the primary duty of teaching. In addition, coaches and assistant coaches qualify as exempt teachers as their primary role includes instructing athletes, students in performing arts, and students participating in other organized activities, such as the Livestock Judging Team. Extracurricular activities might include coaching athletic teams or acting as advisors for club activities, academic contests, or performing arts groups; such activities are a recognized part of the College's responsibility in contributing to the educational development of the student. In all situations, examining the particular duties of the employee is how the applicability of an exemption must be determined (rather than location, job title, or other criteria).

4.1.1 Membership

The faculty is composed of four categories. These classifications include full-time faculty, part-time faculty, adjunct faculty, contractual faculty.

a. Full-Time Faculty

The full-time faculty includes members of the faculty who are full-time employees of the College. Authority to make appointments to the regular faculty is delegated to the President with recommendations from the Vice President for Academic Affairs. Appointments to the regular faculty are reported to the Board at the next regular meeting following the appointment.

Full-time faculty have instructional and non-instructional duties as assigned by the College. Instructional duties include but are not limited to the teaching of assigned classes, with a 15-credit hour per semester standard load in each of the fall and spring semesters [adjusted as needed for 30 credit hours per academic year when enrollment needs are greater in either the fall or spring term], evaluating the students in the classes, and meeting with those students who require assistance in the classes. Non-instructional duties include but are not limited to advising students toward graduation, serving on committees, sponsoring organizations, and participating in professional organizations, professional development, recruitment and retention of students.

b. Part-Time Faculty

Part-time faculty are generally employed only for the purpose of teaching classes. The assigned responsibilities are to provide instruction, evaluate students' performance to that instruction, and to meet with those students who require assistance in their classes.

c. Adjunct Faculty

Adjunct appointments are temporary appointments made for one semester or summer session only and involve instructional duties for certain course sections only. A standard maximum load for an adjunct faculty member is 12 credit hours, considered equivalent to 2/3 (approximately 24 hours of a 40-hour work week) of the teaching load of a full-time faculty member with the same expectations that instructors will meet with students who need additional assistance in their classes but without the additional obligations of academic advisement or required participation in committee work and student organizations. Adjunct faculty who are employed in hourly positions within the College may be further restricted in teaching load to maintain the workload equivalent to adjunct status and in time slots that do not conflict with other work responsibilities.

d. Contractual Faculty

NOC staff members who also have teaching assignments as a part of their contracted job duties are classified as Contractual Faculty. Job responsibilities will be defined per the individual term of agreement.

4.1.2 Types of Appointments to Faculty

Full-time faculty hold one of three types of appointments; however, the President may recommend exceptions.

a. Tenured

A tenured appointment is reserved for those full-time faculty members who have been granted tenure after completing the application process and obtaining administrative approval. Tenured faculty members are on continuous appointment unless their appointment is being terminated; however, both tenured and non-tenured faculty will be notified of their annual reappointment through a letter of intent to reappoint pending budget approval sent from the Office of Academic Affairs after board review of faculty rehire list. This letter will be sent no later than June 15 of each year. Tenured faculty are required to have at least an earned master's degree in a field appropriate to their teaching assignment and three years of full-time experience with the master's degree at Northern Oklahoma College.

Note: The procedures for tenure application and the procedures for dismissal of tenured faculty are covered in Sections 4.6.3 and 4.6.4.

b. Tenure Track

Tenure track appointments are for one year, renewable annually at the option of the College. A person on tenure track will be given written notification of non-reappointment by June 15, prior to the termination of the current appointment. Recommendations for tenure are usually made at the close of the spring semester.

c. Non-Tenure Track

A non-tenure track appointment is one in which the faculty member is appointed to the regular faculty but is not eligible to receive tenure and is classified as on a non-tenure track. Non-tenure track may be assigned for a coaching position or a split staff/faculty position. Faculty with this type of appointment will be given written notification of non-reappointment by June 15, prior to the termination of the current appointment. A non-tenure track appointment may be changed to a tenure-track appointment upon written agreement signed by both the President and the faculty member.

4.1.3 Faculty Credentials

Institutional, State Regents' and HLC guidelines dictate that faculty members whether full-time, part-time, or adjunct be "appropriately" credentialed or qualified, with a minimum of a master's degree in the teaching field or a master's degree in a related field and at least 18 graduate hours in the teaching field.

For accredited programs, such as Business and Nursing, guidelines for faculty credentialing will meet the above guidelines (or recognize exceptions as listed in following section for tested experience) plus any additional standards required by the program accrediting agency (e.g. ACBSP and ACEN) for degrees and/or experience. Examples: Faculty teaching within the Business Division will have a master's degree in a business field, a minimum of 18 graduate hours in the specific Business discipline taught, and/or a bachelor's degree plus in-field research in peer-reviewed journals, licensures (e.g. CPAs), or a minimum of 2 years of documented work experience in the specific field being taught—e.g. Marketing, Computer programming, etc. For the Nursing Program, all full-time faculty will have a minimum of an MSN degree, and/or meets tested experience guidelines, and will have at least 2 years of experience as a practicing nurse. Clinical supervisors must have a minimum of a BSN degree.

For non-accredited programs (currently all other than Business and Nursing), exceptions to the minimum master's degree will be rare and will be granted only in fields for which a high level of proficiency can be verified through licensures, certifications, or professional experience, as illustrated by examples below approved by faculty within the discipline:

- A minimum of two years of diagnostic laboratory experience in a hospital or government lab
- Foreign language proficiency demonstrated by a standardized exam equivalent to college credit at graduate level
- For courses in the humanities that may address multiple content areas (e.g. art, literature, philosophy, music), faculty will have a minimum of 18 graduate hours in one of the fields of study and/or 18 graduate hours in a combination of those fields
- Performing Arts—a bachelor-degreed applicant may meet two of the following to meet the qualifications for master's level instruction in Music and/or Theatre:
 - Hold a chair in a symphony orchestra, professional or semi-professional.
 - Soloist for a symphony orchestra, professional or semi-professional.

 - Lighting/sound design for major productions on the regional or national scene.
 - Collaborative pianist for 10 or more years for instrumental and vocal recitalists.
 - Direct and perform piano and/or organ with a large congregation for 10 or more years.
- Dance/Theatre Dance—a bachelor-degreed applicant must meet three of the following to qualify for master's level instruction in dance or theatre dance courses:
 - Be a member of a dance company of professional status for one or more years and in good status.
 - Choreograph or assist in choreographing at a professionally recognized organization for one or more years, i.e. television dance show, major cruise line, Las Vegas main stage show, Broadway or off-Broadway musical.

- Dance in a professionally recognized organization for one or more years, i.e., television dance show, major cruise line, Las Vegas main state show, Broadway or off-Broadway musical.
- Produce, manage, or facilitate dance routine for professional music video, commercial, or film.
- Perform as a member or solo dancer for a professional music video, commercial, or film.
- Visual Arts—a bachelor-degreed applicant must meet two of the following to meet the qualifications for master's level instruction in Art.
 - Be recognized as an outstanding artist on a state or national level.
 - Have art on exhibit in major galleries in the region.
 - Be featured in publications as an outstanding artist.
 - Have art published in peer-juried publications.
 - Have lectured on art at major events, conventions, or seminars.
 - Have brought new and/or inventive ideas to art in a regional or national workshop medium.
- For the nursing program, all faculty requirements must comply with those set forth by the Oklahoma Board of Nursing and the Accreditation Commission for Education in Nursing (ACEN). All nursing faculty shall:
 - Hold a valid unencumbered license to practice as a Registered Nurse in the State of Oklahoma;
 - Present evidence of a minimum of two years of full-time equivalent practice as a Registered Nursing in a clinical setting preceding the first date of first employment as a nursing faculty member.

The nursing program's minimal educational requirements shall be as follows:

- At least one-half of the full-time faculty will have a master's or higher degree in nursing; and
- Part-time clinical instructors, regardless of the title used, will have a minimum of a BSN (baccalaureate degree in nursing).
- Exceptions for tested experience may be made for the following:
 - a. A baccalaureate degree in nursing plus evidence of continued progress toward a master's or higher degree in nursing with the completion of a minimum of six semester hours per calendar year and, a national nursing certification, or a minimum of three years of supervisory experience in an acute care setting

- b. Part-time clinical instructors, under the guidance of full-time instructors will meet requirements with a minimum of a bachelor's degree in Nursing and three years of work.

Faculty teaching technical classes in an applied science degree program may be considered credentialed with a bachelor's degree and relevant professional experience, certifications, or licensures, as determined by the division. Faculty teaching non-transferrable coursework (including physical activity courses and remedial coursework) may meet minimum credentialing guidelines with a bachelor's degree in field and master's degree in education and/or prior teaching experience, with additional qualifications determined by the division.

4.1.4 Length of Appointments

The Board may not obligate itself beyond a current fiscal year for salaries or compensation in any amount to its employees except as authorized by the Oklahoma Constitution.

4.2 Faculty Responsibilities

Faculty are expected to follow institutional policies that apply to all employees (see section 3.12.1) and are subject to the same disciplinary procedures for failure to comply.

Additionally, Northern Oklahoma College establishes the following standards as the minimum requirements of professional academic performance of faculty within the institution. The standards outline the faculty behavior necessary for the College to achieve its mission, goals, and objectives.

4.2.1 Roles and Responsibilities of Instructors

- a. Instructors will demonstrate an understanding and support for the philosophy and mission of the comprehensive community college, as stated below:

Northern Oklahoma College, the State's first public community college, is a multi-campus, land-grant institution that provides high quality, accessible, and affordable educational opportunities and services which create life-changing experiences and develop students as effective learners and leaders within their communities in a connected, ever-changing world.

Instructors will be expected to support this mission in the following ways:

1. Developing a basic understanding of transfer, career education, and community service programs of the College.
2. Being "student-centered" in creating classroom policies and procedures that encourage student success and assist in the recruitment and retention of students through degree completion.
3. Placing obligations to students ahead of their pursuit of ancillary or vested interests within their professional group or association.

4. Taking the role of student advisement and retention seriously and working intensively with each advisee.
 5. Being available to students in the office or classroom for individual help during the scheduled and posted office hours of each day.
 6. Being able to explain the role, purposes, and programs of the College to the students and the community.
 7. Using appropriate channels of communication to make positive suggestions for improving functions within division and for the institution as a whole.
 8. Assuming additional responsibilities (e.g. sponsoring student activities or organizations, chairing or serving on committees, etc.) as needed by division and/or institution.

 4. Preparing appropriate criterion tests for evaluating student performance and updating measurements as needed.
- d. Instructors will demonstrate that their instructional activities are carefully planned in accordance with the College Catalog descriptions, course outlines, and class schedules in such ways as:
1. Following the standard syllabus template provided by the Office of Academic Affairs and turning in copies of all syllabi to division chairs by the Monday prior to when classes begin (or at the end of the prior semester). Division chairs will review all syllabi prior to submission and submit to Academic Affairs by the first day of class.

2. Preparing or obtaining relevant instructional material before instruction begins.
 3. Meeting classes for the full duration of the scheduled class period.
 4. Submitting an absence report and, when possible, a plan for who will cover the class missed and what assignment will be done for any days missed. The form for reporting faculty absences can be found under the "Employee Information" link of the portal with Human Resources forms.
 5. Utilizing Blackboard for posting assignments, grade reports and/or notes for any class missed due to inclement weather college closings or other unplanned absences and communicating this procedure to students at the beginning of the semester.
 6. Submitting no-show reports, midterm grade rosters, and final grades on time, and utilizing the Early Alert System to communicate with students and their advisors when early adjustments need to be made in attendance, classroom participation, and/or quality of work so that tutoring and other resources can be assessed.
- e. Instructors will enhance the student learning environment in such ways as:
1. Providing a safe learning environment
 2. Setting reasonable and appropriate behavior standards for students in their classes and enforcing those standards in a fair and professional manner.
 3. Challenging students to set realistic goals and purposes in relationship to their learning activities.
 4. Conducting classes in such a manner as to allow students to share in the excitement of learning.
 5. Encouraging participation by all students in classroom learning experiences, rather than allowing a few individuals to dominate a class.
 6. Encouraging the use of the available physical facilities, including the tutoring services available within each discipline.
 7. Enriching the classroom experience through the use of appropriate technology (e.g. the use of Clickers to encourage active learning, the use of the discussion board in Blackboard, etc.).
- f. Instructors will demonstrate the ability to judge student performance in such ways as:
1. Explaining at the beginning of each semester how grades will be determined and informing students, approximately every two weeks, of their progress and ways in which they can improve.

