Sophomore transfer day March 6

by Misty McBlair
Editor, Red & Silver Review

Several 4-year university representatives will be on the Enid NOC campus to offer information and answer any questions that students may have when it comes to transferring on from NOC to a 4-year college.

If you applied to colleges the representatives can tell you if applications were received.

This event will be taking place at NOC Enid campus at 10 a.m. - 1 p.m. on Wednesday, March 6, 2024, at Zollars Memorial Library Lobby area.

Some representatives attending are, Northwestern Oklahoma State University, Oklahoma State University, Oklahoma University, University of Central Oklahoma and The University of Oklahoma and more.

For more information contact Kathleen Swain at 580-628-6258 or email at Kathleen.swain@noc.

Thank-a-Thon set for Wednesday

Scholarship students at NOC Enid have an opportunity to thank donors at Enid March 6. Enid scholarship students will meet at the Everest Admin Building from 5 p.m. - 7 p.m.

There will be a location for students to sign in and receive the names and addresses of those to thank.

There will be pictures taken and videos made, so students are asked to wear NOC or appropriate attire.

Cards, pens, names and addresses, and other supplies will be provided. Examples of thank you cards and envelopes will be available and staff will be on hand to assist.

Please invite other scholarship students to attend and show appreciation for scholarship at Northern.

Women's History Month lecture set for March 7 at Gantz Center

Dr. Lyntel A. Murphy, Principal of Eisenhower Elementary at Vance Air Force Base, will speak at NOC Enid for Women's History Month.

The event is Thursday, March 7, 2024, at 11:45 a.m. in the Gantz Center, Room 100.

Dr. Murphy will speak on "Women who advocate for Equity, Diversion, & Inclusion."

Murphy has lived in Enid since 2010 where she started as an elementary teacher and later became a school administrator.

Before becoming an educator, Murphy was in the United States Air Force stationed all over the world working in various aircraft groups.

She moved to Enid when her husband, Craig, was assigned to Vance Air Force Base in 2010.

Thursday's event will be livestreamed at www.noc.edu.

The event is sponsored by the Northern Oklahoma College Diversity Committee, Dr. Mary Ann McCoy, chair.

Planetarium Show set for March 7

The March planetarium show at the NOC Enid Mackie Planetarium will be Thursday evening March 7 at 7 p.m.

Planetarium director Fritz Osell will show the night sky over Enid during spring and point out where interesting objects may be found in the evening sky.

He will also present a new full dome show for children about “The Legend of Hercules.” The planetarium shows are now greatly enhanced by the implementation of a new and more powerful projection system.

The feature this month is about planets.

“We will show visitors our night sky from Enid and point out stars having known planetary systems,” Osell said. “You will be quite surprised at how many stars have planets. We will also demonstrate to visitors how to gain access to remotely operated telescopes in the Canary Islands and in Chile.”

Public shows are always the first Thursday of the month at 7 p.m. throughout the year.

There is no charge for the show. Donations of non-perishable food items for Our Daily Bread are welcome but not required.

Also, the April Planetarium Show (April 4) will discuss the Solar Eclipse set for April 7 at the planetarium.

Planetarium director Fritz Osell said that NOC is planning a program for the Solar Eclipse at 1 p.m.

More details will be forthcoming about the April planetarium show.

Lora speaks to Stillwater Career Tech students

NOC Enid student Adriel Lora gave the keynote address to 7th and 8th graders at Meridian Technology Center in Stillwater Feb. 23.

Lora is a sophomore Business Administration major from Ringwood, Oklahoma.

Lora spoke to students at the Oklahoma Business Professionals of America (BPA) Middle Level Competition Day.

“It was great to share my story with the students about overcoming fears,” Lora said. “I remember what it is like at that age and how BPA changed my life. I hope the students saw that a quiet and shy kid did can develop and come out of their shell and comfort zone. It was great to be able to give back and motivate them for their competitions.”

“I told them that being scared is okay,” he said. “When you are scared about something it means you really care.”

Lora was introduced to the BPA while attending the Northwest Technical Center while at Ringwood.

“I was very quiet and shy,” Lora said. “In fact, the first class I attended there I went to the wrong room and I worried if I was in over my head. Fortunately, the teachers there gave me confidence and it helped me become the person that I have become. They were very encouraging and it made a lot of difference.”

Not only did Lora become a local member of BPA but he later became an officer in the state wide organization. He was elected as one of seven officers while in high school.

Adriel Lora

He will also speak at a State Conference in Stillwater March 5-6.

He would like to start a BPA chapter at NOC Enid and possibly at NWOSU.

He was recommended to speak by Oklahoma BPA State Advisor Paxton Cavin.

Lora plans to transfer to Northwestern Oklahoma State University and study accounting.

Baseball, softball conference games starting

Jets Baseball (13-6) is 3-0 in conference play while Jets Softball (8-10) starts conference play March 14 against Rose State.

Jets baseball has won four straight and five of six with last week's sweep of Carl Albert in the conference opening series. The softball team has lost four straight but two losses were to #20 Crowder (MO).