2. Evaluating student performance as objectively as possible and in relationship to standards established by the academic division.
 3. Using written assignments, projects, oral reports, demonstrations, and exams that accurately determine whether course objectives have been met.
 4. Assigning grades to students on the basis of composite evaluation of student performance based on a clear description of how grades are calculated as stated in the syllabus.
- g. Instructors will furnish evidence of professional growth and development in such ways as:
1. Participating in conferences, workshops, seminars, college-sponsored development activities, etc. which focus on their subject matter and/or the improvement of college instruction and college policies.
 2. Enrolling for credit in related courses in colleges or universities.
 3. Welcoming suggestions and constructive criticism which are intended to improve their role as teachers.
 4. Completing the annual faculty service report and self-evaluation, with criteria also evaluated by and discussed with division chairs.
 5. Participating in in-service activities and the first semester teacher academy.
- h. Instructors will display personal characteristics which reflect positively on the faculty of the College in such ways as:
1. Respecting all other employees of the institution and observing ethical principles of a faculty member.
 2. Participating in community activities and organizations.
 3. Using appropriate vocabulary which is free from profanity and slang.
 4. Displaying good judgment, tact, and an appropriate sense of humor in meeting situations.
 5. Dressing appropriately and recognizing their responsibility to present a favorable personal appearance.
 6. Presenting a positive view of the College, its leadership, and personnel in contacts with students, the public, and with outside agencies or persons.
 7. Avoiding involvement of the College in personal legal or business matters (e.g. unsatisfied creditors) and preserving the good image generally enjoyed by all college employees.

4.2.2 Time Obligation

The time obligation of a faculty member is that specified in the appointment letter, based upon official action. For most faculty, this is nine months beginning in August and ending in May. Each year the administration will define the beginning and end of the work obligation, giving consideration to the College academic calendar and other relevant matters. A full-time faculty member will generally carry an instructional load of fifteen (15) credit hours per semester or 30 per academic year including summer teaching when needed to complete teaching load (or an equivalent through service responsibilities), and a non-instructional equivalent load of fifteen instruction hours. At least 10 hours must be posted as dedicated office hours. Any exceptions to the prior listed requirements must be approved by the Division Chair, and the Vice President for Academic Affairs.

The administration will also announce holidays and/or days when faculty have no formal class, office, in-service education, or other obligations of a work nature to the College. Under current calendar practices, faculty have five days at Thanksgiving, one or more week(s) at Christmas, one week during spring break, one day for fall break, one day at Labor Day, and one day honoring the birthday of Dr. Martin Luther King.

Persons on contracts longer than nine months and/or functioning in administrative, directive, or general services roles may have time obligations for days during class recesses when academic faculty may not. College offices and services are closed only during days and times announced by the President.

Faculty members are required to attend all general faculty meetings and to participate in commencement activities unless excused by prior arrangement with the Office of Academic Affairs.

Any faculty member who will be away from his or her classes or other duties should file a request for leave as early as possible. The faculty member should counsel with the Division Chair and/or Faculty Liaison about arrangements made to take care of classes and clear absences with the Office of Academic Affairs and the respective location vice president. A faculty member who deliberately misses a class, makes a habit of dismissing classes early, does not maintain proper office hours, or who is absent from the campus without clearance will not be retained.

An important aspect of institutional service is participation in campus activities. Faculty will be expected to participate in campus events such as career nights, fair booths, and academic contests. Faculty members are also expected to support student activities such as performing arts, athletic events, lecture series, and cultural enrichment activities. Those persons with identified or shared responsibility for individual programs are expected to exercise initiative and leadership in recruitment and placement of students.

Teleworking Policy: NOC's Telework Policy, noted in Chapter 3 of the Handbook, will apply to faculty to the degree that it aligns with faculty role (non-exempt employee status) and responsibilities (including 30 hours of on-campus responsibility) and length of contract (normally 9 months unless teaching summer classes).

4.2.3 Guidelines for Faculty Instructional Loads

A number of factors influence faculty instructional load. Among these are:

1. Number of credit hours taught;
2. Total contact hours, including labs;
3. Number of students per class or lab;
4. Other assignments and duties;
5. Number of different preparations;
6. Nature of the discipline taught.

The following are general policy guidelines in this area:

- a. Standard faculty instructional loads will be 15 credit hours per semester and evening and online courses can be a part of a normal load.

If the instructional load exceeds 15 credit hours, faculty will be compensated; however, availability of overloads can never be guaranteed as they are dependent upon enrollment.

As one example, the Nursing Division is unique in implementing a team approach to instruction. This includes theory lecture, lab instruction, and practicum hours. Each full-time nursing faculty member is required to have 2 clinical groups along with lecture and lab duties. Practicum hours may range from 9-13 hours one to two times per week. This may vary depending on healthcare facility requirements.

The nursing faculty ascertain that the faculty/student ratios are sufficient for adequate teaching, supervision, and evaluation. These ratios adhere to the requirements placed upon NOC by the following bodies: Oklahoma Board of Nursing, the Accreditation Commission for Education in Nursing, and participating hospitals/agencies.

Due to the unique aspect of the nursing program, standard faculty instructional load will be greater than 15 credit hours per semester. Nursing faculty members will be compensated for this additional load.

- b. In fields involving laboratories, contact loads of 18 to 25 hours are normal. Contact loads beyond 25 hours should not occur.
- c. All faculty are subject to assignments which best meet the needs of students. Convenience of faculty is considered but must be subordinate to institutional objectives and student and program needs.

- d. Payment for services will be at the currently prevailing rate of compensation for overload and/or summer instruction. Course days and times are finalized by Academic Affairs.

4.2.4 System for Compensation of Instructional Overloads and Special Assignments

- a. Payment is made for overloads which are beyond the normal fifteen (15) credit hours per semester.
- b. As of the Fall 2023 term, adjunct/overload payments will be paid at $1900 per 3-credit hour class for all faculty.
- c. During summer terms, full-time faculty may be paid at overload rates with assignment of advising hours on a 1:1 ratio (3 hours total of advising hours per 3 credit hours taught).

Adjunct Pay Scale

1. All NOC Locations

$1900 per 3-credit hour course. ($633 per 1-credit hour course)

$850 per lab hour for all sciences except Microbiology, which is paid at $1100 per lab hour

$100 additional per 3, 4, and 5 credit hour course with five or more years or ten semesters of experience

All overload, adjunct, and part-time emeritus positions are determined on a semester basis, renewable as budget permits.

- 2. Emeritus Returning Full-Time (and fulfilling all duties of a full-time instructor) who no longer have salary cap set by OTRS may be employed in non-tenure track, one-year appointments, renewable annually as needed and as budget permits. Pay will be determined by degree classification and years of experience, with up to 20 years total of prior teaching experience credited.
- 3. If a course does not meet the required minimum of 12 students, it may be paid at a prorated amount per student based on the current overload rate divided by 12. The contract amount will be based on the number of students enrolled after the add/drop period. Faculty who do not wish to teach an overload course on a per-student rate should notify their division chair when they determine that a course has borderline enrollment; exceptions for full payment of classes with fewer than 12 may be made in instances when a program course is offered only once in an academic year and is needed for graduation. Single sections of summer and evening general education core courses may be allowed to make with a minimum of 10 to allow students the coursework needed to graduate in a timely manner.

4. Instruction for credit offered in alternative formats such as seminars, weekend workshops, independent study, and applied music courses will be paid at the current approved rate.
5. Compensation for community service instruction will be paid by the clock hour at the current approved rate and must be pre-approved by supervising vice president before scheduling.

4.2.5 Processes Related to Division Chairs

In selecting new division chairs, the following procedure will be followed:

- a. Priority will be given to candidates who are tenured. If no candidate within the division meets this qualification, if no current faculty member within the division is interested in the position, and/or if internal candidates are interviewed and the interview committee determines that reopening the position is desirable, the position may be advertised externally and/or appointed by the Vice President of Academic Affairs.
- b. Candidates must agree to be physically present for all division chair meetings. College transportation will be provided.
- c. Any full-time faculty member in the division who meets criteria #a can request to be considered.
- d. All current division chairs will be invited, but not required, to sit in on interviews of the candidates conducted by the Vice President for Academic Affairs.
- e. At least one full-time faculty member from the division per campus may be invited to sit in on interviews for input.
- f. The final responsibility for selecting the division chair will be made by the Vice President of Academic Affairs with consideration given to experience, degrees earned, faculty input, input from those sitting in on interview, and program presence on each campus.
- g. Division chairs will be compensated for their extra duties with a course release and stipend. Courses taught beyond the regular load will be compensated through an overload contract. As part of the compensation, chairs are required to be on campus the standard minimum 30-hour work week for two weeks beyond the final report date for the spring semester to complete the budgeting process, assessment reports, and other year-end obligations.
- h. Number of advisees will be monitored in recognition of other duties.
- i. Division chairs will be responsible for all of the following at all three locations with input and campus vice presidents.

2023-2024

- Advertising and hiring for all full-time positions, with position offered after a clear background check and Vice President for Academic Affairs and President's approval.
- Conducting classroom observations for all non-tenured, full-time faculty.
- Determining tenure recommendations, in conjunction with campus vice presidents when faculty member is on alternate campus, for all full-time faculty.
- Creating and monitoring plans of improvement for any faculty member with identified weaknesses, and submitting written plan to the Academic Affairs Office annually or until problem has been corrected.
- Dismissing full-time faculty who fail to meet improvement standards set in plan of improvement in consultation with the Vice President for Academic Affairs, and/or Vice Presidents for NOC Stillwater or NOC Enid.
- Dismissing adjunct faculty (in conjunction with campus vice presidents' input when faculty are on alternate campus) who fail to meet divisional performance standards.
- Resolving student issues in conjunction with the faculty member involved.
- Meeting with full-time and adjunct faculty for all disciplines within the division from all four NOC locations a minimum of twice a year to review curriculum and regularly visiting other learning locations.
- Involving faculty from all four NOC locations in textbook considerations, distribution of travel funds, and curriculum changes.
- Signing off on all textbook order forms.
- Submitting annual strategic plan and budget request, with input from faculty within division at all NOC locations.
- Reviewing division course schedule for all four NOC locations to ensure required courses are offered in proper rotation at needed times and ITV courses are coordinated.
- Meeting as needed with Academic Affairs administrators.
- Approving all new courses offered within the division, with input from Vice President for Academic Affairs, Vice President for NOC Enid, and Vice President for NOC Stillwater.
- Fulfilling other duties as assigned by the President and the Vice President for Academic Affairs.
- Notifying administration as soon as possible when retirement or resignation will open his or her position so that "ex-officio chair" can sit in on meetings and in other ways prepare for upcoming role.

- Advertising for and hiring adjuncts
- Conducting classroom observations for all adjuncts.
- Scheduling courses for all full-time and adjunct faculty and coordinating rooms for input from Academic Affairs and Registrar's Office.
- Meeting annually with all full-time faculty to review self-evaluations and supervisor evaluations, and maintaining records of those evaluations.
- Ordering materials and maintaining needs of the campus department.

4.2.6 Outside Employment and Activities

A faculty member may engage in outside business or financial interest as long as it does not create a conflict of interest or interfere with the duties for which he or she was hired or detract from the ability to perform his or her job at Northern Oklahoma College. None of the outside work can be done during scheduled NOC work hours or using NOC facilities or equipment.

An employee may engage in outside activities; however, the College may collect information routinely. Advance documentation of employment through an additional state agency or other educational institution outside of Northern Oklahoma College should be cleared through the faculty member's division chair, the Office of Academic Affairs, and should be on file in the Office of Human Resources. If the nature of the extra activity, or the time and effort on the part of the employee result in a conflict with his or her primary employment with Northern, the activity may require reduction or elimination. In addition, no college resources (e.g. copying, printing, email) should be used to conduct business outside of the faculty member's primary responsibilities with Northern.

4.3 Evaluation of Faculty

The purpose of the evaluation of faculty is to provide a mechanism through which continual improvement of instruction can be fostered. The process is designed to enable faculty to assess their teaching and learning effectiveness, identify opportunities for improvement, and make changes based upon the feedback provided.

4.3.1 Evaluation of New Full-Time and New Adjunct Faculty

It is the intent of this institution to provide the most effective and efficient level of instruction possible in each course. The following process will be utilized each semester during the first year and annually during the remaining two or more years of their probationary period to assess the effectiveness of each new full-time and each new adjunct faculty member. The process may be continued in subsequent years at the discretion of the faculty liaison (in the supervision of adjunct faculty), division chair, or campus vice president.

4.3.1.1 Process and Timelines

- a. Week 8 of 16-week class or week 3-4 of 8-week class: Division chair or campus vice president sends an informational letter to each full-time and each adjunct instructor to be assessed explaining the process and window of dates for observation.

- b. Week 10-12 of 16-week class or week 5-6 of 8-week class: Division chair or campus vice president (or, for adjunct faculty, a faculty liaison) makes an official observation of at least one section of each of the full-time or adjunct instructor's classes and completes the "Assessment of Instructor Effectiveness."
- c. Week 13-14 of 16-week class or week 7-8 of 8-week class: Division chair or campus vice president schedules a meeting with each observed full-time and adjunct instructor to discuss the "Assessment of Instructor Effectiveness" and overall instructor performance. If someone other than the division chair or campus vice president conducted the official observation, that person should be included in the meeting. The mentor assigned to each new full-time and adjunct instructor may also be included in the meeting at the division chair's and/or campus vice president's discretion.
- d. Week following the observation: Both the division chair or campus vice president and the instructor sign and date the "Assessment of Instructor Effectiveness" instrument. The original instrument will be kept in the instructor's personnel folder and copies will be provided to the instructor, the division chair, the campus vice president, and to the Office of Academic Affairs.

4.3.2 Evaluation of Continuing Full-Time Faculty

The evaluation process for full-time faculty consists of three parts: (1) student evaluations; (2) self-evaluation and service report; (3) division chair and/or campus vice president evaluation. Student evaluations are conducted each semester while the others are done in the spring semester. All full-time faculty, including new faculty, will be subject to this process. Adjunct faculty will have classes observed by their supervisors, and they are responsible for having classes complete the student evaluations but are not required to turn in self evaluations or service reports.

a. Student Evaluations

Student evaluation forms will allow students to respond to a set of questions about classroom performance on a scale from "Strongly Disagree" to "Strongly Agree" and will also allow students to write in comments about what they like and dislike about the course and whether or not they recommend the instructor.

The following procedure was adopted in December 2010 by division chairs and faculty liaisons as the means of choosing which courses would be evaluated:

Components of the Faculty Evaluation by Students

Faculty to be Evaluated

2023-2024

The following categories of faculty members will be evaluated as follows:

- Adjunct Faculty in years 1-3 years of service: Every class, every semester
With Approval of Liaison and division chair after year 3:
- Adjunct Faculty teaching 1-2 classes: One class per semester
- Adjunct Faculty teaching 3-4 classes: Two classes per semester
- First year full-time Faculty: Every class, every semester
- Non-Tenured Faculty: Every class, every semester
- Tenured Faculty: Two classes per semester selected by the division chair or supervisor

Selection of Classes in which Tenured Faculty Member is to be Evaluated

The classes per faculty that will be evaluated are as follows:

- Online Classes: Every class, every semester*
- ITV Classes: Minimum of 1 per instructor teaching ITV*
Results from Online and ITV Class evaluations will be assessed in a different group from the faculty member's other classes.
- Faculty member's classes: Faculty selects one class and
- Division Chairs and/or Director of Institutional Research selects one to two classes

*Required ITV and Online Evaluations may count toward the two class minimum course evaluations for tenured faculty.

Timelines for Evaluations

The evaluation instruments will be disseminated to students in the following weeks of the semester:

- Eight Week Classes: 6th-8th week
- Full Semester Classes (on-site and online): 12th-14th week
- Seminars: At the conclusion of the class

Evaluation Instruments to be Utilized

The evaluation instruments to be utilized have been designed and developed as a collaborative effort of the Faculty Affairs & Personnel Policies Committee, the President, the Vice President for Academic Affairs, and the Division Chairs of Northern Oklahoma College.

b. Self-Evaluation

This form requires faculty to assess their current year performance in a series of broad areas relating to their effectiveness as a faculty member and service to the institution.

c. Division Chair Evaluation

The division chair (with input from the campus vice president when the faculty member is based on an alternate campus from the chair) will evaluate the faculty member on the same form used by the faculty for their self-evaluation.

If the evaluation process reveals significant deficiencies in professional performance, an official plan of improvement will be developed and monitored during subsequent academic year.

4.4 Faculty Association

The purpose of the Faculty Association is to foster a working relationship with the community, the College administration, and the students in matters of curriculum development, subject matter, methods of instruction, professional development, and aspects of student life related to the educational process.

4.4.1 Membership

Faculty Association Members consist of all instructional employees. Only full-time faculty members have voting privileges.

4.4.2 Officers

a. Chair

The Vice President for Academic Affairs is designated as the Chair.

b. Vice-Chairs

The full-time faculty members from each campus location shall elect a Vice-Chair (Vice-Chair for Tonkawa, Vice-Chair for Enid, and Vice-Chair for Stillwater). The term of office for these positions is one year, beginning June 1 and ending May 31. The Vice-Chairs are each elected by a majority vote of the full-time faculty from the campus where he or she has primary instructional responsibility.

1. Qualifications

Each Vice-Chair must be full-time, tenured faculty with the institution prior to taking office

2. Duties

- Preside over meetings of the Faculty Association members at their respective campus.

- Serve as liaison between the faculty members on his or her respective campus and the Vice President for Academic Affairs and/or appropriate administrators for issues that are campus specific.
- Serve as Vice-Chair of the Faculty Affairs Subcommittee of the Policies and Procedures Institutional Committee.
- Establish a nominating committee, develop a slate of nominees, and provide a ballot at the final faculty meeting of the year at which time other nominees may be added and a formal vote can be taken to determine the Vice Chair for each campus for the upcoming year.

4.5 Academic Freedom and Responsibility

4.5.1 Academic Freedom

- a. Faculty members are entitled to freedom regarding research and in the publication of the results, subject to the adequate performance of instructional and non-instructional duties.
- b. Faculty members are entitled to freedom in the classroom in discussing their subject, but faculty should be objective in teaching of a controversial matter, which has relation to that subject, and of controversial topics introduced by students. The faculty member should not introduce controversial matters which have little or no relation to the subject of instruction.
- c. Faculty members are individuals, members of a learned profession, and representatives of a college. When faculty members speak or write as individuals, they should be free from institutional censorship or discipline, but faculty position in the community imposes special obligations. As persons of learning and education representatives, the faculty members should remember that the public might judge the profession and the College by what is said off campus as well. Hence, each faculty member should, at all times, be accurate, should exercise appropriate restraint, should show respect for the opinions of others, and should make every effort to indicate that faculty do not speak on behalf of the College. See Social Media Policy in Section 3.21.12 at www.noc.edu/socialmedia.
- d. Academic freedom should be distinguished clearly from constitutional freedoms, which all citizens enjoy equally under the law. Academic freedom is an additional assurance to those who teach and pursue knowledge and, thus, pertains to rights of expression regarding teaching and research within specific areas of recognized professional competencies.
- e. Intellectual Property--Courses that are certified through Quality Matters with institutional resources used in development, and institutional or grant funds provided as stipends, are considered jointly owned by the instructor and institution through the period of certification (typically five years). Instructors developing the course will be given the first opportunity to teach the course; however, if the instructor is unable or unwilling to teach the course when needed, or if additional sections of the course are needed to help create a teaching load for other faculty, the master course may be shared. At the end of the certification period, ownership of course materials created by the instructor will revert to the instructor who developed them.

4.5.2 Academic Responsibility

- a. The concept of academic freedom must be accompanied by an equally demanding concept of academic responsibility. The concern of the College and its members for academic freedom safeguards must extend equally to requiring responsible service, consistent with the objectives of the College.
- b. Faculty members have responsibilities to their discipline and to the advancement of knowledge generally. Their primary obligation in this respect is to seek and to state the truth as they see it. To this end, they shall devote their energies to developing and improving their scholarly competence. They shall exercise critical self-discipline and judgment in using, extending, and transmitting knowledge and they shall practice intellectual honesty.
- c. Faculty members have responsibilities to their students. They shall encourage in students the free pursuit of learning and independence of mind, while holding before them the highest scholarly and professional standards. Faculty members shall show respect for the student as an individual and adhere to their proper role as intellectual guides and counselors. Faculty members shall make every reasonable effort to foster honest academic conduct and to assure that their evaluations of students reflect their true merit. They shall not exploit students for private advantage, and they must acknowledge when they have received significant assistance from them in academic research. They shall protect students' academic freedom.
- d. Faculty members have responsibilities to their colleagues, deriving from common membership in a community of scholars. They shall respect and defend the free inquiry of their associates. In the exchange of criticism and ideas, they should show due respect for the opinions of others. They shall acknowledge their academic debts and strive to be objective in the professional judgment of their colleagues. Faculty members shall accept a reasonable share of faculty responsibilities for the governance of the College.
- e. Institutions of higher education are committed to open and rational discussion as a principal means of clarification of issues and the solution of problems. In the solution of certain difficult problems, all members of the academic community must take note of their responsibility to society, to the institution, and to each other and must recognize that at times the interests of each may vary and will have to be reconciled. The use of physical force, harassment of any kind, or other disruptive acts which interfere with ordinary institutional activities, with freedom of movement from place to place on the campus, or with freedom of all members of the academic community to pursue their rightful goals, are the antithesis of academic freedom and responsibility. So, also, are acts, which, in effect, deny freedom to speak, to be heard, to study, to teach, to administer, and to pursue research.

- f. Faculty members have responsibilities to their community. As a person engaged in a profession that depends upon freedom for its health and integrity, the faculty members have a particular obligation to promote conditions of free inquiry and to further public understanding of academic freedom.
- g. Administrators must protect, defend, and promote academic freedom.

4.6 Faculty Employment Process, Status, Tenure, and Dismissal

4.6.1 Faculty Employment Process: Hiring Procedures

Pre-Interview

- a. The Division Chair will provide the Vice President for Academic Affairs the job description/announcement of the vacant position, and the Vice President for Academic Affairs will seek approval from the President to add the position or advertise for a replacement position.
- b. In collaboration with the Office of Human Resources, the Office of Academic Affairs will make the appropriate contacts to publicize the vacancy in appropriate national, regional, local, and professional publications.
- c. A selection committee, appointed by the division chair, may wish to have a discussion about the qualifications of a successful candidate.
- d. All applications should be sent to the Office of Human Resources. The H.R. Office will send each applicant a letter of acknowledgement that materials have been received and that the letter serves as the notification that they will be contacted for an interview if being considered for the position.
- e. The selection committee will review all applications and select candidates to interview.
- f. Upon approval of the Vice President for Academic Affairs, the selection committee chair will contact each candidate to schedule interviews.
- g. Division chairs may ask each candidate selected for an interview to write a statement of his or her teaching philosophy and how it fits with Northern's mission statement.

Interview

- a. Separate interview sessions should be scheduled with the selection committee and Vice President for Academic Affairs. The committee and the Vice President for Academic Affairs should all be given copies of the candidate's application materials prior to the interview.
- b. It is highly recommended that each candidate makes a presentation or a lecture as a part of the interview process to demonstrate teaching ability
- c. Candidates who are not familiar with the campus and community may be given tours.

- d. During the interview, questions about race, age, sexual orientation, medical conditions or disabilities, marriage status, family, or citizenship should be avoided. However, candidates may be asked if there is any part of the job that they would not be able to perform and if they are eligible to work in this country.
- e. Fundamental questions asked of interviewees should be the same for all candidates for the same position. Consistency must be maintained in the interview process.
- f. In the interview with the Vice President of Academic Affairs, candidates will be given information on institutional requirements, including institutional assessment procedures, time obligations, advising and retention responsibilities, and requirements for participation in new teacher academy sessions in the first semester of employment.

Post-Interview

- a. The Division Chair will recommend to the Vice President for Academic Affairs which candidate the committee prefers to be hired.
- b. If needed, the Vice President for Academic Affairs may ask the search committee to re-evaluate their selection and submit another name.
- c. Once the Division Chair and the Vice President for Academic Affairs have agreed on a successful candidate, the Vice President for Academic Affairs will submit the name to the President. The President also has the right to accept or reject any candidate.
- d. Once the President has approved a successful candidate, the Vice President for Academic Affairs will contact the candidate with a conditional offer contingent upon a state and federal background check.
- e. The candidate will be directed to Human Resources to sign a waiver as soon as possible so the screening can be initiated. Upon a favorable screening and upon approval from the President, the Vice President for Academic Affairs will make an official job offer, providing a written and signed salary computation sheet.
- f. If the successful candidate responds to the Vice President for Academic Affairs with his or her acceptance of the job offer, the Vice President for Academic Affairs will then notify the President of the acceptance and the appointment will be reported to the Board of Regents at the next regular meeting.
- g. After the candidate selection has been finalized, the Vice President for Academic Affairs or Division Chair will complete the form for "NOC Request for Personnel Action" available on the NOC website by logging in to myNOC.
- h. In the event the search process does not produce an acceptable candidate or the candidate chosen declines the job offer, the Division Chair will recommend to the Vice President for Academic Affairs whether to make an offer to the search committee's second choice, to reopen (and/or re-advertise) the position, or to discontinue the search.

- i. The search committee will make every effort to support a culturally diverse faculty.

Post-Hire

- a. Once a successful candidate has accepted a job offer, the Office of Human Resources will notify all other candidates who were interviewed that the position has been filled.
- b. The Administrative Assistant in the Office of Academic Affairs will complete an Employee Record form for the new faculty member.
- c. The new faculty member will complete and provide appropriate paperwork in the Office of Human Resources.
- d. The Division Chair and faculty mentor will meet with the new faculty member as soon as possible to begin orienting him or her to the new position.
- e. All records for full-time faculty are maintained in the Office of Human Resources.

4.6.2 Faculty Status

All new instructors are employed on a probationary status for a minimum of three years. Each year during the probationary period faculty members are carefully evaluated. Initial employment carries no obligation for continuance. Employment is on an annual basis. Continuance of employment requires approval by the President, who will inform the Board of Regents at their May meeting through an official list of faculties to be rehired for the next academic year. Faculty who have turned in notices of resignation or retirement, or who have not been approved for rehire, will not be included on the official rehire list.

The President charges the Vice President for Academic Affairs with responsibility for ensuring that probationary faculty are properly evaluated and supervised. Employment may be terminated at the end of any academic year during this time without statement of cause and during any given academic year for cause as defined later in this policy statement. After completion of three years of satisfactory service and re-employment for a fourth year, the faculty member is eligible to apply for tenure providing other requirements such as degree qualifications have also been in place for three years. The probationary period may be longer than three years. Tenure is not automatically awarded because a faculty member has accrued three years of service. To be considered for tenure, faculty members must complete the application process as described below.

4.6.3 Faculty Tenure

Tenure is a privilege and a distinctive honor. Tenure is defined as continuous reappointment, which may be granted to a faculty member in a tenure-track position, subject to the terms and conditions of appointment. The tenure decision shall be based on a thorough evaluation of the candidate's total contribution to the mission of the College. While specific responsibilities of faculty members may vary because of special assignments or because of the particular mission of an academic unit upon eligibility after three years of service (with a minimum of a master's degree for those three years as well) a candidate applying for tenure must submit a typed letter no later than April 1 to his or her division chair requesting that consideration and attaching a portfolio of evidence to support excellence in the following areas, using headings or cover pages for each numbered item:

- a. Evidence of effective classroom teaching, for example, supervisor evaluations, student evaluations, results of classroom-based research comparing teaching strategies, and assessment data.
- b. Student involvement, for example, academic advisement, sponsorship of and/or involvement in student activities, hosting study groups, and providing individual assistance to students as needed.
- c. Evidence of professional development, for example, research/publications, presentations, conferences attended, webinar participation, continuing education, and participation in on-site professional development.
- d. Evidence of institutional contributions, for example, adherence to college policies, committee participation, timely submission for deadlines, such as grades, no show rosters, feedback on schedules, assessment data, and other divisional contributions.

Supervisors may provide candidates additional information on the weight of each element as appropriate to the specific needs of the discipline in which he or she teaches and can verify what evidence might already be on file (e.g. student evaluations). No application for tenure should exceed 100 pages, including the evidence file.

No instructor may be granted tenure if he or she has been on a plan of improvement in the 12 months preceding the tenure request, and an instructor who is denied tenure should meet with his or her division chair to determine areas of improvement for future applications. Non-tenured faculty will remain in the probationary stage of employment, and division chairs may recommend that they not be rehired if there is evidence, they do not fit the mission of the College nor the expectations for Northern faculty.

After reviewing tenure applications, supervising division chairs, in consultation with a review committee of the chair, two colleagues, and campus vice presidents when appropriate, should make tenure recommendations in writing to the Office of Academic Affairs no later than May 31. Chairs may wish to select one person on the review committee who represents a different academic division for feedback on the applicant's overall level of collegiality in other areas such as committee work. Tenure is granted by the Board of Regents for Northern Oklahoma College upon the further endorsement and recommendation of the Vice President for Academic Affairs. Determination of merit and recommendation for granting tenure shall comport with the minimum criteria and policies and procedures contained in this chapter. Tenure status is imparted to the instructor by a letter from the Vice President for Academic Affairs to this effect, and in this manner only.

Tenure does not apply to administrative positions, but a tenured faculty member appointed to an administrative position retains tenured status previously granted as a member of the faculty.

The President intends that tenured personnel are reappointed to the faculty the next academic year but reserves the right to terminate tenured faculty at the end of any fiscal year if the Legislature fails to appropriate or the Oklahoma State Regents for Higher Education fails to allocate sufficient funds to meet obligations for compensation.

4.6.4 Faculty Discipline and Dismissal

Any person given tenured faculty status may be removed from his or her position of employment or his or her services otherwise terminated at any time, at the discretion of the President with subsequent approval of the Board of Regents, for any of the following causes:

- a. Personal misconduct; unethical or unprofessional conduct; failure to exercise proper professional courtesies and restraints; failure to meet legitimate personal obligations or debts in a timely manner; conduct which materially and adversely affects one's value or usefulness to the College; abuse of academic freedom as defined in college policies.
- b. Professional incompetence; failure to perform one's duties in an acceptable manner; capricious or unjust dealing with students; evidence that personal relationships with students have jeopardized instructor objectivity in assigning grades (In addition to this guideline see Section 3.4 of this handbook for the policy on sexual harassment as it applies to all employees); failure to perform assigned duties or functions; failure to fulfill time obligations; failure to maintain office hours; habitually dismissing classes early; absence from the campus without clearance; deliberately missing class; failure to comply with deadlines for no-shows, grade submission, and retention initiatives such as using the early alert system.
- c. Failure to obey the law as materially and adversely to affect one's value or usefulness to the College (e.g. use of illegal substances, purchasing alcohol for a minor and/or providing alcohol to any student on College grounds or on any College-sponsored activity or trip).
- d. Insubordination or non-cooperation affecting professional effectiveness or working relationships within the institution; failure to observe defined or established institutional channels; failure to follow institutional policies and procedures; unwillingness to accept supervision; failure to follow administrative directives, written or oral, when such administrators are acting within their province of authority or discretion.
- e. Failure to meet the standards or requirements of a formal Plan of Improvement.

- f. Encouragement of or participation in student protest matters or other activities inconsistent with the harmonious conduct of college activities, business, or other affairs; attempting to involve or involving students in staff, staff-administrative, personal, or other controversies within the institution; actions or activities adversely affecting the institution's relationship and rapport with outside agencies, offices, organizations, institutions, constituency, or the general public or groupings thereof.
- g. Inability or unwillingness to adjust to changes in the institutional program, philosophy, or purposes.
- h. Bona fide lack of need for one's services – e.g. the program of tenured faculty is discontinued.
- i. Bona fide necessity for reduction in faculty force (e.g. RIF).
- j. Normal retirement as defined in other Board policies.
- k. Significant weaknesses or gaps in professional performance revealed in the evaluation process as referred to in Section 4.3.

For infractions of any of the foregoing list of causes by tenured faculty, the Vice President for Academic Affairs may have the option of returning the faculty member to probationary status when such an action is merited as an alternative to dismissal.

The decision of the Vice President for Academic Affairs to return a tenured faculty member to probationary status must be approved by the President. A tenured faculty member informed of such action or recommendation may request a hearing before the President, who may also appoint a hearing committee of three tenured faculty to meet within thirty (30) days of notification of the status change. The request for a hearing shall be in writing, made through the President, and shall summarize in concise form the reasons for requesting such a hearing. Both action on the request and the conduct of a hearing, if allowed, shall be fully within the discretionary province of the President. The judgment of the President in such cases shall be final, including their right to alter the recommendation of the Vice President for Academic Affairs to a dismissal action.

In dismissal procedures involving tenured faculty, at whatever time the action is taken, it is expected that such employee(s) shall be informed by the Vice President for Academic Affairs of the reasons for this action and has thirty (30) days to request a hearing before the President. This request shall be in writing and shall state concisely and in summary form the principal points of defense and main reasons why a hearing should be held. The granting of such a hearing and the form of its conduct is at the discretion of the President whose decision is considered final. The decision and judgment of the President relating to the interpretation of terms of this policy and to the discharge or removal of a faculty member shall be final for all purposes.

These regulations are a part of all future employment conditions by implications, whether or not referred to specifically in letters and contracts.

4.7 Faculty/Student Instructional Procedures

4.7.1 Class Attendance

Responsibility for attending class rests upon the student. Absence does not excuse the student from the obligation to do all the work required by the instructor for the course. Attendance in class is expected and faculty are required to keep attendance records for each class meeting. Only authorized absences— e.g. College-related absence or documented illness--will entitle students to perform make-up work. Such make-up work shall be scheduled at the discretion of the course instructor.

4.7.2 Admission and Withdrawal from Classes

A student should not be admitted to a class after the Friday of the first week of a semester except by special permission from the instructor and Vice President for Academic Affairs. The student should be sent to the Registrar's Office if there is any question concerning his or her enrollment so that records may be corrected or enrollment completed.

Withdrawal from a class will be permitted until Friday before the start of final exams. To withdraw from a class, a student must obtain the appropriate form from the Registrar's Office, process it as instructed, and return it to the Registrar's Office. The grade to be recorded by the instructor may be "W" (withdrawal with passing grade) the third through eleventh week. From the beginning of the twelfth week through the Friday prior to Finals, the instructor's signature on the withdrawal form indicates approval to award "WP" for the final grade. Instructors may choose not to sign the document, indicating students have earned a "WF," which will convert to an "F" on the transcript. The date for last attendance is required for all W, WP and WF grades. For a student to withdraw from all classes, he or she must secure a withdrawal sheet from the Registrar's Office.

Per academic policy established by the Oklahoma State Regents, instructors, authorized by the Office of Academic Affairs, may also assign an "AW" [an involuntary administrative withdrawal that is GPA neutral] for students who fail to attend a single class within the first two weeks. Instructors may also assign an "AW" in weeks 3-12 for those students whose absences will prevent them from attending a minimum of 75% of instructional time for the semester. While instructors may establish a more stringent attendance policy that will preempt the minimum of 75% if such policy is clearly stated in the class syllabus, the maximum number of absences for a 3-credit hour course is noted below (based on attending a minimum of 1800 minutes of the 2400 minutes required by State Regents).

16-week courses meeting MWF: 12 absences

16-week courses meeting TR: 8 absences

8-week courses meeting MWF: 6 absences

8-week courses meeting TR: 4 absences

4-week courses meeting MTWR: 4 absences

An “AW” may not be assigned after week 12 in a 16-week course (or after week 6 in an 8-week course). Another option exists, however, for students who have stayed in the class, tried hard, but are struggling to pass. In this situation, after consultation with the instructor, the student can sign a “WP” drop slip that the instructor can turn in prior to submitting final grades. There must also be a very clear, written agreement between instructor and student of the conditions under which the student would like for the drop slip to be submitted. The pre-signed drop slip should not become a standard default for students. Under most circumstances, a student not satisfied with his or her grade should withdraw from the class prior to finals week. Students who have not withdrawn, or made other arrangements with the instructor prior to final exams, shall receive the grade earned in the course. We are to encourage student responsibility, and it is each student’s individual responsibility to protect his or her transcript through a proper withdrawal. Neither an “I” (Incomplete) nor an “AW” should be recorded as a final grade for a student who has stopped attending in the final weeks of class and cannot be contacted to determine the reason. In that situation, students should receive the grade earned in this course. If instructors later learn of an emergency that contributed to the attendance problems, that instructor has the prerogative to submit a grade change after working with the student to complete coursework.

Oklahoma State Regent Policy can be found in Chapter 3, on page 117 of the Policy and Procedures Manual (<http://www.okhighered.org/state-system/policy-procedures/2011/Chapter%203- March%202011.pdf>).

4.7.3 Examinations

Final examinations will be given at the regular periods scheduled by the Office of Academic Affairs. Any exceptions to the finals schedule must have prior approval from the Office of Academic Affairs. Changes in final exam schedule will be approved only for emergencies or circumstances beyond a student’s control. This schedule is posted online each semester. Summer session examinations may be given either in the last class period, or last two class periods, as the instructor desires.

Make-up examinations are given at the discretion of the instructor but must not be scheduled so that they interfere with the regular class periods of other instructors of the same students.

4.7.4 Student Advisement

Each student, upon entering Northern, is assigned an academic adviser. All full-time faculty serves as academic advisors. In this role, faculty should encourage students to schedule appointments with them each semester to discuss their plan of study and should be proactive in tracking advisees’ progress toward degree as well as any issues related to the early alert system. Students are encouraged to confer with academic advisors on all matters relating to course programs.

4.7.5 Disciplinary Action

Non-academic student disciplinary procedures, when deemed necessary, should be referred to the Dean of Students for the Tonkawa or Enid campus or Student Conduct Officer for the Stillwater location. Academic integrity issues should be reported to the direct academic supervisor (faculty liaisons for adjuncts or division chairs for full-time faculty), or the VPAA. If disciplinary action results in dismissal or suspension, the student may submit a written appeal following the procedures noted in the Course Catalog and Student Handbook, found at the following link:

4.7.6 Student Complaints

Students who wish to lodge complaints against an instructor should be encouraged to follow an appropriate chain of command. For complaints against the instructor, students should first speak directly to the instructor in question and try to resolve the issue. If the issue cannot be resolved, the student should next be directed to the division chair and then the Vice President for Academic Affairs. The instructor and/or division chair might be asked to participate in later meetings with the student present if deemed appropriate for resolving the issue.

Students who wish to lodge a complaint against an institutional policy or procedure should contact the supervisor most closely related to the issue and then follow the chain of authority if further assistance is required.

While many issues can be quickly resolved by discussing the matter with an appropriate supervisor, students who wish to lodge a formal institutional complaint—whether it be related to the classroom experience, student support services, ADA guidelines, or any other matter—should be directed to complete the online Student Grievance Form, including the required signature and contact information so they can be notified of any resolution related to the issue. Students unable to complete the form may receive assistance in doing so by visiting the Office of Student Affairs on the Tonkawa campuses, the Administration Office in Enid, or the Administration Office in Stillwater. All Student Grievance Forms are reviewed by a supervisor in the appropriate area, both to address individual issues and to identify common areas where procedures may need to be revised.

In addition, students should refer to the procedures in the “Student Guide to Rights and Responsibilities” to lodge a complaint against an institution at the state or federal level.

The State policy for handling student complaints is reflected in the following Wording from the Oklahoma State Regents for Higher Education:

“At this time, current and prospective student complaints are handled through OSRHE Academic Affairs Office by reviewing the circumstances of the complaint and providing the individual with contact information for the most appropriate campus office with the authority to resolve the complaint. If the individual has exhausted the process for review and appeal at the institution and believes the complaint is unresolved, OSRHE staff requests permission to contact the institution on their behalf to identify any possible resolution. OSRHE staff remains in contact with the student to determine if their issue has been resolved or adequately addressed.”

The Higher Learning Commission, serving as the accrediting agency for the institution, has established the following procedure for complaints:

Each year, the Commission receives a number of complaints about institutions from faculty, students, and other parties. The Commission has established a clear distinction between individual grievances and complaints that appear to involve broad institutional practices. Where a complaint does raise issues regarding the institution’s ongoing ability to meet the Criteria of Accreditation, the Commission forwards the complaint to the institution and requests a formal response.

Questions about HLC policy can be emailed to complaints@hlcommission.org.

4.7.7 Student Records and Reports

Transcripts of student records are kept on file in the Registrar’s Office. Faculty may consult the records of their advisees.

Records of disciplinary problems and organizations in which a student is active are compiled and kept in the Office of Student Affairs in Tonkawa and in the office of the Vice President in Enid and Stillwater.

At the close of a semester or session each faculty member completes a grade report on Campus Connect, showing the names of students having enrolled in each course taught, the grade assigned in the course, and the last date of attendance for students who have withdrawn. Timely completion of this grade report is vital so that grades can be submitted to partner institutions and students can remain eligible for scholarships and transfer of credits. Failure to meet the deadline for a final grade report may be considered reason for dismissal unless extreme extenuating circumstances exist.

The deadline for final grade reports is announced each semester and is posted on the academic calendar distributed during faculty orientation and in-service meetings. Faculty members may also verify these dates with their supervisors, the Office of Academic Affairs, and/or the Registrar’s Office. The faculty’s promptness in submitting the final grade reports is very important. The final evaluation and assignment of grades recorded rest wholly with the individual instructor.

4.7.8 Grades and Grade Points

A – Superior: 4 grade points per semester hour. Highest level of achievement, indicative of originality, resourcefulness, and exceptional general competence.

B – Above Average: 3 grade points per semester hour. Achievement of excellent rank; better than average, but somewhat less marked than that of “A” rank.

C – Average: 2 grade points per semester hour. Scholastic attainment of medium quality, representative of the large middle segment of the student group; clearly better than minimum, but not outstanding.

D – Below Average: 1 grade point per semester hour. Achievement of a minimum “passing” grade, although lower than average of all grades required for graduation.

F – Failing: No grade points. Unsatisfactory achievement in the course; failure to meet minimum course requirements for credit allowance; course, if required, must be repeated with higher grade.

P: These grades are used in specific courses at the discretion of the instructor with prior approval of the Vice President for Academic Affairs. The Pass grade indicates hours earned but does not contribute the GPA.

I – Incomplete: An “I” may be assigned as a grade to allow the student to complete the course no later than eight weeks after the final date of the semester in which the course was taken. Guidelines for conditions warranting an “I” include the following:

- a. Prolonged illness,
- b. Personal emergencies preventing completion of final papers or projects. The issuance of an “I” is a decision made by the instructor after conferring with the student. Incomplete course work should be completed within eight (8) weeks after the final date of semester in which the course was taken unless extreme circumstances exist and are documented by the instructor at the time the Incomplete is assigned. If work has not been completed by the eight-week deadline, the instructor may assign a letter grade based on the grade earned or allow the “I” to become a permanent grade.

W – Withdrawn: Disregarded in computing grade average. No grade assigned.

Faculty Record-Keeping Policy: All faculty should retain copies of any graded work (including papers and exams) that is part of the final grade calculation but was not returned to students for a minimum of one year. These records should be retained in the event of a grade appeal. Adjunct faculty should provide a copy of complete grade records for all assignments included in the calculation of final grades to their direct supervisor (faculty liaison or division chair) at the end of each semester. Non-returning full-time faculty should provide a copy of these complete grade records to their supervising division chair or to Academic Affairs for the last full academic year of their service.

4.7.9 Academic Appeals

While at Northern instructors are expected to be fair in their grading systems and grading practices, occasionally a student may question whether or not he/she has received a proper grade in a course and may question whether there is an error in the recording, averaging or information transfer process. The first step is to go to the instructor personally and request that the grade be checked for error. If there is no error in processing, the student may ask the instructor to explain how the grade was calculated and to reconsider. The student may courteously present his/her rationale as to why he/she believes a different grade would be more fair or appropriate.

After the conference with the instructor, if a student still feels that the grade is unfair, he/she may go to the instructor's division chair and present his/her views. The division chair will investigate and attempt to adjudicate the situation with an outcome satisfactory to both the student and the instructor. If the issue cannot be satisfactorily resolved by the division chair, it may be referred to the Vice President for Academic Affairs, who will ask the student to present his/her appeal in written form. Official academic appeals must be submitted in writing from the student to the Vice President of Academic Affairs no later than one month following the date the final grade is recorded for the semester in question.

The written appeal will be reviewed by the Vice President for Academic Affairs. If the appeal is determined to have validity, the Vice President will call an advisory or hearing committee including professional staff and one student to consider the matter. Upon receiving the advice and counsel of the group, the Vice President may or may not direct the Registrar to change the grade. In either case, the Vice President will report the findings of the appeal to the student in writing.

4.7.10 Course Auditors

A student who wishes to audit a class must inform the instructor and apply to the Registrar Office for enrollment. Students who audit a course pay the regular enrollment fee. Full-time faculty members may audit courses without charge.

4.7.11 Veterans

Veteran students who are receiving veterans' benefits are referred to the Veteran's Coordinator for specific regulations concerning their matriculation requirements.

4.7.12 Field Trip Regulations

Field trips refer to all extra-class activities such as organizational travel, athletic trips, and music appearances.

Field trips that are no longer than the regular class period may be planned at any time. Academic field trips that result in absence from other classes must be approved by the Office of Academic Affairs; student organization field trips must be approved by the Dean of Students in Tonkawa and Enid or the Vice President for NOC Stillwater; and athletic trips must be approved by the Athletic Director. Arrangements should be made as follows:

- a. At least two weeks prior to a trip, a travel form is to be filed in order to reserve the transportation.
- b. At least three days before the trip, all faculty members will be notified of absentees via email or hardcopy.

4.7.13 Course Modes of Delivery

Note: In all of the following modes of delivery, Northern faculty members are required to post syllabi to their Blackboard pages and to use Blackboard to post schedule updates and assignments in the event of inclement weather. The following definitions describe existing modes of delivery; however, all Northern classes are either web-enhanced, hybrid, or online due to requirements for the use of Blackboard and HLC accreditation guidelines. In addition, all modes of delivery require adherence to minimum course competencies and objectives as established by the academic division and supported by syllabi submitted to the division chair and Academic Affairs.

a. Traditional

A class is considered “traditional” when instruction relies solely upon face-to-face instruction with 800 minutes of seat time per credit hour issued—e.g. 50 minutes of a class meeting 3 times a week for 16 weeks, 75 minutes of a class meeting 2 times a week for 16 weeks, or 150 minutes of a class meeting 1 time a week for 16 weeks.

b. Web-enhanced

A web-enhanced class is one in which a Learning Management System (e.g. Blackboard) is used for posting notes and/or homework assignments as a supplement to traditional class meetings. Because faculty are required to post syllabi and grade updates on Blackboard for classes, all classes may be considered web-enhanced.

c. Hybrid

A hybrid class represents a mixture of traditional and online elements with a minimum of 65% face-to-face instructional time and the use of a Learning Management System (e.g. Blackboard) as a supplement for either synchronous or asynchronous learning with the expectation of student interaction with other students and the teacher.

d. Online Live

An online live class is one that meets at established times as noted for traditional class delivery but allows web access for students to attend class from their homes or other non-campus locations through delivery modes such as Zoom. Students must have access to a computer camera and microphone to be seen and heard in class participation.

Online

An online class is one in which 75% or more of the instruction occurs through the use of a Learning Management System such as Blackboard. All faculty who wishes to teach an online course must complete a Quality Matters training prior to offering the course. Learning in an online course may be both synchronous and asynchronous but with internal deadlines requiring students to log in a minimum average of once a week. As with traditional classes, instructors teaching online courses are expected to provide regular feedback to students as part of the instructional process. In addition, instructors are expected to respond to emails, voicemails, and/or text messages in a timely manner, preferably within 48 hours.

Note: All online courses also require students to take one proctored exam to authenticate identity of students enrolled in distance education. Instructors should provide further information about this requirement in their syllabi as students must make arrangements early in the semester for this proctored exam to insure adequate scheduling of testing center hours. Students may test at any Northern campus testing site—the Enid location, the Stillwater location, or the Tonkawa campus—or at another official testing site (e.g. a university in another community) if pre-approved by the instructor. If instructor-approved, ProcturU may also be utilized for offsite testing. Students should be made aware in the syllabus of the potential for a small testing fee if they do not take the exam at an NOC site.

f. Correspondence

A correspondence course is a self-paced course in which instructional materials are delivered by mail or electronic transmission with limited student-instructor interaction, primarily initiated by the student. Currently, Northern is not authorized by its accrediting agency, the Higher Learning Commission, to offer correspondence courses.

4.7.13.1 Other Definitions for Coursework

- a. ITV: Interactive television courses—delivery might be traditional, web-enhanced, or hybrid.
- b. Supervised Study: Project-based courses allowing students opportunity to investigate topics in depth not covered in other coursework. All supervised study courses must have prior approval from the division chair and Academic Affairs with submission of a syllabus to clarify meeting times required, whether face-to-face or online. Documentation submitted should support how the assignments will be appropriate for the number of credit hours awarded, based on the anticipated hours required to complete the work and the competencies addressed.
- c. Arranged: Individualized instruction used to meet program requirements for graduation—i.e. a private voice or music lesson or program course out of sequence for the student's timely completion of degree. Any course taught by arrangement must be approved by the instructor, division chair, and Vice President for Academic Affairs. Only courses required for the degree program will be considered for arrangement. Only courses that have not been scheduled in the current year or in which there is a schedule conflict may be considered for arrangement. No course being repeated may be taken by arrangement. A student may appeal to the Office of Academic Affairs in the event of a special situation not covered by the preceding guidelines.

4.7.14 Study Abroad Program

Northern Oklahoma College has as part of its mission a commitment to help students “create life-changing experiences and develop as effective learners and leaders within their communities in a connected, ever-changing” (Mission Statement) both within the classroom environment and with experiential learning programs.

Study abroad programs demonstrate Northern’s commitment to its Vision Statement of being “a model institution and leader in academic quality and cultural enrichment, promoting student success, collaborative learning, creative and forward thinking, and community responsiveness.”

4.7.14.1 Objectives

- a. Advance learning and scholarship
- b. Link academic learning with actual experience.
- c. Expand perspectives on people, culture, and events in a way no other experience can equal.
- d. Generate respect among different people.
- e. Enhance the resume when seeking entrance to academic and professional programs or when seeking employment.
- f. Build the confidence, leadership qualities, and critical thinking skills employers desires.

4.7.14.2 Types of Study Abroad Programs

- a. Short Term--These programs are normally arranged through a travel company. These companies provide escorted tours to help student groups to "learn it by living it" when they experience firsthand the historic, cultural and natural sights in the world. These contracts include flights, ground transportation, comfortable hotel accommodations, most meals, and the guidance and support of a full-time tour director.
- b. Semester or Summer Program--These programs are established and led by individual full-time Northern faculty members through their relationships with colleagues throughout the world. Students typically live in college or university housing, attend class on a daily basis, and have the use of college dining and library facilities while participating in these programs. Tour and travel are part of the academic experience within the location, and on weekends students can experience the surrounding environs. The faculty member directs the entire experience.

The Guidelines for conducting Study Abroad Programs can be found by logging in to myNOC, selecting the employee tab, and choosing the Study Abroad Guidelines link.

4.8 Academic Integrity

Northern as an academic community considers student learning its utmost priority and considers academic integrity a major catalyst to the higher education process. To that end, all forms of academic misconduct and dishonesty are serious matters and warrant serious attention. Academic dishonesty includes, but is not limited to, cases of cheating and plagiarism and is, at the very least, subject to disciplinary action by the instructor of record. More serious infractions will warrant disciplinary actions by the College. The distinction of an intentional or unintentional academic infraction originates with the instructor of record. Consultation with faculty liaisons, division chairs and/or other faculty members may be needed to clarify the nature of said infraction. Note that all faculty are required to use this statement as a foundation for academic infractions; however, due to the differing missions and policies within each department/division, specific procedures may be more stringent. The definitions of cheating and plagiarism are further discussed, as well as the protocol for dealing with these infractions.

a. Cheating

Cheating is a serious infraction of academic integrity and as such is not tolerated at NOC. Generally, cheating exists when someone fabricates and or manipulates his or her work, or the work of others, in order to impact grades or standing in the academic process. Specifically, cheating includes, but is not limited to, instances where work is turned in that is not one's own, copying others' answers in exams and/or papers, infiltration of grading systems, use of deception in acquisition of answers in course requirements, and/or instances of forgery. Instances of cheating should never be accepted for credit without review. In more grievous forms, sanctions should be employed by the instructor of record. Protocols for both unintentional and intentional academic infractions are set forth below.

b. Plagiarism

Plagiarism is an unacceptable and prohibited practice and incompatible with the educational mission of Northern. Since plagiarism always carries with it consequences, all students are expected to be familiar, at a functional level, with the rules for avoiding plagiarism.

Instructors should distinguish between unintentional and intentional plagiarism.

- a. Unintentional plagiarism (i.e., the incidental use of another's ideas or works without proper attribution) arises from a lack of understanding of the rules of citation and quotation and/or poor revision or proofreading. Unintentional plagiarism can often occur as well when students write summaries or paraphrases that too closely resemble the original version or when students do not understand where a writer's ideas end and another's begin. While unintentionally plagiarized work should not be accepted for credit and must be revised, instructors will deal with it as an educational issue.
- b. Intentional plagiarism is a deliberate act of academic dishonesty in which an individual knowingly represents the work or knowledge of another person as one's own, knowingly incorporates into one's work the words or ideas of another person without clear attribution, fails to acknowledge clearly the partial or full authorship of someone else when submitting a work, and/or consistently fails to cite or quote textual resources properly.

4.8.1 Unintentional Academic Infractions

As noted above, unintentional plagiarism is to be regarded as an educational matter. No plagiarized work, whether intentional or not, will be counted toward a passing grade; however, in the case of unintentional plagiarism, the student should normally be allowed to revise or rewrite the work for credit, correcting all plagiarism problems in consultation with the instructor. The instructor should impose clear guidelines, including a deadline for any rewritten or revised material in such a case. In these instances, the following protocol should be utilized:

- a. The work in question should be brought to the attention of the student by the instructor.
- b. The instructor should discuss and demonstrate the correct manner in which the student is required to have completed the questioned academic work so that the student has an example of the academic expectations and the proper way to complete them.
- c. The instructor should make documentation noting the incident and the steps taken to rectify the situation.

4.8.2 Intentional Academic Infractions

Any student deemed to have knowingly and intentionally engaged in academic misconduct or dishonesty shall be subject to the following procedures at the discretion of the instructor of record. The instructor of record will need to have convincing evidence of the infraction. For example, originality report, copy of suspected exams, or witness statements of infraction.

- a. The student in question will be contacted by the instructor of record and made aware of the nature of the infraction. It is recommended that the instructor consult with the chair of the division and ask the chair to be present at the student meeting if deemed necessary.
- b. At any time, an intentional act of plagiarism has occurred, it is the instructor's responsibility to notify the Vice President for Academic Affairs.
- c. The instructor will inform the student of any disciplinary action to be initiated. The instructor of record will exercise one of the following options:
 1. Require student to complete additional work that may or may not be worth the same number of points possible for the original assignment.
 2. Award a grade reduction for the assignment, exam, or course. *
 3. Award a grade of "F" for the course. *
 4. Recommend to the Vice President for Academic Affairs that suspension or expulsion actions be taken by the College, including for grievous instances a notation on the transcript that students were expelled for academic dishonesty.

*The instructor of record shall document the incident whether intentional or unintentional. Any intentional infraction meriting a grade reduction should be forwarded to the division chair.

4.9 Textbook Adoption and Rental

After divisional schedules are submitted to the Office of Academic Affairs each semester, the bookstore requests course booklists from each faculty member. The book approval process is outlined on the book adoption form. Faculty members should anticipate special needs (i.e., outline maps, paperback books, use of e-books, etc.) well in advance and advise the Bookstore Manager in writing. If possible, these special needs should be included with the semester booklists.

Given the cost of new textbooks for students, instructors are expected to use a given text for a minimum of two years unless special circumstances dictate a change. Exceptions must be approved by the division chair and the Office of Academic Affairs. Some courses provide the option for the rental of texts as described below.

Faculty members should order desk copies of textbooks from the publisher prior to the start of the semester. The division chair can assist faculty members with the process. In the event that a desk copy is not available at the start of the semester, faculty members may receive desk copies of textbooks from the bookstore. At the end of each semester, the Bookstore Manager will charge the department/division for the books not returned to the bookstore. When the desk copy arrives, the faculty member should return the bookstore copy to the bookstore and credit will be issued to the appropriate division/department.

4.9.1 Textbook Rental Guidelines

- a. The textbook rental adoption policy requires that titles normally be retained for a minimum of a two-year period. Exceptions must be approved by the Office of Academic Affairs unless a title becomes unavailable to the bookstore.
- c. Books are not automatically updated when a new edition becomes available. A request for a new edition may be submitted as a new book order, subject to the two-year policy.
- d. Books will be purchased from used book companies when available. A request for all new books will be evaluated on an individual basis.
- e. There is a $10 minimum for any book purchased for the rental service.
- f. Supplemental texts covered by the rental program may be ordered through the bookstore to be purchased by students.
- g. When a book is no longer used, the text will be discarded at the discretion of the bookstore.
- h. Textbooks for workshops, seminars, workbooks, books containing software access codes, and other one-time offerings are not available through the rental program.

4.10 Instructional Support- Library

4.10.1 Northern Oklahoma College Libraries

The College libraries provide support of instruction at all levels of commitment. The College library on the Tonkawa campus houses circulation materials, reference materials, bound and current periodicals, periodical indexes, and computers for access to the electronic card catalog, electronic databases, and the internet. Individual study carrels are available on the east side of the library along with media equipment. Other study areas are available throughout the library. The library at NOC Enid is located on the second floor of the Zollars building. The Zollars Library houses circulation material, reference materials, current periodicals, and computers for access to the electronic card catalog, electronic databases and the internet. Study tables are available on the west side of the library, while individual study carrels are available on the north side. Media rooms are accessible on the east side of the library.

4.10.2 Circulation Policies

General collection materials are checked out to faculty on a two-week basis. However, if the faculty member requests it, the material may be checked out for up to one year. Reference materials will be checked out to faculty if needed. Current and bound periodicals may be checked out to faculty or staff only.

4.10.3 Reserve Collections

Reserve collections are maintained at the circulation desks of Tonkawa and Enid libraries. If an instructor wishes to place books on reserve, he or she should contact the Access Service Librarian at the desired location. The faculty must decide what type of reserve checkout is needed: in-library use only, one day, one week, etc. The faculty will be contacted at the end of each semester to pick up personal items on reserve or to resubmit the items for the next term.

4.10.4 Collection Development

The collection development policy is intended to be a statement of the guidelines used for acquiring and maintaining material for the library collections at Northern Oklahoma College. These guidelines are based upon the ALA Guidelines for University Library Services to Undergraduate Students. The library in cooperation with college teaching faculty is responsible for developing the monographs collection; coordinating the collection review process; and acquiring library materials. College faculty are expected to take an active role in selecting library materials. Any faculty member may request material be added to the libraries' collections. All requests should be designated for the Tonkawa library or the Enid library or, if necessary, both.

4.10.5 Library Instruction

Librarians or library aides are available in Tonkawa and Enid for classroom instruction, library orientation, or other specialized instruction. Faculty should contact the library prior to bringing classes to either library.

4.10.6 Intra-Library or Inter-Library Loans

All material owned by the College are available through courier service to any faculty member, regardless of campus assignment. These intra-library loans may be facilitated through the Tonkawa library or the Enid library, and material may be returned at either location. Interlibrary loans may be processed for material not owned by Northern Oklahoma College libraries.

5.0 STAFF POLICIES AND PROCEDURES

5.1 Recruitment and Selection

5.1.1 Advertising

Vacant position notices for all jobs shall be posted internally for three work days. A job may be posted externally at the same time period.

For all locations, the internal posting requirement will be met with an email to NOC employees notifying of the job opportunity. In addition, a printed posting will normally be placed on the bulletin board located in the Office of Human Resources. For external posting the job will be placed on the Northern Oklahoma College website on the Human Resources: Prospective Employee web page (www.noc.edu/prospective-employee), along with local newspapers. Jobs may be posted on other online sites at the request of the supervisor.

It is recommended that full-time, permanent, administrative and executive positions be posted nationally. It is recommended that these positions be posted for a minimum of three weeks.

The Staff Assistant for Human Resources will place any advertisements and the budget of the appropriate department will pay for the advertisement.

5.1.2 Selection and Employment

5.1.2.1 Application for Employment

Persons who wish to be considered for employment should complete and submit to the Office of Human Resources the Application for Employment form, which can be found at the NOC website on the Employment Opportunities web page (<http://www.noc.edu/employment-opportunities/>)

Other materials including the Application for Employment form is required for some positions. These materials will be referenced in the job posting.

5.1.2.2 Interview Process

Supervisors shall review applications for employment on file with the Office of Human Resources. The supervisor and the appropriate vice president will complete interviews and recommend an applicant for the position by completing the Position Interview Sheet indicating all applicants interviewed and the selected potential new employee.

Full-time, permanent, administrative and executive positions should be interviewed by a screening committee of a minimum of three individuals. The screening committee will provide strengths and weaknesses of each candidate to the hiring manager.

5.1.2.3 Recommendation for Employment

The supervisor shall submit the Position Interview Sheet to the Office of Human Resources upon completion. In addition, the Request for Personnel Action Form must be completed by both the supervisor and the potential new employee. The potential new employee must complete the Background Authorization forms. Employment is contingent upon a satisfactory Background and is not to begin until these forms are routed through the assigned channels to the President for employment approval.

5.1.2.4 Employment

After final approval from the President of the Request for Personnel Action Form, Position Interview Sheet, and Background Screening, the supervisor notifies the employee that the screening process is complete and he or she is able to begin work. For full-time employees, the supervisor will call and schedule an appointment for the new employee with the Benefits Coordinator to complete the official employment process. Hourly employees should contact the Office of Human Resources or designated personnel in Enid or Stillwater. The immediate supervisor will begin the new employee orientation utilizing the new employee checklist.

5.1.3 Follow-Up

Once the selection has been made, all applications and supporting documents shall be forwarded to the Office of Human Resources for reference and filing. The Office of Human Resources will file all applications in the personnel file. The Staff Assistant for Human Resources is responsible for sending letters to the unsuccessful applicants notifying them that the position has been filled. The Office of Human Resources shall verify that all necessary employment documents are complete before directing the information to the Payroll Officer for State of Oklahoma payroll processing.

5.1.4 Conditions of Employment

The following forms must be completed in the Office of Human Resources, or as otherwise designated. Other forms may be required in addition to those listed:

5.1.4.1 Employee's Withholding Allowance Certification (W-4 form)

Federal law requires all employees to complete and sign a W-4 form. When the W-4 form is changed, an additional state form must be completed as well. The employee must present a current Social Security card with the completed W-4 form. A copy of the Social Security card will be placed in the employee's personnel file.

5.1.4.2 Employment Eligibility Verification (I-9 form)

Federal law requires all persons employed after November 6, 1986, to complete Form I-9 and to provide certain documents that prove identity and eligibility for employment in the United States.

5.1.4.3 Drug-Free Workplace Policy

All employees are required to sign an Acknowledgment of Understanding and Compliance with the Drug-Free Workplace Policy.

5.1.4.4 Health Policy

The College may request a physical, psychological, or psychiatric examination from an applicant for employment after a job offer is extended or from an employee returning to work from leave that resulted from an injury or illness. Whether such a request is made will be determined solely by the administration and the examination will be at College expense. Compliance with a request for examination is a condition of employment.

If the examination shows that the individual is unable to perform the principal job duties, with or without reasonable accommodation, the job offer will be withdrawn, or in the case of a returning employee, he or she may not be permitted to return. Questions regarding accommodation for disabilities (under the Americans with Disabilities Act) may be presented to the Vice President for Student Affairs at 580.628.6240.

5.1.4.5 Background Screening

Northern Oklahoma College conducts background checks on all final job candidates excluding students. All criminal background screens are conducted post-offer (contingency offer). However, as part of Title VII of the Civil Rights Act, this information cannot be used as a basis for denying employment, unless it is determined to be job-related. Northern Oklahoma College may also use a third party administrator to conduct background screenings. The type of information that can be collected by this agency includes, but is not limited to, a criminal background check, social security trace, education, employment history, credit, and professional and personal references. This process is conducted to verify the accuracy of the information provided by the candidate and determine his or her suitability for employment.

5.1.5 Types of Appointments

Appointments are for the fiscal year, July 1 through June 30, unless otherwise stated on the Employee Action Form. This appointment does not change an employee's "at-will" status.

Northern Oklahoma College is an "at-will" employer. The contents included in this Handbook in no way modify or amend the right of the College as an "at-will" employer in originating or terminating employment of personnel. "At-will" employment is for no specified term and is terminable at the will of either the employee or employer. Promises or representations made by anyone except the President of Northern Oklahoma College concerning the conditions of employment, express or implied, do not negate the right of the College to terminate employment at any time, without notice and with or without cause.

Positions at Northern Oklahoma College are categorized as one of the following:

5.1.5.1 Full-Time Salaried Employees

Full-time salaried employees are those employees who work at least 40 hours per week and maintain continuous regular employment status.

5.1.5.2 Part-Time Salaried Employees

Part-time salaried employees are those employees who work 30 hours or less per week and who maintain continuous regular employment status. Employees in this classification are designated either certain working hours or a task assignment to perform with flexible hours. Compensation is based upon monthly salary.

5.1.5.3 Hourly Employees

Hourly employees are those employees who normally work fewer than 30 hours per week, are considered temporary, and have job assignments with an hourly rate of compensation. Hourly employees are not eligible for retirement, leave, vacation, insurance, or other similar benefits. The President is authorized by the Board of Regents to select full-time employees and to make appointments. Part-time and temporary employees may be employed by the President as required to carry on institutional programs. The President is encouraged to seek the advice and counsel of others in the selection process. Involvement of the proper vice president and supervisor is appropriate in the selection of staff. An advisory committee should be of assistance in choosing a vice president or other major administrator with supervisory authority over a number of employees. The Board must utilize an advisory committee of internal and external persons in selection of a president.

5.1.5.4 Volunteers

Occasionally, volunteers assist with activities or programs. These volunteers must comply with the policies and procedures of the College. Volunteers do not receive compensation or benefits.

5.1.6 Overload Teaching for Staff

An employee may teach a class as contractual faculty in a subject area for which he or she is qualified if his or her services are needed and it does not interfere with the duties for which the employee was hired or detract from the employee's ability to do his or her job at Northern Oklahoma College. Employees are limited to teaching 3 credit hours per semester. The class must meet after 5:30 p.m. or outside the staff member's designated working hours. Preparation, grading and all other activities associated with the class should not be done during regular office hours.

Per Fair Labor Standards Act, employees classified as Exempt will be compensated at the adjunct rate. Non-exempt employees will be compensated at time and one-half of their primary job responsibility hourly rate. These teaching assignments are approved at the discretion of the President.

To apply for an adjunct teaching position, the employee will need to submit a transcript and letter of interest to the Division Chair in that area and must have a completed application packet on file before the semester begins. If there is a need for course coverage, eighteen hours of completed coursework in the discipline are normally required for all adjunct positions, and a master's degree is required in most areas. Compensation for this teaching will be detailed and paid on an overload pay schedule. A Request for Personnel Action must be completed for the available coursework with signatures of the employee being considered, the division chair, and the Vice President for Academic Affairs.

5.1.7 Outside Employment

An employee may engage in outside business or financial interest as long as it does not create a conflict of interest or interfere with the duties for which the employee was hired or detract from the employee's ability to perform his or her job at Northern Oklahoma College.

An employee may engage in outside activities; however, the College may collect information routinely. Procedures for advance clearance of certain types of activities may be required and arranged. If the nature of the extra activity, or the time and effort on the part of the employee result in a conflict with his or her college employment, the activity may require reduction or elimination. Use of college resources including supplies and equipment is prohibited.

5.2 Employment Policies

Northern Oklahoma College is an "at will" employer. The contents included in this Handbook in no way modify or amend the right of the College as an "at will" employer in originating or terminating employment of personnel. "At will" employment is for no specified term and is terminable at the will of either the employee or employer. Promises or representations made by anyone except the President of Northern Oklahoma College concerning the conditions of employment, express or implied, do not negate the right of the College to terminate employment at any time, without notice, and with or without cause.

- a. Hiring, promoting, transferring, disciplining, and terminating employees in accordance with college policies;

- g. Amending, revising, revoking, or issuing policies and rules governing college employees.

5.2.2 Employee Provisions

Full-time salaried employees may:

- 1. Be appraised on job-related criteria;
- 2. Express employee concerns and complaints;
- 3. Be expected to work in a safe environment;
- 4. expect reasonable and nondiscriminatory application of the Northern Oklahoma College Board of Regents, College, and departmental policies and rules; and

5.2.3 Falsification

Any false, incomplete, or incorrect statement, answer or representation, given intentionally or unintentionally by any person, either orally or in writing, pertaining to availability, acceptability, or eligibility for employment in any department, school, classification, or position at Northern Oklahoma College, or pertaining to personal information or background information on any authorized form, record or file, may result in refusal of employment by Northern Oklahoma College. If such information is found after employment, appropriate disciplinary action up to, and including, termination may be taken.

5.2.4 Vacancies

In order to be considered for a vacancy, an employee should apply through the Office of Human Resources.

1. Initial Employment

Initial Employment Initial Employment refers to placing an individual on the payroll for the first time.

2. Reinstatement

Reinstatement refers to placing a former employee with at least two years of continuous service on the payroll after a break in service of six months or less.

3. Re-employment

Re-employment refers to placing a former employee on the payroll after a break in service of more than six months.

- b. Promotion - Promotion is defined as the advancement of an employee to a classification with a higher pay range.
- c. Transfer - A transfer occurs when an employee moves from one position to another position of equivalent responsibility within the same pay range.
- d. Demotion - Demotion is defined as the movement of an employee to a classification with a lower pay range. Demotions may be either disciplinary or non-disciplinary.

5.2.6 Promotions and Transfers

Transfers can be made in order to provide equitable consideration and opportunity for qualified employees to fill job vacancies at Northern Oklahoma College. An employee desiring to transfer should discuss possibilities with his or her supervisor. Employees being considered for promotions or transfers will be required to agree to a background screening check and the promotion/transfer is contingent upon receiving necessary approvals on a completed Personnel Action Form.

The College encourages the upward mobility of employees to positions for which they are qualified and which meet their career interests and objectives.

Promotion will be based on qualifications such as experience, education, attendance, ability, and other job-related factors.

- a. An employee interested in promotional opportunities must provide the Office of Human Resources with updated employment application material as positions open.
- b. When an employee transfers to a different department, all sick leave and annual leave balances transfer with the employee.

5.2.7 Reinstatement

An employee with two or more years of continuous full-time service before termination under satisfactory conditions, upon application and completion of proper documents, may be reinstated by the College within six (6) months following termination, contingent on recommendation of the department supervisor and approval of the President. Reinstatement is possible only if a vacancy for which the person is qualified exists. Such an employee will have sick and annual leave accrual rates restored to his or her employment record.

5.2.8 Re-Employment

An employee who terminates his or her employment under satisfactory conditions and who desires to return after six months, may do so upon application and completion of proper documents, with a recommendation from the department supervisor and approval by the President, if a vacancy exists for which the person is qualified. The returning employee in this category would return with no restoration of previous sick and annual leave accrual rates.

5.2.9 Probationary Period

A probationary period is used to evaluate an individual's ability to perform his or her assigned duties; communicate effectively with co-workers; follow directions, rules, and policies; work in harmony with co-workers; and present a positive image of the College. The end of the probationary period does not indicate permanent employment. The College maintains its right to employ "at-will" and may choose not to renew an appointment to a position, regardless of probationary status.

All full-time salaried and part-time, new-hire and rehire employees are considered to be on probation during the first twelve months of employment. During this period, a supervisor will closely monitor the performance of the probationary employee to determine fitness for the position. Probationary fulltime employees are eligible for benefits.

The probationary period is a time during which the employee demonstrates the skills and abilities necessary to perform the duties assigned. Every supervisor should routinely keep notes on each employee's performance, and especially document counseling sessions. As an employee's evaluation period, prior to completion of the first twelve months of service, approaches, those notes should be reviewed to consider whether the probationary employee should be retained. All Performance Evaluation Forms are to be forwarded to the Office of Human Resources, where they become a part of the employee's permanent file.

5.2.9.1 Promotion

Upon promotion to a new classification, an employee shall be placed in a three-month probationary period to allow the department supervisor a sufficient amount of time to measure the efficiency and productivity of the probationary employee. Such probationary periods do not affect an employee's eligibility for accrual or use of college benefits.

5.2.9.2 Transfer or Demotion

A three-month probationary period is also served each time an employee receives a transfer or demotion. Such probationary periods do not affect an employee's eligibility for accrual or use of college benefits.

5.2.10 Performance Evaluations

A Performance Evaluation Form reflecting an employee's progress becomes a permanent part of his or her personnel file. This file is referred to for salary review and promotional considerations and is also used as background material should a supervisor feel the need to discuss improvement in an individual's work.

5.2.10.1 Probationary and Annual Evaluations

Supervisors will evaluate a new employee after ninety (90) days and prior to the first twelve months of service. Annual evaluations will be completed each April thereafter. In addition, supervisors may evaluate an employee more often at his or her discretion.

5.2.11 Termination Clearance Process

Employees should submit resignations to the College in writing. Management personnel are requested to provide one month notice and all others are requested to provide ten work days' notice of resignation. For pay calculation purposes, the employee must be physically present at work on the official date of resignation.

The exiting employee should submit a signed letter of resignation indicating last day of employment to the President's Office with a copy of the resignation letter to the department supervisor and appropriate vice president. The original resignation letter will be forwarded to the Office of Human Resources for inclusion in the employee's permanent record. The salary of an employee whose services are terminated before the end of the month will be pro-rated on the basis of hours worked during the month of termination.

The employee must complete a Faculty and Staff Checkout Clearance Form before the last regular paycheck can be processed. The clearance procedure includes turning in keys, electronic device, parking permits, etc. and clearing all college debts. The form is available in the Office of Human Resources and must be returned there when completed.

Supervisors are responsible for completing the Personnel Action Form and submitting to the Director of Human Resources.

5.3 Compensation and Classification

The compensation and classification program of Northern Oklahoma College is administered by the Vice President for Financial Affairs. The program also provides recognition for differences in individual ability and performance.

5.3.1 Job Descriptions

The College classifies each position in accordance with its functions, duties, responsibilities, and relationship to other positions. Supervisors, with assistance from the Office of Human Resources, develop descriptions for positions specifying the duties, responsibilities, supervision received, supervision given, and the education, training, and experience necessary for a person to function effectively in that position.

5.3.2 Employee Classification

The Vice President for Financial Affairs shall determine and specify, subject to the provisions of the Fair Labor Standards Act, those classifications which shall be exempt. All classifications not specifically determined to be exempt classifications shall be considered non-exempt classifications.

5.3.2.1 Exempt Classification

Exempt classifications are those classifications which shall neither be entitled to the earning of, accrual of nor credit for overtime and/or compensatory time.

5.3.2.2 Non-Exempt Classification

Non-exempt classifications are those classifications which shall be eligible for earning of, and credit for, appropriately authorized overtime and/or compensatory time. These employees, whose work must be documented and maintained in accordance with federal regulations, must maintain detailed records reflecting the actual time worked. The employee's supervisor and the appropriate vice president must approve overtime work in advance, except in cases of emergency.

5.4 Hours of Work

5.4.1 Work Week

For payroll record-keeping purposes, the work week at Northern Oklahoma College begins at 12:01 a.m., Saturday, and ends at 12 midnight, Friday. A full-time salaried employee will normally be scheduled to work 40 hours per work week. Regular daily work hours are from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday through Friday, with one hour off for lunch, coordinated within the department to maintain more coverage for support services. At the discretion of the President, the official work hours may vary during summer months and by location.

In order to accommodate for college activities and events scheduled during evenings or weekends, full-time non-exempt salaried employees may be required to work a flexible 40-hour work week schedule. This 40-hour work week schedule shall be scheduled and approved in advance by the immediate supervisor and appropriate vice president. See below for definitions and policies on altered work weeks.

Definitions:

Core Work Schedule: Defined by the hours when support services are most in demand, the core work schedule is 9-4. Flex time scheduling and alternative work schedules that are approved should focus on maintaining and supporting these hours of operation when possible.

Flex Time: Release time earned when an employee is asked to vary the normal work week by fulfilling a work-related obligation outside of the normal work hours of 8-5 and then is allowed to take an equal amount of time in work release (e.g. working one hour later in the evening to sponsor an institutional event and coming in to work one hour later the following morning). Flex time applies to non-exempt employees only.

Compensatory time: When employees work more than 40 hours a week to meet institutional obligations and are unable to adjust their work week through release time to stay within the 40 hours. Compensatory time applies to non-exempt employees only.

Alternative Work Schedule: A varied work schedule that is based not on institutional obligations but an employee's request for adjustment (e.g. coursework, child care drop-off, or other routine obligations that might fall within the normal 8-5 workday). For purposes of this policy, an alternative work schedule is an ongoing schedule adjustment that lasts one semester or longer. Adjustments for individual days should normally be addressed through the personal leave or annual leave policy.

5.4.1.A Flex time for Non-Exempt Employees

If actual hours worked plus hours paid for but not worked (holidays, annual leave, etc.) exceed 40, the employee will be given flex time at the rate of one hour for each hour worked. Flex time off must be taken during the time designated as the employee's normal work week. The College's policy of giving flex time off in lieu of payment for overtime worked should be followed in every possible situation. Direct any policy exception request to the Vice President for Financial Affairs.

5.4.1.B Compensatory time or Overload Pay for Non-Exempt Employees

Should a non-exempt employee work more than 40 hours during the established work week (See Section 5.4.1, Work Week), he or she will be given compensatory time at the rate of one and one-half hours for each hour worked beyond 40. Holidays, annual leave, sick leave, and flex time off will not be treated as hours worked for the purpose of computing compensatory time at one and one half.

Compensatory time off is to be taken within one year of the date of accumulation. The maximum compensatory time which may be accrued by any affected employee shall be 60 hours. Compensatory time accrued must be used before vacation time. The employee must be permitted to use compensatory time on the date requested by the employee unless the time off would unduly disrupt the operations of the department. Use of compensatory time can also be assigned by a supervisor to allow an employee to be absent from work.

An employee transferring from one department to another is required to use accumulated compensatory time prior to transferring.

If payment of overtime is approved rather than compensatory time, the rate of pay will be calculated using an hourly rate. For regular, salaried 12-month employees, hourly rate equals the annual salary divided by 2080, the product of 52 weeks times 40 hours.

5.4.1.B.1 Authorization

Overtime hours worked and compensated with compensatory time, at a time mutually agreeable between the employee and his or her supervisor, must be approved in advance by the employee's supervisor except in cases of emergency. If a department cannot allow an employee to take flex time off in lieu of working over 40 hours within the work week, the Vice President for Financial Affairs must authorize approval prior to the performance of the overtime work in order to receive authorization to pay overtime wages. Appeals of the decision of the Vice President of Financial Affairs may be made to the President.

5.4.1.C. Alternative Work Schedule Guidelines

Employees (both exempt and non-exempt) may submit a request for an alternative work schedule when they seek a longer-term adjustment that will alter the normal work schedule (e.g. arriving one hour later and leaving one hour later). To be eligible for an alternative work schedule, a request must be submitted each semester and all of the following conditions must be met:

- A. Requests for an alternative work schedule are made by completing the online request form and submitting to both HR and direct supervisor for approval. If approved by the vice president in the area, the signed form must be filed in the Human Resource Office for the duration of the time during which the alternative schedule will apply. All requests, whether approved or denied, will be compiled in a quarterly report to be shared with the President.
- B. Alternative work schedules must be adjusted within the work week so that the minimum 40 hours of work (or approved number of hours for summer work week) are completed.
- C. The employee must be in good standing with strong performance evaluations and no plan of improvement or disciplinary action in place for the prior year.
- D. While all employees are eligible to apply for alternative work schedules, not all positions may lend themselves to a flexible work week. The nature of the employee's work area must be considered and whether or not work can be done outside of the normal working hours (8-5) and, in particular, the core service hours (9-4) or if services would be affected negatively by the altered hours.
- E. If it is determined that services or productivity is being negatively affected, an approved alternative work schedule may be rescinded.

5.4.2 Absenteeism

An employee who expects to be late or absent from work shall be responsible for notifying his or her supervisor in advance or within one hour of the start of the work day indicating when he or she will report back to work. This allows the supervisor to make other work arrangements as necessary. Any employee who fails to comply with this rule will be subject to disciplinary action.

In chronic or unusual cases of absenteeism, the College reserves the right to require documentation or verification of the reasons for absence. Excessive absenteeism must be noted on the Employee Performance Evaluation Form and may lead to dismissal.

5.4.3 Tardiness

An employee is expected to be at his or her work station at the scheduled work time. Excessive tardiness must be documented in written counseling report and placed in employee's HR personnel file and may lead to disciplinary action, including dismissal.

5.4.4 Abandonment of Position

An employee who has failed to report to work for three consecutive work days without notifying his or her supervisor will be considered to have voluntarily resigned his or her position.

5.4.5 Lunch Period

The lunch period consists of one hour daily unless otherwise scheduled by the supervisor to meet special needs. An employee may not forego the lunch period to shorten the work day or work week. Offices consisting of more than one employee must stay open during the lunch period.

5.4.6 Work Breaks

Employees are granted a work break during each four-hour work period. Work breaks are scheduled by departmental or unit supervisors and are subject to revocation or modification as work load demands vary. Work breaks may not be accumulated to extend lunch periods or to shorten the work day. Working through scheduled rest periods either voluntarily or because of necessity does not entitle an employee to additional compensation or compensatory time off. Work breaks should not exceed fifteen minutes per four-hour period.

5.4.7 Monthly Time and Leave Reporting

Non-exempt full-time employees must accurately maintain their own Monthly Time Sheet. This timesheet is an important, legal, time-recording document. Completed timesheets must be received by the Payroll Officer by the fifth day of the following month so the regular employee payroll processing can begin. The timesheet must be signed by both the employee and the supervisor. Failure to submit timesheets by the specified deadline will result in not receiving compensation at the scheduled pay dates. Compensation will be paid at the next scheduled pay date.

Full-time staff employees are required to continually maintain a minimum balance of 40 hours of annual leave and 40 hours of medical leave to remain on the Main Payroll that is paid the last working day of each month. Any employee using leave without pay and falling below the 40 hours of annual leave and 40 hours of medical leave will be required to complete weekly timesheets and could be moved to the Supplemental Payroll for the remainder of the fiscal year at the discretion of the Office of Human Resources and the Vice President for Financial Affairs. Employees placed on the Supplemental Payroll are required to submit an approved weekly time sheet on the following Tuesday of each week. The direct deposit for employees on the Supplemental Payroll will be paid by the 12th of the following month.

New full-time staff employees will fill out weekly timesheets and are placed on the Main Payroll with leave balances being monitored until the employee accrues a total of 40 hours of annual leave and 40 hours of medical leave.

Employees must complete an Annual Leave Request Form or an Absence Report Form when absent from work. Absences from work are to be anticipated as much as possible and scheduled with the supervisor. In any case, the supervisor should be notified promptly. Requests for annual leave or special leave should be submitted fifteen working days in advance.

5.4.8 On Call

Some jobs require an employee to be placed “on call,” subject to being available should his or her services be required for duty outside of the normal work week for emergency situations.

5.4.9 Remote Access/Cell Phones/Smartphones

The College expects that accessing networks remotely and using cellphones and smartphones be restricted to a non-exempt employee’s normal 40-hour work week or flex schedule. Usage outside of the normal schedule should be limited to emergency situations.

5.4.10 Travel Time

Compensatory travel time for non-exempt employees varies dependent upon the variety of context in which the travel occurs including same day travel, overnight travel, and conferences/meetings. Federal regulations recommend that the employee and supervisor visit the Office of Human Resources prior to the travel date to determine the appropriate compensable time.
